2 Republican Solons Rebuke Sen. McCarthy

Knowland, Smith Say His Methods Very Dangerous

WASHINGTON, May 29—UP—Two Republican Senate leaders Saturday rebuked Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy on the "secret information" issue in the Army-McCarthy feud hearings, one saying the Wisconsin senator's statements are "beyond belief."

Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland urged government employes to take evidence of wrongdoing to the Eisenhower administration before running to Congress.

And Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.) said he was shocked by McCarthy's statement "defying the president of the United States."

McCarthy first hurled the challenge to President Eisenhower when he invited all of the 2 million federal employes to give him secret information on wrong-doing, despite security regulations.

The White House hit back Friday. With approval of Mr. Eisenhower, it issued a statement saying the executive branch's responsibility "cannot be usurped by any individual who may seek to set himself above the laws of our land."

The issue, at first only a sidelight to the Army-McCarthy hearings on the "treatment" of Pvt. G. David Schine, is over a secret document McCarthy received from what he said was a young Army intelligence officer.

The document contained verbatim quotes from a secret FBI report. Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. and the White House ruled against its disclosure.

Knowland conceded that Congress sometimes would be handicapped without "leaks." But he expressed belief that any official would be on "highly dangerous and doubtful ground" in giving a secret document to a member of Congress rather than supplying it through official channels to a congressional committee.

Smith, in a statement, went further.

"The senator, as an individual, has no authority, expressed or implied to demand or receive classified information or executive confidences from executive employes," Smith said.

Smith said that McCarthy's "implication that he, as an individual can call for disclosures or classified or confidential information from the executive department, must be based on a misunderstanding by him of his authority."

Smith said tartly that "the junior senator from Wisconsin is one of 96 senators.

"He serves on a committee of the Senate only by authority of the entire Senate. Every member of that committee is entitled to access to all evidence and to all information that the chairman is entitled to receive.

"We cannot tolerate a one-man government either in the executive or legislative bodies."

Smith said he protested "with all the vigor at my command any sen-

Famed Alpiner Has Pheumonia In Himalayas

NEW DELHI, India, May 29—UP—Sir Edmund Hillary, who conquered Mt. Everest exactly one year ago, fought for his life Saturday on the slopes of another Himalayan mountain.

Precisely a year after he climbed the world's highest mountain, Hillary was being carried down from the 22,500-foot heights of the Great Barun glacier with a broken rib and pneumonia.

There was virtually no news of his present plight, but the descent was a race to get out of the mountains before the vicious spring monsoon rains start next week.

No word for help has been received from the Hillary party. However, rescue units were standing by to lend aid if it is needed.

Hillary broke a rib rescuing James McFarlane, another member of his expedition. McFarlane was last reported recovering from the accident, but apparently was suffering from frostbite which might cause the loss of fingers and toes.

Following the mishap, Hillary later fell ill with pneumonia while the expedition was planning to climb 23,800-foot Mt. Baruntse and 24,000-foot Mt. Chambling.

Methodist Conference To Open Here June 1st

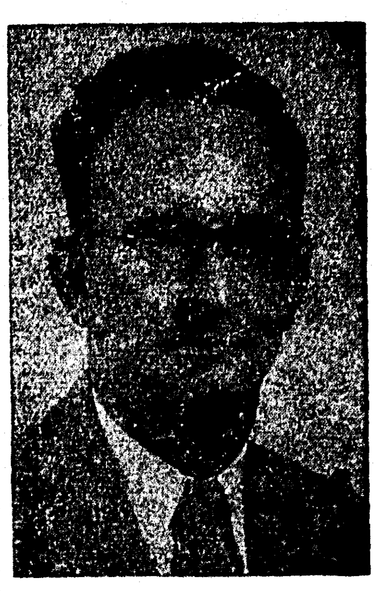
DR. PAUL E. MARTIN

DR. H. L. JOHNS



DR. JAMES T. HARRIS

DR. ALFRED H. FREEMAN

The 1954 session of the Louisiana annual conference of the Methodist Church will convene in Monroe June 1-4, with the First Methodist Church of Monroe host church. Bishop Paul E. Martin will preside, and this will be the 109th session of the Louisiana conference, the 16th since Methodist unification.

While this is the first time the annual conference has met at First Church, Monroe, in 23 years, this will be the sixth session held here. The record of conferences shows that Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh presided in Monroe in January, 1872; Bishop A. S. Haygood, in December 1890; Bishop Charles B. Galloway in December, 1899; Bishop E. D. Mouzon in December, 1912; and Bishop Hoyt M. Dobbs in November, 1931; and Bishop Paul E. Martin will convene the conference for the sixth time this June.

It is noteworthy that the opening session and the three night preaching services will be held in the First Baptist Church, which has a much larger seating capacity than the First Methodist sanctuary. Through the kindness of the pastor, Dr. James T. Horton, and the board of deacons, their facilities have been made available for four sessions to accommodate the larger crowds.

The First Methodist Church and educational building are in readiness, says Dr. H. L. Johns, pastor-host, for the remaining phases of the conference program. The church is completely air-conditioned.

Dr. Alfred H. Freeman, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Wichita Falls, Tex., will be the conference preacher. He will preach each evening at the First Baptist Church, and on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at the 4 o'clock preaching service at the First Methodist Church. Dr. Freeman is well known for his splendid gifts as a Methodist preacher and leader, and the conference is looking forward to hearing and knowing him.

Among the other speakers of the session will be Dr. Caradine R. Hooten, executive secretary of the general board of temperance, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Harold Ewing, director of the youth division of the general board of education, Nashville, Tenn. Rev. G. W. Pomeroy, district superintendent of the Ruston district, will give the commemoration address, on the first afternoon. The stewardship emphasis will be discussed by Rev. Jolly B. Harper, district superintendent of the Alexandria district, and Mr. C. O. Holland, layman of Minden, La.

Three ministers of the conference who have taken part in evangelistic work in Cuba and Alaska will lead the morning devotional services, at 8:30 a.m. each morning at the First Methodist Church. They are Rev. Douglas L. McGuire, Ruston, La., "The Alaska Mission," Wednesday morning; Dr. Dana Dawson, Jr., New Orleans, La., "Christ and Cuba," Thursday morning; and Rev. D. W. Poole, Lafayette, La., "I Am Debtor," Friday morning.

Four of the ministers will preach over radio at 4 p.m. each afternoon, as follows: Monday, Rev. Karl Tooke, district superintendent of the Lake Charles district; Tuesday, Rev. Sam Nader, pastor of First Methodist Church, Houma, La.; Wednesday, Rev. Merlin W. Merrill, pastor, First Methodist Church, Mansfield, La.; and Thursday, Dr. Albert S. Hurley, pastor Napoleon avenue Methodist Church, New Orleans.

Boards, commissions and committees will begin their meetings on Monday, May 31st. The cabinet, headed by Bishop Martin, will meet in the Frances Hotel, headquarters hotel. All other meeting places will be at the First Methodist Church.

One of the features at the Louisiana annual conference is the "coffee room" which will be arranged this year in the Fellowship Hall of the educational building. There will be plenty of coffee and

Flood Of Bills Expected In Legislature Tonight, To Meet Filing Deadline

BATON ROUGE, May 29 (AP)—The Louisiana Legislature opens its fourth week Sunday night with an avalanche of legislation expected on the final day for the introduction of bills.

In the first three weeks of the 1954 session, 1,171 bills were introduced, 928 in the House and 243 in the Senate. From 300 to 500 more can be expected tomorrow night.

In 1952, a total of 1,610 bills was submitted in both houses.

The House Appropriations Committee began its hearings Wednesday on the record breaking 516 million dollar general appropriations bill, which was introduced last Sunday night.

Committee hearings seem certain to provide much of the fireworks this week.

The "right-to-work proposal held the spotlight.

The Senate Industrial Relations Committee began hearings Wednesday on the legislation, which was submitted as both a legislative act and a constitutional amendment. It was tabbed the hottest issue of the session in early speculation.

The hearings continue through Wednesday on these proposals which would make it unlawful to refuse employment on the basis of membership or non-membership in labor unions.

Another torrid hearing is expected Tuesday when the perennial issue of banning livestock from the state's highways will be heard before a joint meeting of House and Senate committees.

The hearing will be on identical bills introduced in the House by Rep. Percy Roberts of East Baton

350,000 Present At Canonization Of Pope Pius X

VATICAN CITY, May 29—UP—Giuseppe Sarto, who once humbly asked to remain a village priest, became Saint Pius X Saturday in a majestic ceremony in St. Peter's Square.

An estimated 350,000 persons, including the greatest throng of foreign pilgrims in history, saw Pope Pius XII elevate Pius X to the highest honor of the Catholic Church. He was the first pontiff to be canonized in 242 years.

The huge bronze master bell of St. Peter's tolled a message of joy for 425 million Catholics, as Pius XII, just recovered from a serious illness, proclaimed firmly in Latin from a throne of gold:

"For the honor of the Holy Trinity, for the exaltation of the Catholic faith and for our Lord Jesus Christ, of the blessed Apostles Peter and Paul and by our own authority, we decree and define Saint and inscribe in the Book of Saints the blessed Pope Pius X an order that this memory be celebrated in all years to come on Aug. 20 with pious devotion in the universal church."

Aug. 20, 1914, was the day that Pius X died at the age of 80 with a broken heart because he was unable to prevent the first World War.

Giuseppe Sarto, a postman's son who as a boy walked nine miles a day to school barefooted, never wanted to become a bishop, a cardinal or a pope.

Tornado Injures Six Oil Workers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A tornado spinning across West Texas flatlands, near Andrews caught an oilfield crew at work at a rig Saturday and injured six men.

Two were seriously hurt and hospitalized at Andrews. Four were treated for bruises at an Andrews hospital and released.

The tornado was first sighted by an airline pilot who circled the ominous funnel cloud until he saw it dissipate.

The rig was 14 miles southwest of Andrews. The tornado knocked the "doghouse", the small workshed near the rig's base, off its footings.

The two seriously hurt were identified as Gordon Ganey and P.J. Rowell, both of Louisiana. Their home towns were not known.

WAVE Murdered; Navy Airman Is Held In Death

POINT LOOKOUT, Md., May 29 (AP) — The battered body of Irene Marion Conole, 26-year-old WAVE, was found along the beach early today. Several hours later a Navy airman, Carl Willis Strickland, 21, was arrested at his home in Rocky Mount, N. C., on suspicion of murder.

The pretty brunette was to have been married in a few weeks.

She and Strickland were stationed at Patuxent Naval Air Base, near here, but Strickland did not tell Rocky Mount police whether he knew her. He did admit being on the beach last night, Police Chief J. I. Nichols said.

Nichols said Strickland waived extradition and would return to Maryland with Sheriff Willard B. Long of St. Mary's County late tonight.

Long said there was no doubt the young woman was murdered. An autopsy was ordered, he said, mainly to find out whether she was killed before being thrown into the water, or whether she drowned after being beaten.

Sparks Quits As Chairman Of Road Panel

Action Is Seen As Protest At Passage Of Road Bond Issue

State Sen. James D. Sparks has resigned as chairman and as a member of the highway committee of the Louisiana Legislative Council, which for many months has been conducting a survey of road conditions in Louisiana.

His formal resignation was mailed Saturday to Sen. Robert Ainsworth, Jr., chairman of the legislative council.

The action apparently came as a protest against last week's passing of a twenty-year $50,000,000 bond issue for the roads directly on the heels of a request from the highway committee to await action on all long range road plans until September of this year, when the road survey was scheduled to be completed.

"There was no designation as to where the money in the bond issue passed this week will be spent," Sparks said here Saturday. "It is just a scatter gun load."

The senator from Monroe said he had conferred with five other members of the highway committee in this area, and all of them were in agreement with his decision to resign.

Sparks, in his letter of resignation, said there did not appear to be any "genuine interest" by the administration in the survey of the highway committee since its recommendation to hold off on long-range decisions was "repudiated by the administration in proposing and obtaining the successful passage" of the bond issue.

He also recommended in his resignation that Ainsworth, as chairman of the legislative council, discontinue the highway surveys since "further expenditures is a needless waste of the taxpayer's money."

In full, the letter read:

"When I agreed to accept the chairmanship of the highway committee of the Louisiana Legislative Council in connection with the road needs survey and financial survey now going on in the state, it was solely because of the belief our road program had been badly neglected and had reached such a state that an engineering and financial survey was urgently needed in order to first determine the extent of the problem and the possible means of financing new construction.

"In this spirit I undertook the work, and as you know, I, along with a majority of the committee, spent many long hours going over reports, attending hearings, et cet-

Jes' Ramblin'

While the 1954 conference of the Methodist church will not be formally opened until Tuesday, a number of the leaders of this denomination are already here and will attend the First Methodist church today. They will hear Bishop Paul E. Martin, resident bishop of the Arkansas-Louisiana area speak at both services.

We welcome this group here for it is the first time it has been held in Monroe in 23 years. We know that the work of these people will pass on great inspiration to all who are privileged to attend and that spiritual life, state wide will be broadened and deepened through the sessions held.

Monroe and West Monroe throw open wide their doors and welcome this wonderful group to its midst.

Saturday was "Poppy Day" and a substantial sum was realized from their sale but far greater than any monetary return was the underlying throught that as a nation we stand as a unit to pay homage on one day in the year, May 30, to those who so gallantly gave

Platform Is Outlined By W. Gilbert Faulk

In a formal statement Saturday on his candidacy for the United States senate seat now held by Sen. Allen Ellender, W. Gilbert Faulk of Monroe outlined his platform, consisting of seven planks, and said that he had entered the race "because of a heartfelt interest in the future of the country."

Faulk, now a representative from Ouachita parish in the state legislature, said "recent foreign developments have given me a great deal of concern as to the position of the United States in the maze of international politics."

His full statement follows:

"I am a candidate for the United States senate because of a heartfelt interest in the future of our country. Recent foreign developments have given me a great deal of concern as to the position of the United States in the maze of international politics. We are becoming more and more entangled with foreign elements. The independence of our nation must be preserved. That has been and should continue to be a fundamental policy in our dealings with all peoples and all nations. It appears that some of our present leaders have become lost, and know not where to turn in the confused situation. I believe that a fresh, sound and firm foreign policy must be es-

French Break Siege Of Yen Phu, Scatter Rebels; 160 Defenders Relieved

HANOI, Indochina, May 29 (AP) — Five thousand French Union troops, including mobile artillery units, today broke the Vietminh siege of Yen Phu in the biggest offensive by the French since the fall of Dien Bien Phu.

The rebels scattered into the hills around Phu Ly, 30 miles south of Hanoi, under heavy air, artillery and ground attack.

Yen Phu, a strategic defense post six miles from the big communications center of Phu Ly, had been under siege for 18 days in what was called a "little Dien Bien Phu." Its defending garrison of only 160 men had been supplied by air.

French pilots dropped arms and supplies to two other small delta posts which have been under rebel siege for about a week. They were Xathi and Tayam about 25 miles southwest of Haiphong, the big port city which receives most of the American supplies for the Indochina fighting.

Tanks, armored cars and infantrymen drove from the Nam Dinh and Phu Ly sectors to relieve Yen Phu. After breaking the siege the infantry fanned out to take a hill position the rebels had used for observation purposes. This was Khenon Mountain, whose top is about 1,000 feet higher than the surrounding limestone hills which serve as rebel hideouts.

The French foot soldiers quickly dispersed eight rebel "contact points" on the mountain.

Mobile American - supplied 155mm long range guns lobbed hundreds of shells into Vietminh hill positions.

Heavy concentrations of rebels were spotted on the Day River just west of Phu Ly and Yen Phu. The rebels were heavily strafed and bombed. In addition, the French sent amphibious units into the river to supplement the air assault.

French military authorities say the Vietminh have around 12 battalions—up to 7,200 men—in the Phu Ly sector, while the French number about a division.

Capture of Phu Ly would slash French communications with the rice-rich southeast sector of the delta and would enable the rebels to step up attacks the vital road-rail link between Hanoi and Haiphong.

A French News Agency dispatch reported rebel action in Cambolia in southern Indochina. A group of 400 Vietminh attacked the important road junction of Skoun, 60 miles northwest of Phnom-Penh, the Cambodian capital. The rebels battled their way into the town, set the city hall afire and then withdrew.

No. 1 Communist In Guatemala Is Eased From Job

GUATEMALA, May 29 (AP)—Jose Manuel Fortuny, No. 1 Communist in Guatemala, has been relieved of his job as party secretary-general. A party announcement today gave ill health as the reason. One published report said he was going to Moscow for a rest.

The announcement immediately gave rise to speculation that a split had developed in the ranks of the party, or that President Jacobo Arbenz had forced the action to avoid criticism from abroad of Communist influence on the Guatemalan government. Fortuny is reportedly one of the President's close advisors.

In other developments, President Arbenz said a personal meeting between President Eisenhower and himself, "if it should take place, would help to ease the present tense situation in Central America."

And an authoritative source said Guatemala has shunted part of a 10 million dollar shipment of Communist arms to a railroad siding near the Honduras frontier.

Nicaragua appealed meanwhile for nations of the Americas to act promptly to end "subversive movements of international communism" in this hemisphere.

Fortuny was a leader of the National Democratic Front which helps formulate government policy. His removal as secretary general takes him out of the Democratic Front as well.

President Leads U. S. Observance Of Memorial Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation honors its heroic dead today with prayers its sons never again would be called to war. But world peace remained uneasy.

Since last Memorial Day, a truce had come in Korea, yet guns still sounded in Indochina. A question of all Americans was whether this fighting would erupt into another Korea, or worse.

President Eisenhower, in a Memorial Day proclamation, said:

We should keep faith with our heroic dead by humbly and devoutly supplicating almighty God for guidance in our efforts to achieve a peaceful world."

The President, who will lay a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier tomorrow at Arlington National Cemetery, called for "amity among nations."

One such gesture of amity will be witnessed at Detroit where the Queen's York Rangers, a Toronto regiment, will return a flag captured from the city in 1812.

Scott Holds Lead Over Sen. Lennon

RALEIGH, N.C., May 29 (AP)—Former Gov. Kerr Scott held a narrow lead over Sen. Alton A. Lennon tonight for nomination to the U. S. Senate on early returns from today's North Carolina Democratic primary.

With 502 of the state's 2,027 precincts reported, Scott, a Haw River dairy farmer, had 58,363 votes to 52,392 for Lennon, a Wilmington lawyer who was appointed to the Senate when Sen. Willis Smith died last year.

Long Deadlock In Indo-China Parley Broken

Military Details To Be Worked Out In Geneva, Asia

GENEVA, May 29 (AP)—The Indochina conference summoned representatives of the opposing armies to Geneva today to arrange military details of a rapid cease-fire in the long and bloody jungle war.

While the action did not guarantee that peace would be achieved, it was the first solid move toward ending the hostilities in five weeks of procedural wrangling.

An official announcement issued after today's session said the French-Vietnamese and Communist commands in Indochina would establish contact both in Geneva and on the battlefield.

They were instructed to take up first the question of establishing zones for regrouping the opposing armies in Viet Nam and report their recommendations to the conference as early as possible.

An official Vietnamese statement said that nation had received in today's meeting "unanimous and formal assurance from the conference that the regroupment of opposing military forces will under all circumstances respect the unity of Viet Nam."

Such assurances were not mentioned, however, in the official communique issued after the meeting.

The American view of today's action was that while it might be a possible step toward a solution, important questions of principle remained to be resolved.

One Western diplomatic source said the agreement, which had been proposed by Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, "may mean much or it may mean

Former Red Says Efforts Made To Keep Him Quiet

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Paul Crouch, a former Communist who has often testified before congressional committees and other agencies, said today a high Justice Department official has ordered him "banished" to Hawaii in the wake of introduction of a Crouch document in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Crouch, who has been serving as a consultant to the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, said he was told yesterday the department "wanted to get you out of Washington before any Senate committee subpoena could be served on you."

However, the "banishment" has been delayed unil June 7 "by subpoena from the Senate subcommittee on Internal Security," Crouch said.

A spokesman for the subcommittee said he knew of no subpoena having been issued for Crouch, but that it was possible one might have been issued or is "in the works" because the ex-Communist frequently appears before the group in the course of his work. There was no immediate comment from the Justice Department.

Crouch, who has been carrying on a running feud with the newspaper columnists Joseph and Stewart Alsop and others, wrote a report dated March 1953 saying there were more than 1,000 Communists in the armed forces. The report was placed in the McCarthy Army hearing record Thursday by Roy M. Cohn chief counsel to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

In the first three weeks of the 1954 session, 1,171 bills were introduced, 928 in the House and 243 in the Senate. From 300 to 500 more can be expected tomorrow night.

In 1952, a total of 1,610 bills was submitted in both houses.

The House Appropriations Committee began its hearings Wednesday on the record breaking 516 million dollar general appropriations bill, which was introduced last Sunday night.

Committee hearings seem certain to provide much of the fireworks this week.

The "right-to-work proposal held the spotlight.

The Senate Industrial Relations Committee began hearings Wednesday on the legislation, which was submitted as both a legislative act and a constitutional amendment. It was tabbed the hottest issue of the session in early speculation.

The hearings continue through Wednesday on these proposals which would make it unlawful to refuse employment on the basis of membership or non-membership in labor unions.

Another torrid hearing is expected Tuesday when the perennial issue of banning livestock from the state's highways will be heard before a joint meeting of House and Senate committees.

The hearing will be on identical bills introduced in the House by Rep. Percy Roberts of East Baton

350,000 Present At Canonization Of Pope Pius X

VATICAN CITY, May 29—UP—Giuseppe Sarto, who once humbly asked to remain a village priest, became Saint Pius X Saturday in a majestic ceremony in St. Peter's Square.

An estimated 350,000 persons, including the greatest throng of foreign pilgrims in history, saw Pope Pius XII elevate Pius X to the highest honor of the Catholic Church. He was the first pontiff to be canonized in 242 years.

The huge bronze master bell of St. Peter's tolled a message of joy for 425 million Catholics, as Pius XII, just recovered from a serious illness, proclaimed firmly in Latin from a throne of gold:

"For the honor of the Holy Trinity, for the exaltation of the Catholic faith and for our Lord Jesus Christ, of the blessed Apostles Peter and Paul and by our own authority, we decree and define Saint and inscribe in the Book of Saints the blessed Pope Pius X an order that this memory be celebrated in all years to come on Aug. 20 with pious devotion in the universal church."

Aug. 20, 1914, was the day that Pius X died at the age of 80 with a broken heart because he was unable to prevent the first World War.

Giuseppe Sarto, a postman's son who as a boy walked nine miles a day to school barefooted, never wanted to become a bishop, a cardinal or a pope.

Tornado Injures Six Oil Workers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A tornado spinning across West Texas flatlands near Andrews caught an oilfield crew at work at a rig Saturday and injured six men.

Two were seriously hurt and hospitalized at Andrews. Four were treated for bruises at an Andrews hospital and released.

The tornado was first sighted by an airline pilot who circled the ominous funnel cloud until he saw it dissipate.

The rig was 14 miles southwest of Andrews. The tornado knocked the "doghouse", the small workshed near the rig's base, off its footings.

The two seriously hurt were identified as Gordon Ganey and P.J. Rowell, both of Louisiana. Their home towns were not known.

WAVE Murdered; Navy Airman Is Held In Death

POINT LOOKOUT, Md., May 29 (AP) — The battered body of Irene Marion Conole, 26-year-old WAVE, was found along the beach early today. Several hours later a Navy airman, Carl Willis Strickland, 21, was arrested at his home in Rocky Mount, N. C., on suspicion of murder.

The pretty brunette was to have been married in a few weeks.

She and Strickland were stationed at Patuxent Naval Air Base, near here, but Strickland did not tell Rocky Mount police whether he knew her. He did admit being on the beach last night, Police Chief J. I. Nichols said.

Nichols said Strickland waived extradition and would return to Maryland with Sheriff Willard B. Long of St. Mary's County late tonight.

Long said there was no doubt the young woman was murdered. An autopsy was ordered, he said, mainly to find out whether she was killed before being thrown into the water, or whether she drowned after being beaten.

Platform Is Outlined By W. Gilbert Faulk

In a formal statement Saturday on his candidacy for the United States senate seat now held by Sen. Allen Ellender, W. Gilbert Faulk of Monroe outlined his platform, consisting of seven planks, and said that he had entered the race "because of a heartfelt interest in the future of the country."

Faulk, now a representative from Ouachita parish in the state legislature, said "recent foreign developments have given me a great deal of concern as to the position of the United States in the maze of international politics."

His full statement follows:

"I am a candidate for the United States senate because of a heartfelt interest in the future of our country. Recent foreign developments have given me a great deal of concern as to the position of the United States in the maze of international politics. We are becoming more and more entangled with foreign elements. The independence of our nation must be preserved. That has been and should continue to be a fundamental policy in our dealings with all peoples and all nations. It appears that some of our present leaders have become lost, and know not where to turn in the confused situation. I believe that a fresh, sound and firm foreign policy must be es-

Sparks Quits As Chairman Of Road Panel

Action Is Seen As Protest At Passage Of Road Bond Issue

State Sen. James D. Sparks has resigned as chairman and as a member of the highway committee of the Louisiana Legislative Council, which for many months has been conducting a survey of road conditions in Louisiana.

His formal resignation was mailed Saturday to Sen. Robert Ainsworth, Jr., chairman of the legislative council.

The action apparently came as a protest against last week's passing of a twenty-year $50,000,000 bond issue for the roads directly on the heels of a request from the highway committee to await action on all long range road plans until September of this year, when the road survey was scheduled to be completed.

"There was no designation as to where the money in the bond issue passed this week will be spent," Sparks said here Saturday. "It is just a scatter gun load."

The senator from Monroe said he had conferred with five other members of the highway committee in this area, and all of them were in agreement with his decision to resign.

Sparks, in his letter of resignation, said there did not appear to be any "genuine interest" by the administration in the survey of the highway committee since its recommendation to hold off on long-range decisions was "repudiated by the administration in proposing and obtaining the successful passage" of the bond issue.

He also recommended in his resignation that Ainsworth, as chairman of the legislative council, discontinue the highway surveys since "further expenditures is a needless waste of the taxpayer's money."

In full, the letter read:

"When I agreed to accept the chairmanship of the highway committee of the Louisiana Legislative Council in connection with the road needs survey and financial survey now going on in the state, it was solely because of the belief our road program had been badly neglected and had reached such a state that an engineering and financial survey was urgently needed in order to first determine the extent of the problem and the possible means of financing new construction.

"In this spirit I undertook the work, and as you know, I, along with a majority of the committee, spent many long hours going over reports, attending hearings, et cet-

Jes' Ramblin'

While the 1954 conference of the Methodist church will not be formally opened until Tuesday, a number of the leaders of this denomination are already here and will attend the First Methodist church today. They will hear Bishop Paul E. Martin, resident bishop of the Arkansas-Louisiana area speak at both services.

We welcome this group here for it is the first time it has been held in Monroe in 23 years. We know that the work of these people will pass on great inspiration to all who are privileged to attend and that spiritual life, state wide will be broadened and deepened through the sessions held.

Monroe and West Monroe throw open wide their doors and welcome this wonderful group to its midst.

Saturday was "Poppy Day" and a substantial sum was realized from their sale but far greater than any monetary return was the underlying throught that as a nation we stand as a unit to pay homage on one day in the year, May 30, to those who so gallantly gave

French Break Siege Of Yen Phu, Scatter Rebels; 160 Defenders Relieved

HANOI, Indochina, May 29 (AP) — Five thousand French Union troops, including mobile artillery units, today broke the Vietminh siege of Yen Phu in the biggest offensive by the French since the fall of Dien Bien Phu.

The rebels scattered into the hills around Phu Ly, 30 miles south of Hanoi, under heavy air, artillery and ground attack.

Yen Phu, a strategic defense post six miles from the big communications center of Phu Ly, had been under siege for 18 days in what was called a "little Dien Bien Phu." Its defending garrison of only 160 men had been supplied by air.

French pilots dropped arms and supplies to two other small delta posts which have been under rebel siege for about a week. They were Xathi and Tayam about 25 miles southwest of Haiphong, the big port city which receives most of the American supplies for the Indochina fighting.

Tanks, armored cars and infantrymen drove from the Nam Dinh and Phu Ly sectors to relieve Yen Phu. After breaking the siege the infantry fanned out to take a hill position the rebels had used for observation purposes. This was Khenon Mountain, whose top is about 1,000 feet higher than the surrounding limestone hills which serve as rebel hideouts.

The French foot soldiers quickly dispersed eight rebel "contact points" on the mountain.

Mobile American - supplied 155mm long range guns lobbed hundreds of shells into Vietminh hill positions.

Heavy concentrations of rebels were spotted on the Day River just west of Phu Ly and Yen Phu. The rebels were heavily strafed and bombed. In addition, the French sent amphibious units into the river to supplement the air assault.

French military authorities say the Vietminh have around 12 battalions—up to 7,200 men—in the Phu Ly sector, while the French number about a division.

Capture of Phu Ly would slash French communications with the rice-rich southeast sector of the delta and would enable the rebels to step up attacks the vital road-rail link between Hanoi and Haiphong.

A French News Agency dispatch reported rebel action in Cambolia in southern Indochina. A group of 400 Vietminh attacked the important road junction of Skoun, 60 miles northwest of Phnom-Penh, the Cambodian capital. The rebels battled their way into the town, set the city hall afire and then withdrew.

No. 1 Communist In Guatemala Is Eased From Job

GUATEMALA, May 29 (AP)—Jose Manuel Fortuny, No. 1 Communist in Guatemala, has been relieved of his job as party secretary-general. A party announcement today gave ill health as the reason. One published report said he was going to Moscow for a rest.

The announcement immediately gave rise to speculation that a split had developed in the ranks of the party, or that President Jacobo Arbenz had forced the action to avoid criticism from abroad of Communist influence on the Guatemalan government. Fortuny is reportedly one of the President's close advisors.

In other developments, President Arbenz said a personal meeting between President Eisenhower and himself, "if it should take place, would help to ease the present tense situation in Central America."

And an authoritative source said Guatemala has shunted part of a 10 million dollar shipment of Communist arms to a railroad siding near the Honduras frontier.

Nicaragua appealed meanwhile for nations of the Americas to act promptly to end "subversive movements of international communism" in this hemisphere.

Fortuny was a leader of the National Democratic Front which helps formulate government policy. His removal as secretary general takes him out of the Democratic Front as well.

President Leads U. S. Observance Of Memorial Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation honors its heroic dead today with prayers its sons never again would be called to war. But world peace remained uneasy.

Since last Memorial Day, a truce had come in Korea, yet guns still sounded in Indochina. A question of all Americans was whether this fighting would erupt into another Korea, or worse.

President Eisenhower, in a Memorial Day proclamation, said:

We should keep faith with our heroic dead by humbly and devoutly supplicating almighty God for guidance in our efforts to achieve a peaceful world."

The President, who will lay a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier tomorrow at Arlington National Cemetery, called for "amity among nations."

One such gesture of amity will be witnessed at Detroit where the Queen's York Rangers, a Toronto regiment, will return a flag captured from the city in 1812.

Scott Holds Lead Over Sen. Lennon

RALEIGH, N.C., May 29 (AP)—Former Gov. Kerr Scott held a narrow lead over Sen. Alton A. Lennon tonight for nomination to the U. S. Senate on early returns from today's North Carolina Democratic primary.

With 502 of the state's 2,027 precincts reported, Scott, a Haw River dairy farmer, had 58,363 votes to 52,392 for Lennon, a Wilmington lawyer who was appointed to the Senate when Sen. Willis Smith died last year.

Long Deadlock In Indo-China Parley Broken

Military Details To Be Worked Out In Geneva, Asia

GENEVA, May 29 (AP)—The Indochina conference summoned representatives of the opposing armies to Geneva today to arrange military details of a rapid cease-fire in the long and bloody jungle war.

While the action did not guarantee that peace would be achieved, it was the first solid move toward ending the hostilities in five weeks of procedural wrangling.

An official announcement issued after today's session said the French-Vietnamese and Communist commands in Indochina would establish contact both in Geneva and on the battlefield.

They were instructed to take up first the question of establishing zones for regrouping the opposing armies in Viet Nam and report their recommendations to the conference as early as possible.

An official Vietnamese statement said that nation had received in today's meeting "unanimous and formal assurance from the conference that the regroupment of opposing military forces will under all circumstances respect the unity of Viet Nam."

Such assurances were not mentioned, however, in the official communique issued after the meeting.

The American view of today's action was that while it might be a possible step toward a solution, important questions of principle remained to be resolved.

One Western diplomatic source said the agreement, which had been proposed by Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, "may mean much or it may mean

Former Red Says Efforts Made To Keep Him Quiet

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Paul Crouch, a former Communist who has often testified before congressional committees and other agencies, said today a high Justice Department official has ordered him "banished" to Hawaii in the wake of introduction of a Crouch document in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Crouch, who has been serving as a consultant to the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, said he was told yesterday the department "wanted to get you out of Washington before any Senate committee subpoena could be served on you."

However, the "banishment" has been delayed unil June 7 "by subpona from the Senate subcommittee on Internal Security," Crouch said.

A spokesman for the subcommittee said he knew of no subpoena having been issued for Crouch, but that it was possible one might have been issued or is "in the works" because the ex-Communist frequently appears before the group in the course of his work. There was no immediate comment from the Justice Department.

Crouch, who has been carrying on a running feud with the newspaper columnists Joseph and Stewart Alsop and others, wrote a report dated March 1953 saying there were more than 1,000 Communists in the armed forces. The report was placed in the McCarthy Army hearing record Thursday by Roy M. Cohn chief counsel to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

7 More Leaders Of Communist Party Arrested

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Seven more U. S. Communist leaders were bagged today in the government's sweeping drive against alleged Red plotters—three of them after they were trailed through furtive maneuvers to a secret underground parley in a Manhattan art studio.

FBI agents permitted the trio to begin their hush-hush confab before bursting in to arrest them in the rented third floor studio at 38 Old Broadway, in the uptown section of Manhattan.

The FBI said the three, like the others arrested today, were party leaders in Connecticut and had been holding secret meetings here in an effort to avoid detection.

Agents reported trailing them as each proceeded to the meeting place separately, using many tactics to try to throw off any followers.

They took long and roundabout routes, shifted between subways and cars, and at times walked aimlessly around for periods in attempts to determine whether they were being watched, the FBI said.

The three taken into custody here were identified as:

Simon Silverman, 38, longtime party worker who has held many party posts including the Connecticut chairmanship.

Robert C. Ekins, 48, a sculptor and World War II Army veteran, onetime Connecticut party secretary.

Jacob Goldring, 39, a college graduate who has worked as a carpenter and general helper, and the party's state finance and press director for Connecticut in 1949 and 1950.

Others arrested in Connecticut were:

Joseph Dimam, 34, a machinist, who has held the positions of secretary and press director in Connecticut.

Alfred Leo Marder, 32, chairman of party sections in New Haven, Hartford-New Britain and Fairfield County.

Sidney Sussman Resnick, 32, self-described chairman of the Labor Youth League of Connecticut, an organization termed subversive by the U.S. attorney general.

James Sherman Tate, 43, state party committeeman who formerly was a party organizer on Chicago's South Side, and who in 1929 received a year's sentence in Chicago for larceny.

All were arrested on charges of violating the Smith Act, by conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

This is the same charge on which the party's top national leaders have been convicted and sent to prison.

The FBI said today's arrests bring to 109 the total of party leaders and functionaries arrested since the sweeping crackdown on the party was launched six years ago.

Solon Says Pay Hike Likely For Postal Workers

Addressing the twelfth annual state convention of the Federation of Postal Clerks, here Saturday night, Representative James H. Morrison, from Louisiana's Sixth Congressional District and second ranking member of the House Civil Service, and Post Office Committee, told delegates the postal pay raise bill, which was approved by the House Committee Thursday, has a "good chance of becoming a law."

Pinch hitting for Rep. Otto Passman, who was unable to attend the banquet, Morrison told the group of the fight for the pay raise and against a bill proposed by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield. The legislation fostered by Summerfield, the Congressman said, could have resulted in a form of dictatorship within the Post Office Department and would have caused chaotic conditions "setting back postal workers 20 years."

Morrison also commended representatives of the postal federation for the "wonderful presentation of their case" before the House Committee. Likewise he denounced the opposition for using "dishonest surveys and use of every trickery possible under parliamentary proceedure" to induce the committee to accept their proposal.

During yesterday's business session the delegates elected Robert P. Whitman, West Monroe, president for the coming year. Charles E. Boughman, Shreveport, was elected secretary-treasurer, and Shelby Owens, Baton Rouge, delegate to the national convention to be held in Cincinnati.

The Mediation Board estimated about 12,000 laborers are still on strike, but indicated some progress had been made toward settlement of the walkout which started April 30.

nothing." This source said there was still a need for considerable compromise.

Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith, setting forth the American view on Eden's proposal at today's meeting, said the United States "wants the killing to stop throughout Indochina as soon as possible," a reliable source declared.

But Smith stated firmly the U.S. position that the problems of Laos and Cambodia are "of a distinctly different nature from the problems of Viet Nam." Smith was quoted further:

"It is my view that the forces which are now carrying on hostilities against the governments of Laos and Cambodia are foreign forces. The United States believes it is essential that any settlement for Laos and Cambodia must provide for the complete withdrawal of these forces from both countries."

Smith told the conference the United States "will not oppose the convening of the military representatives as proposed by the United Kingdom and would hope that they will produce acceptable solutions.

"The United States delegation, of course, as do others, reserves its right to decide for itself whether any of the solutions ultimately proposed by the military experts are consistent with our firm position on Laos and Cambodia as well as Viet Nam."

"The purpose of these hearings was to obtain a cross section of public opinion as to what we should do about our road problem. They were without eception well attended, and I have reason to believe the work of the committee was favorably received by the public in general.

"As chairman of the committee I received a number of commendations from many citizens in all walks of life. Also, the Louisiana Motor Transport Association and the Louisiana Automobile Dealer's Association passed resolutions at their annual state convention praising the committee's work.

"At the conclusion of the hearings and because of the widespread interest therein, the committee decided to hand down findings of fact. These findings were carefully prepared by a sub-committee, and copies of the report were mailed to all members of the committee prior to public release.

"I received no objection from any member at any time, either orally or in writing, to the report. The last finding is as follows:

"Paragraph 16. That all final long range decisions on Louisiana road problems at the parish, municipal and state level should await completion of the highway needs survey to be completed in September of this year, and the financial survey to be completed shortly thereafter.'

If there is any one Sister who has a tremendous amount of the love and respect at St. Matthew's High school, a lion's share is ever given unselfishly to Sister Magdalen. This is because she is so devoted to the interest of others starting with her beloved pupils and she has taught for 30 years at St. Matthew's High school and its forerunner, St. Hyacinth's academy.

It has been her lot to have a large share in shaping young lives and the fact that she has been permitted to play a role along these lines fills her heart and soul with pleasure—but ever with a full degree of humility.

At this time this Daughter of the Cross is to observe 50 years of her life devoted to the cause of the Catholic church, starting in her native France and for thirty or more years in the United States.

"Conditions at home are not normal. We are all harassed by government troubles of every nature, of which excessive taxation is but one example. The government established by our forefathers is being rocked on its foundations. Our basic constitutional concepts, states rights, and many other traditional American institutions are rapidly being cast in limbo of things long forgotten; they seem to become dreams of long ago. The individual, each with his own identity and dignity, is being rapidly transformed by the ever-growing central government into a mere robot whose life is spent frantically keeping the furious pace necessary to feed the hungry maw of that too strong and threrefore, essentially weak, central government. We also need a fresh approach to our problems at home. We need to get back to base.

"1. If elected your United States senator, I will exert every effort toward simplifying our international entanglements and domestic problems. My platform can be simply stated as follows:

"1. The application of faith in our God to our governmental business.

"2. A re-evaluation of our confused foreign policies, and the establishment of sound and firm basic tenets upon which to act.

"3. A substantial decrease in the foreign "give away" program. Confidence and friendship are founded on mutual respect, not on handouts.

"4. Relief from excessive foreign entanglements.

"5. A return to the original basic concepts of the Federation of States; recognition of the inherent rights of states; adherence to the policy that the least governed are the best governed.

"6. An ever alert against communists and communism in our country and government. The defeat of communism by exemplifying righteous government. A strong, stable, peaceful and purposeful United States is the best answer to communism.

"7. Relief from excessive taxation, and a cautious preservation of our manpower and resources, yet keeping America at all times strong and powerful.

"While I am a staunch member of the Democratic party, and believe in the two-party system of government, I also believe in voting according to the dictates of my intelligence and conscience. I will support the president of the United States when I believe him to be right, and will oppose him when I think that his program is wrong.

"With experience in business, in our armed forces in World War II, and in the Louisiana legislature, I feel qualified to represent my people in the United States senate. I humbly and sincerely ask that each citizen give my candidacy his consideration. In return, I pledge all of my time, thought, and effort to the great country that we all love.

Rouge Parish and in the Senate by Sen. M. Eloi Girard of Lafayette. The House Agriculture and Senate Transportation and Public Works committees will conduct the hearings in the House chamber.

Roberts has introduced a similar bill carrying a $50,000 enforcement appropriation which is in the House Appropriations Committee.

Rep. Cecil Blair of Rapides Parish also has a bill providing for keeping catte off the highways. But his measure, aso in the Appropriations Committee, calls for the state to spend $750,000 to build fences. The two administration bond issues cleared major hurdles last week.

The 50 million dollar highway bond issue cleared its final obstacle Thursday by a 26-12 Senate vote and now needs only the governor's signature to become law.

The 42 million dollar institutions bond issue was passed by the House the same day 61-31. It now moves to the Senate.

The Senate also okayed a House approved bill earmarking 15 million dollars in highway funds for rural roads.

In both houses attempts to convert the bond issues into constitutional amendments were defeated by administrative forces. Both are legislative acts, requiring only a majority vote in both houses.

As constitutional amendments they would need two-thirds approval in both houses plus approval by voters in the fall.

The highway bond issues will be financed by one cent of the gasoline tax; the institutions bonds backed by 1.47 mills of the property tax.

After a floor battle which saw the Senate pull the measure out of the Finance Committee and recommit it to the Education Committee, the 16 million dollar teacher pay raise was approved for Senate floor action.

The two bills would set up a new teacher pay schedule and finance it with one-fourth of the state's two cent sales tax.

Both measurres were approved by the House the previous week.

On Wednesday, a group of 50 lawmakers toured the Angola state penitentiary on invitation of prison authorities. A building appropriation for Angola was included in the 42 million dollar institutions bond issue.

A group of 17 representatives, mostly from New Orleans which already has such a tax, introduced a bill in the House to permit parishes and municipalities to levy a one cent sales tax without submitting it to the people.

The bill is backed by the Louisiana Municipal Association and the Louisiana Police Jury Association.

Rep. W. J Cleveland of Acadia Parish introduced a legislative act and a constitutional amendment to set up a 12 parish southwest Louisiana water conservation district with power to levy taxes and issue bonds to bring better water control of the region in the heart of the rich Louisiana rice belt, now threatened by salt water.

Knowland said any government employe's response to McCarthy's appeal would "imply that this administration is not interested in cleaning up."

He expressed belief the Eisenhower administration is "vitally interested in dealing with corruption, espionage and communism."

Hence, he said, any government official with evidence of such wrong-doing should turn it over to his department chief, the Justice Department, or the FBI.

But if no action resulted, Knowland said, and the employe "has information — as distinguished from lifting documents — he would go to a member of Congress in whom he had confidence."

If a government official brought evidence to him, Knowland said, he would call it to the attention of the Justice Department unless he believed the department was "implicated in covering up."

Then if no action resulted, he said, he would feel satisfied in reporting the case on the Senate floor or calling for a committee investigation.

Democrats on the Senate subcommittee investigating the Army-McCarthy charges and countercharges say McCarthy's stand would destroy the nation's security.

However, temporary Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) backed up McCarthy. He said he did not mind if President Eisenhower called it reprehensible.

"If I were President Eisenhower," Mundt said, "I would do everything I could to stop it. I'm down here (in Congress) and I do all I can to get it."

Mr. Eisenhower told a news conference on May 12 that it was reprehensible for any officer or civilian to give away information involving national security.

One of the controversies in the Army - McCarthy case involves a document produced by McCarthy containing verbatim quotations from a 1951 confidential FBI report to Army Intelligence about security risks at Fort Monmouth, N. J. McCarthy refused to tell who gave it to him.

7 More Leaders Of Communist Party Arrested

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Seven more U. S. Communist leaders were bagged today in the government's sweeping drive against alleged Red plotters—three of them after they were trailed through furtive maneuvers to a secret underground parley in a Manhattan art studio.

FBI agents permitted the trio to begin their hush-hush confab before bursting in to arrest them in the rented third floor studio at 38 Old Broadway, in the uptown section of Manhattan.

The FBI said the three, like the others arrested today, were party leaders in Connecticut and had been holding secret meetings here in an effort to avoid detection.

Agents reported trailing them as each proceeded to the meeting place separately, using many tactics to try to throw off any followers.

They took long and roundabout routes, shifted between subways and cars, and at times walked aimlessly around for periods in attempts to determine whether they were being watched, the FBI said.

The three taken into custody here were identified as:

Simon Silverman, 38, longtime party worker who has held many party posts including the Connecticut chairmanship.

Robert C. Ekins, 48, a sculptor and World War II Army veteran, onetime Connecticut party secretary.

Jacob Goldring, 39, a college graduate who has worked as a carpenter and general helper, and the party's state finance and press director for Connecticut in 1949 and 1950.

Others arrested in Connecticut were:

Joseph Dimam, 34, a machinist, who has held the positions of secretary and press director in Connecticut.

Alfred Leo Marder, 32, chairman of party sections in New Haven, Hartford-New Britain and Fairfield County.

Sidney Sussman Resnick, 32, self-described chairman of the Labor Youth League of Connecticut, an organization termed subversive by the U.S. attorney general.

James Sherman Tate, 43, state party committeeman who formerly was a party organizer on Chicago's South Side, and who in 1929 received a year's sentence in Chicago for larceny.

All were arrested on charges of violating the Smith Act, by conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

This is the same charge on which the party's top national leaders have been convicted and sent to prison.

The FBI said today's arrests bring to 109 the total of party leaders and functionaries arrested since the sweeping crackdown on the party was launched six years ago.

Solon Says Pay Hike Likely For Postal Workers

Addressing the twelfth annual state convention of the Federation of Postal Clerks, here Saturday night, Representative James H. Morrison, from Louisiana's Sixth Congressional District and second ranking member of the House Civil Service, and Post Office Committee, told delegates the postal pay raise bill, which was approved by the House Committee Thursday, has a "good chance of becoming a law."

Pinch hitting for Rep. Otto Passman, who was unable to attend the banquet, Morrison told the group of the fight for the pay raise and against a bill proposed by Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield. The legislation fostered by Summerfield, the Congressman said, could have resulted in a form of dictatorship within the Post Office Department and would have caused chaotic conditions "setting back postal workers 20 years."

Morrison also commended representatives of the postal federation for the "wonderful presentation of their case" before the House Committee. Likewise he denounced the opposition for using "dishonest surveys and use of every trickery possible under parliamentary proceedure" to induce the committee to accept their proposal.

During yesterday's business session the delegates elected Robert P. Whitman, West Monroe, president for the coming year. Charles E. Boughman, Shreveport, was elected secretary-treasurer, and Shelby Owens, Baton Rouge, delegate to the national convention to be held in Cincinnati.

Tobacco Workers' Strike Settled

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, May 29 (AP)—The government Mediation Board announced today settlement of a strike by tobacco workers in San Pedro Sula but strikes against the United Fruit Company and by retailors are still under way.

The strike against the Standard Fruit Company was settled last week.

The Mediation Board estimated about 12,000 laborers are still on strike, but indicated some progress had been made toward settlement of the walkout which started April 30.

nothing." This source said there was still a need for considerable compromise.

Undersecretary Walter Bedell Smith, setting forth the American view on Eden's proposal at today's meeting, said the United States "wants the killing to stop throughout Indochina as soon as possible," a reliable source declared.

But Smith stated firmly the U.S. position that the problems of Laos and Cambodia are "of a distinctly different nature from the problems of Viet Nam." Smith was quoted further:

"It is my view that the forces which are now carrying on hostilities against the governments of Laos and Cambodia are foreign forces. The United States believes it is essential that any settlement for Laos and Cambodia must provide for the complete withdrawal of these forces from both countries."

Smith told the conference the United States "will not oppose the convening of the military representatives as proposed by the United Kingdom and would hope that they will produce acceptable solutions.

"The United States delegation, of course, as do others, reserves its right to decide for itself whether any of the solutions ultimately proposed by the military experts are consistent with our firm position on Laos and Cambodia as well as Viet Nam."

"The purpose of these hearings was to obtain a cross section of public opinion as to what we should do about our road problem. They were without eception well attended, and I have reason to believe the work of the committee was favorably received by the public in general.

"As chairman of the committee I received a number of commendations from many citizens in all walks of life. Also, the Louisiana Motor Transport Association and the Louisiana Automobile Dealer's Association passed resolutions at their annual state convention praising the committee's work.

"At the conclusion of the hearings and because of the widespread interest therein, the committee decided to hand down findings of fact. These findings were carefully prepared by a sub-committee, and copies of the report were mailed to all members of the committee prior to public release.

"I received no objection from any member at any time, either orally or in writing, to the report. The last finding is as follows:

"Paragraph 16. That all final long range decisions on Louisiana road problems at the parish, municipal and state level should await completion of the highway needs survey to be completed in September of this year, and the financial survey to be completed shortly thereafter.'

If there is any one Sister who has a tremendous amount of the love and respect at St. Matthew's High school, a lion's share is ever given unselfishly to Sister Magdalen. This is because she is so devoted to the interest of others starting with her beloved pupils and she has taught for 30 years at St. Matthew's High school and its forerunner, St. Hyacinth's academy.

It has been her lot to have a large share in shaping young lives and the fact that she has been permitted to play a role along these lines fills her heart and soul with pleasure—but ever with a full degree of humility.

At this time this Daughter of the Cross is to observe 50 years of her life devoted to the cause of the Catholic church, starting in her native France and for thirty or more years in the United States.

Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. she will be honoree at the school gymnasium when all her friends in Monroe and vicinity will be present when possible to pay honor to this fine, brilliant and deeply consecrated woman. May she live many more years and continue her great work.

tablished if we are to maintain our integrity, our form of government and our way of life.

"Conditions at home are not normal. We are all harassed by government troubles of every nature, of which excessive taxation is but one example. The government established by our forefathers is being rocked on its foundations. Our basic constitutional concepts, states rights, and many other traditional American institutions are rapidly being cast in limbo of things long forgotten; they seem to become dreams of long ago. The individual, each with his own identity and dignity, is being rapidly transformed by the ever-growing central government into a mere robot whose life is spent frantically keeping the furious pace necessary to feed the hungry maw of that too strong and threrefore, essentially weak, central government. We also need a fresh approach to our problems at home. We need to get back to base.

"1. If elected your United States senator, I will exert every effort toward simplifying our international entanglements and domestic problems. My platform can be simply stated as follows:

"1. The application of faith in our God to our governmental business.

"2. A re-evaluation of our confused foreign policies, and the establishment of sound and firm basic tenets upon which to act.

"3. A substantial decrease in the foreign "give away" program. Confidence and friendship are founded on mutual respect, not on handouts.

"4. Relief from excessive foreign entanglements.

"5. A return to the original basic concepts of the Federation of States; recognition of the inherent rights of states; adherence to the policy that the least governed are the best governed.

"6. An ever alert against communists and communism in our country and government. The defeat of communism by exemplifying righteous government. A strong, stable, peaceful and purposeful United States is the best answer to communism.

"7. Relief from excessive taxation, and a cautious preservation of our manpower and resources, yet keeping America at all times strong and powerful.

"While I am a staunch member of the Democratic party, and believe in the two-party system of government, I also believe in voting according to the dictates of my intelligence and conscience. I will support the president of the United States when I believe him to be right, and will oppose him when I think that his program is wrong.

"With experience in business, in our armed forces in World War II, and in the Louisiana legislature, I feel qualified to represent my people in the United States senate. I humbly and sincerely ask that each citizen give my candidacy his consideration. In return, I pledge all of my time, thought, and effort to the great country that we all love.

Rouge Parish and in the Senate by Sen. M. Eloi Girard of Lafayette. The House Agriculture and Senate Transportation and Public Works committees will conduct the hearings in the House chamber.

Roberts has introduced a similar bill carrying a $50,000 enforcement appropriation which is in the House Appropriations Committee.

Rep. Cecil Blair of Rapides Parish also has a bill providing for keeping catte off the highways. But his measure, aso in the Appropriations Committee, calls for the state to spend $750,000 to build fences. The two administration bond issues cleared major hurdles last week.

The 50 million dollar highway bond issue cleared its final obstacle Thursday by a 26-12 Senate vote and now needs only the governor's signature to become law.

The 42 million dollar institutions bond issue was passed by the House the same day 61-31. It now moves to the Senate.

The Senate also okayed a House approved bill earmarking 15 million dollars in highway funds for rural roads.

In both houses attempts to convert the bond issues into constitutional amendments were defeated by administrative forces. Both are legislative acts, requiring only a majority vote in both houses.

As constitutional amendments they would need two-thirds approval in both houses plus approval by voters in the fall.

The highway bond issues will be financed by one cent of the gasoline tax; the institutions bonds backed by 1.47 mills of the property tax.

After a floor battle which saw the Senate pull the measure out of the Finance Committee and recommit it to the Education Committee, the 16 million dollar teacher pay raise was approved for Senate floor action.

The two bills would set up a new teacher pay schedule and finance it with one-fourth of the state's two cent sales tax.

Both measurres were approved by the House the previous week.

On Wednesday, a group of 50 lawmakers toured the Angola state penitentiary on invitation of prison authorities. A building appropriation for Angola was included in the 42 million dollar institutions bond issue.

A group of 17 representatives, mostly from New Orleans which already has such a tax, introduced a bill in the House to permit parishes and municipalities to levy a one cent sales tax without submitting it to the people.

The bill is backed by the Louisiana Municipal Association and the Louisiana Police Jury Association.

Rep. W. J Cleveland of Acadia Parish introduced a legislative act and a constitutional amendment to set up a 12 parish southwest Louisiana water conservation district with power to levy taxes and issue bonds to bring better water control of the region in the heart of the rich Louisiana rice belt, now threatened by salt water.

Knowland said any government employe's response to McCarthy's appeal would "imply that this administration is not interested in cleaning up."

He expressed belief the Eisenhower administration is "vitally interested in dealing with corruption, espionage and communism."

Hence, he said, any government official with evidence of such wrong-doing should turn it over to his department chief, the Justice Department, or the FBI.

But if no action resulted, Knowland said, and the employe "has information — as distinguished from lifting documents — he would go to a member of Congress in whom he had confidence."

If a government official brought evidence to him, Knowland said, he would call it to the attention of the Justice Department unless he believed the department was "implicated in covering up."

Then if no action resulted, he said, he would feel satisfied in reporting the case on the Senate floor or calling for a committee investigation.

Democrats on the Senate subcommittee investigating the Army-McCarthy charges and countercharges say McCarthy's stand would destroy the nation's security.

However, temporary Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) backed up McCarthy. He said he did not mind if President Eisenhower called it reprehensible.

"If I were President Eisenhower," Mundt said, "I would do everything I could to stop it. I'm down here (in Congress) and I do all I can to get it."

Mr. Eisenhower told a news conference on May 12 that it was reprehensible for any officer or civilian to give away information involving national security.

One of the controversies in the Army - McCarthy case involves a document produced by McCarthy containing verbatim quotations from a 1951 confidential FBI report to Army Intelligence about security risks at Fort Monmouth, N. J. McCarthy refused to tell who gave it to him.

Adm. Carney Says US May Be Faced With 'Holocaust'

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Admiral Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, has chosen the period of decision on what the United States must do about Indochina to issue a new reminder that there may be a "holocaust" at any time.

He doesn't predict that it will come "tomorrow," but says "tomorrow" may come "sooner than may be realized or sooner than we may be ready to face up to it."

He spoke to a meeting of the National Security Industrial Assn., organized to advise the Defense Department on its industrial problems.

He apparently was addressing himself primarily to the necessity of stopping Communist expansion in Indochina. There is known to be a strong feeling in the Pentagon that further extension of Communist power in Southeast Asia would be a direct threat to the security of the United States, and that the nation must take whatever steps are needed—up to and including direct intervention in the war—to prevent it.

This is in line with a long-standing American military position, taken when Japan was believed about to break out from Indochina in an attack on the rest of Southeast Asia in 1941. That decision was that the United States would have to fight.

The admiral's reference to a "holocaust," however, is made against what seems to be a growing sense of unease about the whole world situation.

The free world was a little inclined to rest on its oars for a time after the death of Joseph Stalin. Statements by the new rulers of Russia indicated they were going to pay more attention to production of consumer goods at the expense of heavy industry and development of the means of heavy production.

That no longer appears to be the case. Some attention has been paid to consumer production. But excerpts from the Soviet press indicate clearly that this has not been and will not be permitted to interfere with heavy industry—particularly war production.

New reports are being received all the time of Soviet progress in this latter field.

These signs are to be read against the widespread belief that the cold war with its ideological campaign designed to confuse people everywhere as to their willingness to fight for their own regimes, represents merely a preparatory period in Russian planning, with her big push to come when she believes she has sufficient industrial capacity to challenge the nations which still show signs of fight.

With this in mind, Carney's speech may not only be taken as a warning that the United States may have to intervene in Indochina, but also that the administration's program for reduction of general defense expenditures may have to be thrown into quick reverse.

The Twin Cities Y. M. C. A. will hold a victory dinner and final report meeting for the membership roundup Monday night at 6:15 p. m. in The Barn, 305 Coleman Ave., West Monroe. All indications point to an excellent report and roundup officials expect to go over the top. Every person interested in the Y. M. C. A. here in the Twin Cities is urged to attend the victory dinner. The meal is complimentary and the Ouachita Ramblers and Wranglers Shell and Armstrong will furnish entertainment for the event. Joyce Albritton, Betty Elliott, Nelda Frey, Faye McKnight, Barbara Rawls, and Faye Stewart will serve as cowgirls.

Dr. Robertson urges every citizen of the Twin Cities who has not yet joined the Y. M. C. A. to do so before Monday night. Robertson further emphasized that the interest and support of the adults in Monroe and West Monroe will in a large way determine the effectiveness of the Y. M. C. A. youth program during the coming year. Membership applications for the Twin Cities Y. M. C. A. may be obtained by calling 5-2353.

A Discussion Of Necessity

Sometime ago, this newspaper editorially discussed the three major forces attacking this nation both from without and within. The World received many comments on the discussion, the comment mostly expressing amazement at such a possibility. As a duty to the citizens of this area, the World will continue to explain the intricacies of this problem from time to time.

As a power, the International Marxist Church cannot become completely dominant in the world until the United States is vanquished. There are several methods of accomplishing this vital and necessary collectivist aim. The first and most powerful organization, the leader of all the trouble, is the Soviet Union. It is the fountainhead of that Marxist creed termed "Bolshevism" or Communism. Believing that the only way to victory lies in sweeping revolution, the Bolsheviks resort to any method, foul or fair, to accomplish their aims.

The next important segment of the Marxist church is the Socialist group. Believing in the same ultimate end, the Socialists are unlike the Bolshevik Communists only in that they believe that their aims can be brought about by the peaceful machinery of parlimentary government.

The third important segment of the Marxist church is the "Fabian" or that type Marxism adopted by Keynes and the British Marxists. It is a "creeping" type Socialism also using the parlimentary government as a means of its end. The size of the conspiracy in this nation can only be assumed if one considers these three forces in alignment, which they most assuredly are. Taken as a whole, the International Marxist church has as its first aim, the destruction of the morals, the mores, the churches and finally, the entire nation.

In addition to the Marxist conspiracy composed of Communists and Socialists, there is another force called "internationalism."

The Internationalists pose just as great a threat to the United States as do the Marxists in that if the Internationalists succeed, the Marxists will succeed.

The problem is a relatively simple one. The United States is supposed to be the leader of the free world. In order to repel the forces of Marxism, this nation must remain strong, and it must offer a basis of nationalism and pride in itself if other nations are to follow its example. It must remain free and unhampered, powerful and ready to meet all aggression. What is its present condition?

Shackled and bound by the "United Nations," the American people are asked to give up their sovereignty while other nations are attempting to solidify their own national economic and stragetic positions, "hang" the free world and the needed desperate fight against the Marxists. In this nation, the internationalists operate several propaganda agencies by which the word is spread. The most adroit and powerful one is termed "UNESCO" ("United Nations Economic, Scientific and Cultural Organization.")

It is UNESCO which fosters an educational program among the younger Americans attempting to instill a feeling of "world citizenship" into young Americans, and asserting that one should be loyal not to the American Flag, but to the flag of the 'United Nations" (which curiously resembles the banner of the Red Army). One interesting and shocking example of this was pointed out to the Morning World last week by an irate parent who had cause to examine and read "The Girl Scout Handbook." Other textbooks are filled with internationalist literature and ideas and a general breakdown of home and family life is advocated by "UNESCO" which states that the "family influence" is somewhat retarding in that families tend to be "unfortunately nationalistic."

The basis for the combined attack on the United States stems back to the three branches of Marxism. Unfortunately, there are many, many patriotic Americans, who have fallen victim to the idea of "world brotherhood" and the potentialities for peace through "one world." The Marxists, all three segments of them, realize that the average American sincerely desires peace in the world, and is a kind and considerate individual. Thus, the Marxists seek to take advantage of the "one world" idea and to make Americans believe that they must surrender their individual sovereignty to the "United Nations."

The readers will find all three branches of Marxist endeavor, the Communists, the Socialists and the "Fabians" engaged in a strenuous support of all types of one world organizations for the simple reason that they realize the importance in sapping the sovereignty of the U. S. and turning its power over to foreign powers.

The American people must come to realize that the problem is also an economic one. The British are interested in the preservation of their empire. "If the 'fool Americans' want to give themselves away, let them do it," to quote an Englishman last year. The French are interested in their financial recovery while the Soviets are interested in dominating the world and turning it over to the godless creed of materialist collectivism.

What do the Marxists have in store for you? Consider again, the three branches of Marxism. First, the Communists plan to wipe out at least a third of the American people. They will imprison and make slaves of another third and will "use" the final third. This is no mere figment of imagination, but is taken from the reports of FBI agents within the American Communist party. Among other aspects, there are plans (according to the House Committee on un-American Activities), to set up a "Negro Soviet Socialist Republic" in an area comprising the "black belt" and Communists are being trained for this job right now. The information comes both from Congressional Bulletin number 65176 (House Committee on un-American Activities) and from a Communist report written by two Communist officials, James W. Ford and James S. Allen called "The Negroes in a Soviet America." A map was also published in the Communist journal outlining the borders of the "new state". It is not believed that patriotic American Negroes go along with this.

The Marxists, all of them, plan to eliminate the religion of God in the world stating that such "is the opium of the people." They obviously plan to eliminate the individual, relegating him to the state, and the economic system in this nation will be a thing of the past.

If either the Marxists or the internationalists succeed, these aims will eventually come about.

There is no necessity for the "mincing of words." The position is clear—for nearly all citizens of this area and throughout the nation, there can be but one choice—survival or Marxism.

Jackson Parish

In 1845 an act of the Louisiana legislature created Jackson parish from portions of Claiborne, Ouachita and Union parishes. The creation of the parish, which according to records was named after Andrew Jackson, saw settlement of the area by people of many nationalities who moved from the Carolina's, Alabama and other southern states.

Through the march of time Jackson parish, since her creation, has kept well abreast of her sister parishes. High civic standards point to the established place of Jackson with the more than 50 church buildings, modern schools and both parish and municipal facilities and services.

Jackson has an abundant potential forest wealth. Preservation and protection of her wealth is a civic pride with the citizenry who know that forestry products are the future of the area. The largest industry in the parish is the Southern Advance Bag and Paper Company, operating in Hodge and known throughout the state and South as a leader of the industry. Many other companies, such as Davis Brothers Lumber Company, Brown Paper Company, Tremont Lumber Company, show that Jackson parish is indeed a wealthy forestry area.

Situated in the heart of North Louisiana, Jackson parish has a population of 15,354 as recorded by the 1950 census. Encompassing 583 square miles within her boundaries, a large part of the land, not used for reforestation, is devoted to farming. Large farming operations are not present and most of the agriculture work is classified as "one man farms."

Through forestry and agriculture, Jackson parish has a well stabilized economy and is known as an area of "progressive and spirited citizens."

The 'NAAWP'

This newspaper does not condone radical organizations. It believes in a calm approach to all subjects and the consideration of all sides of the facts. It has denounced editorially on numerous occasions that organization entitled the "National Association for the Advancement of Colored People" due to the fact that it believes this organization is spreading race hatred and inciting race warfare where none ever existed before.

It has editorially commented on the NAACP "executive secretary," Walter White and does not believe that he sincerely believes in the good of all the American people. Since there is in existence, an organization to sponsor the cause of the Negro people, although it is not believed that there are too many Southern Negroes who belong to it, and one which "opposes" bloc voting on one hand while praising the "all Negro vote-down the line" on the other, this newspaper feels that in all fairness, the other "minority" must be heard.

There has come into existence in the national capital, the "National Association for the Advancement of White People." Realizing that the power of the Federal Courts apparently seeks to represent only a minority of the American people and to overrule the rights of states, perhaps the NAAWP could be an answer to the question.

The NAAWP's platform states the following things:

"The NAAWP after sane consideration and rational appraisal of the facts—believes that racial integration can only result in the ultimate destruction of both the White and the Negro races. Therefore, as the first important task, the NAAWP opposes the movement to integration.

"The NAAWP will immediately seek to advance the White people by insuring their rights in law to associate with their own kind, if they so desire, either publicly or privately in any or all of the multitude of life's activities. Racial separation is no sin, hatred is.

"The NAAWP is in the open where all men can see and form clear judgements. We strive for fair play and because we want fair play in return, we wish not to be misquoted.

"The NAAWP wants to do what is right and good. We are Americans. In order to defend our own rights, we will defend the rights of others. What we want for ourselves, we grant for others.

"The NAAWP believes in the right to private property and free enterprise.

"The NAAWP is not motivated by prejudice, bigotry or hatred nor are its policies un-American, un-democratic, or un-Christian.

"The NAAWP will always endeavor to be governed in its actions by the Golden Rule: 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.' "

As the NAAWP is yet a young organization, it would perhaps not be wise to pass judgement on it at this time.

Much discussion of an article (May 22) in the Christian Science Monitor, reporting that the "Joe Must Go" stunt, staged by a small town Wisconsin editor to recall McCarthy, has bogged down. The article reports that $7,000 of the $17,000 raised for the movement came from Los Angeles and "other large amounts" came from New York. The Monitor has been unsympathetic to McCarthy.

Ike Faithfully Promised The South State's Rights

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The South voted for Mr. Eisenhower with a two-fold purpose: First, to fumigate Washington and Mr. Eisenhower promised the south state's rights. But it has developed that Mr. Eisenhower is president in name only. He reminds me of the man who was hod-carrier on a brick building. "Oh, I only carry the brick and mortar up to them other fellers, they do the work," said the man.

Evidently Mr. Eisenhower isn't doing the work we assigned to him. He has a circle of advisors, all peregrine to the south, who are running this country. Mr. Eisenhower's Attorney General Brownell made a dramatic plea before the U. S. supreme court, calling for the elimination of segregation in schools. Reporters said Mr. Eisenhower approved the speech but I have never believed a d--n word of it. I doubt that they ever let Mr. Eisenhower read a newspaper unless it's something that suits them.

The south is now 'twixt the devil and the deep-blue sea, and closer to the devil. Those nine old men, evidently in a maudlin mood, has now decreed that we shall be a miscegenate race of people rather than give some people an inferior complex. The Kremlin was behind this. They had planned for a revolution. The Russians have used this segregation issue to spit in our faces. The Soviets lead the world when it comes to segregation. They use an iron curtain.

These nine old men walked into their trap and the south now has to suffer for it. There is a great deal of unrest, much talk of secession, and it may be a long time before this decision is healed. The chances are that we will be in war with Russia before this is accepted by the south.

Rich, Powerful Men Sponsor "Right-To-Work"

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I have read editorials and comment in several of the newspapers concerning the reason given by the advocates for the so-called "Right-to-Work" bill. All of them seem to be concerned with the right of the individual to join or not join a union. Do you really think these people who are sponsoring this right to work law are interested in any individuals' right?

It has been indicated that the farmers are for the "Right-to-Work" bill due to the fact that the head of this Right-to-Work Council is also head of the Farm Bureau. This is the same man who favored flexible parity on farm products. His stand on that question was repudiated by the farmers themselves. Union labor has supported farmers in their battle for 90 per cent parity and it is reasonable to think that the farmers will support union labor who keep purchasing power high so the farmer will have a market for his products. You can bet your life the farmer with any intelligence knows that the consumer (union men and women a large part) buys something to eat and wear before he buys anything else. If the consumer can only buy one shirt the cotton farmer doesn't do as well as he would if the consumer could buy two, four or six shirts. This works on all that the farmer produces.

These people who are sponsoring this "Right-to-Work" bill are rich and powerful men who do not care about anyone but their own selfish interest. In fact to get members into the Farm Bureau in the sugar cane region of the state, the mill owner deducts the membership fees out of the payment to the small farmer for his crop. This is the kind of people who are sponsoring this so-called "Right-to-Work" bill.

The type of Government that we have as set up by the Constitution is a Democratic Republic where the majority make the rules and all, including the individual and the minority have to go by them.

The union shop (the closed shop is forbidden by the Taft-Hartley Act) is where the majority of the employees of a company or industry have voted to have such a union. After a majority of the employees have so voted, employee representatives have to negotiate with their bosses for this union shop. This is done all in the American tradition of majority rule.

Telethon — Job Well Done

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Please run this under the Public Forum of the Sunday World of May 30th. This is a copy of a letter that was mailed to Mr. Parkerson on May 27, 1954.

Mr. J. W. Parkerson, Chairman,
United Cerebral Palsy Campaign Fund,
Monroe, Louisiana

Congratulations for a job well done. Your committee's drive for funds exceeded all expectations, some $50,000 being pledged to United Cerebral Palsy on the 17-hour telethon.

It was a privilege for members of organized labor of the various affiliated locals of this council to have helped out in the drive by furnishing transportation.

A vote of thanks from the entire community is due all the stars who appeared on the show, to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Noe and their loyal staff of employees, and to all those organizations and individuals who worked so hard to make this drive a success. A most worthwhile achievement was accomplished for which all can be proud.

In closing may I again extend our feeling of pleasure at having participated in this wonderful drive.

Recording secretary, Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council.

Re: State Socialism

San Antonio, Tex.

Editor, Morning World:

State socialism is government control of the people. A look at the volumes of statutes and ordinances controlling every citizen activity should convince any dumb kluck that state socialism has been substituted in the place of constitutional government. And there is no difference beween socialism, communism, democracy, and where they eventualley lead — to dictorship.

Some socialists start off as dogooders but when they find their utopian schemes will not work on a voluntary basis they get the fanatical notion that such schemes would work if instituted by the force of government. When the government forces something on the people they have no authority to do under the constitution, that is plain dictatorship whether the politically ignorant realize it or not. Dictatorship in any degree is treason against this republic and should be dealt with accordingly.

Governor Person's Statement

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I lifted an editorial out of the New Orleans Times-Picayune and because Governor Person's statement sounds so logical and well-phrased I feel compelled to pass it on to you in the event you missed the editorial or Governor Person's statement at the time he signed Alabama's Right-To-Work bill. Now if we can only see 47 other governors sign 47 similar bills and make 47 similar statements perhaps we can yet escape the regimentation and slavery under the boots of labor bosses and racketeers.

I wish to take the opportunity of expressing my own appreciation of your efforts in combatting those evil cynical forces who seem so determined to reverse our free American way of life. I still think your editorials are masterpieces.

E. L. MATTINGLY.

Indo-China Dilemma

Hodge, Louisiana

Editor, Morning World:

The United States is today faced with one of the most critical dilemmas in its history. I refer to the Indo - China situation, which indeed is a most serious one, in spite of the tendency of some people to regard the problem lightly. We are faced with two alternatives, both of which could easily bring disaster to this country and Indo - China as well as the entire world possibly.

The first alternative, which most people seem to favor, is the one which advocates the abstinence of the United States from sending troops to aid Indo-China. Many people fear that the result of sending our forces to Indo-China would be comparable to the result of the so-called "police action" in Korea. This fear of the apparently unnecessary sacrifice of human lives suffered during the Korean conflict creates a sense of hesitance in the mind of the average American citizen in regards to sending our armed forces to Indo-China.

Another reason for the opposition to sending troops to Indo - China is based on the principle of isolationism, which, in my opinion, can have only an adverse effect on our modern world. Many people believe we should let Indo-China handle its own business and fight its own wars. A large number of people believe that Indo - China is of no real importance and does not warrant our aid. These beliefs are wholly false. Not only is Indo-China a valuable source of vital raw materials, such as rubber and tin, but it represents a steppingstone to the entire Southeastern area of Asia.

This first alternative which opposes the sending of troops to Indo-China presents its good and bad sides. The profit received from abstinence of military action in Indo-China would be the preservation of human lives. The adverse side presents the problem of losing a source of necessary natural resources as well as a strategic fort to communism.

The second alternative we have is to send military assistance to Indo-China. This decision would also have its pro and con aspects. The pro side rests on the important fact that the strategic area can and must be saved from that cruel conqueror—communism. All freedom-loving citizens feel the grave necessity of rescuing Indo-China from this fate. By taking action and freeing Indo - China from the grip of communism the free world would have taken an important step toward the triumph of the cause of democracy in our Communist-threatened world.

Again we are faced with the adverse effects of sending troops to Indo - China. Not only are we faced with the loss of and injury to human lives, but we must also face the fact that war in Indo-China could only lead to further war in the Far East and possibly World War III.

Our country as a recognized leader of the free world is faced with a grave responsibility in their decision concerning the nation which has come to represent the struggle of the free world against communism. Should we let them "go it alone" and possibly lose to the Communists what would be a steppingstone to additional Communist conquest of southeastern Asia, or should we aid the Indo - Chinese and either free their country from the threat of communism or risk setting off that most feared explosion of all — World War III?

For Better Government

Crowville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

We are opposed to any bill offered in behalf of the Gambling Racketeers that would legalize any kind of gambling by churches, municipalities, organized charities, veterans organizations, or anybody else, whether such gambling is conducted "as a business" or not as a business. We are opposed to any bill that seeks to take away from the state police any of their law enforcement authority, or to reduce the funds appropriated for their highway patrol and law enforcement work. We are opposed to political bosses, to gamblers dictating to lawmakers, to the liquor traffic enjoying special privileges and unfair advantages in local option elections, to bribe - taking and corruption.

We would like our senators and representatives to stand against any legislation that would permit any vices or immoral practices. We would like them to stand for and support legislation that would give us better government and better moral conditions in our state. We believe in our legislative body, and you have our support in providing legislation to clean up vices and corruption in our state and foster better conditions.

It Is A Shame

New Orleans, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The constitution of the U. S. requires in Article 2, Section 2 that the President appoint the Judges of the Supreme Court who will be charged with the enormously important duty to exert the Judicial Power of the U. S., one of the three studiously separated powers and in many cases the greatest.

The public will be shocked to learn that eight of the nine members of the present Court are ex-politicians, none ever a Judge; the ninth trained as a politician before he was appointed.

Black, Burton and Menton were U. S. Senators; Clark, Jackson and Reed Attorneys General; Warren, Governor; Frankfurter, Assistant Sec. of State; Douglas with a whole string of political offices. This is how recent Presidents have been filling their constitutional duty of appointing Judges to the Supreme Court. Stuffing the court to pay off political debts — a shabby and dangerous business, which the lawyers of this country should summon their courage to resist; the people having little or no knowledge of how this undermines our whole system.

A judicial decision, "the exertion of the Judicial power" by these politically minded men would be an impossibility if they tried. They did not try in the segregation case. They gave as the basis of that reversal of the ruling of the real judges preceding them for 50 years; that segregation is no longer fashionable, in precise words, "Times have changed." That is the language of politicians, not of judges. For generations judges, both state and federal, have declared as axiomatic that in the "exercise of judicial power" it is the function of Courts to construe the law as written by the lawmakers; not to bring it to what the judges might think is up to date.

It is a shame that the many trained and competent judges of our state and federal courts have no chance for a place on this judicial body; crowded out by ellowing politicians.

McCarthy Has Undermined Confidence In Sec. Stevens

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Whether or not anyone has been ruined by McCarthy is only of secondary importance. Far more important is if it's true that he is doing harm to our country by undermining confidence in our government. From here it appears he is trying to do just that.

He has attacked Stassen's department time and again, which is the same thing as attacking the President because he sees fit to let him do the job. He has gone to extreme lengths in offering doctored up pictures and letters to undermine confidence in the Secretary of the Army, Stevens. Likewise, he attempts to cast doubt on such tried men as Generals Marshall and Zwicker, whose loyalty is unquestioned by millions of Americans. Such action and name-calling is bound to keep our country in turmoil.

Yes, it does appear that this man is working systematically to destroy the confidence of the American people in their government.

DR. SEYMOUR SOLOMON

Against A Stock Law

Collinston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I am against a stock law. In fact I'm not in favor of any law that doesn't benefit all of the people. Certainly it is easy to see what those who advocate a stock law are after. Just a very few people are fortunate enough to have in their possession large portions of God's land, if they can pass a state wide stock law, it will be to their advantage, for very few of the so-called land owners will let their tenants keep any cows, so the poor man can't own any cattle and the big man will have them all.

God made the world and everything in it for all to enjoy. God speed the day when people will wake up from their state of lethargy and come confessing God as owner of the world and that he has only entrusted it to our hands.

As far as the $50,000 a year for men to patrol the roads, that money can be used for a better cause.

Please!

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Will the party or parties who borrowed the bicycle Monday night from the yard at 3610 Polk street please return. This bicycle is a Goodyear, color maroon and white, 28 - inch, serial number 2434423, model number 240518.

This bike belongs to Roland McKellar and no other will take its place. This was a Christmas gift from his Dad. The last thing his father ever gave him, as his father passed away Jan. 12, so you can see what it will mean to us to get the bike.

If you will only return the bike there will be no questions asked.

We have searched everywhere thinking maybe the bike was ridden away, and left but so far no results.

Barber Board Is Stopped

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Now that we have stopped the barber board from issuing fraudulent licenses to beauty operators, it does not mean that our fight is over. We must see that some of the beauty board members, who have gone astray on the money grabbing scheme of the barber board, do not sell the beauticians down the river on a planned meeting of the two boards soon. We must also remain alert to any new bill in legislature shot through by the barber board. The beauticians hope to have a bill introduced in this legislature to completely separate the practice of beauty culture in its entirety, including ladies' hair cuts, from the barber board.

As to the two cases in Monroe, and there may be more, where the beauticians unlawfully bought barber licenses, it seems to me that they might lessen their chance of prosecution by surrendering said licenses to the district attorney at once and make public statement of same.

Break Up Fifth Column Like Ku Klux Klan

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

There are many evils operating under cover that will come to light when the legislature writes the anti-Communist law in the statutes of the state of Louisiana. One of them is that Russia already has the best organized fifth column in the United States that has ever been organized since prehistoric times. And another is the futility of going to war against communism before we break up this fifth column in the United States. A multitude of evils will be uncovered when the Courts and secret servicemen begin operations in Louisiana. The legislature broke up the Ku Klux Klan, and can likewise break up this fifth column.

The Dowager Empress

Indianapolis, Ind.

Editor, Morning World:

There has but lately come into my hands with other patriotic literature a reprint of your priceless essay on "The Dowager Empress." This expresses the feelings of, and adds to the knowledge of many I know. Having suffered under the afflictions of certain 'edicts.' However, there remains too many who do not know why the rest of us feel as we do. Do not know enough. Your editorial says it.

In April I met a Southern gentleman of standing in Texas, who said that despite some mistakes, Senator McCarthy "deserves well of his country."

I am glad to read you stand for him and agree about the UN. I am just a private citizen and my letter seeks no publication and prefers none, but let me express my gratitude for this editorial's happening at all. The "Empress" is quite friendly at my old college, too (Vassar, Poughkeepsie N. Y.) which makes me sad. She came here in December to make a speech along her usual lines for benefit of the building fund of the Negro YMCA. The program called, "Beloved First Lady of the World."

A Discussion Of Necessity

Sometime ago, this newspaper editorially discussed the three major forces attacking this nation both from without and within. The World received many comments on the discussion, the comment mostly expressing amazement at such a possibility. As a duty to the citizens of this area, the World will continue to explain the intricacies of this problem from time to time.

As a power, the International Marxist church cannot become completely dominant in the world until the United States is vanquished. There are several methods of accomplishing this vital and necessary collectivist aim. The first and most powerful organization, the leader of all the trouble, is the Soviet Union. It is the fountainhead of that Marxist creed termed "Bolshevism" or Communism. Believing that the only way to victory lies in sweeping revolution, the Bolsheviks resort to any method, foul or fair, to accomplish their aims.

The next important segment of the Marxist church is the Socialist group. Believing in the same ultimate end, the Socialists are unlike the Bolshevik Communists only in that they believe that their aims can be brought about by the peaceful machinery of parlimentary government.

The third important segment of the Marxist church is the "Fabian" or that type Marxism adopted by Keynes and the British Marxists. It is a "creeping" type Socialism also using the parlimentary government as a means of its end. The size of the conspiracy in this nation can only be assumed if one considers these three forces in alignment, which they most assuredly are. Taken as a whole, the International Marxist church has as its first aim, the destruction of the morals, the mores, the churches and finally, the entire nation.

In addition to the Marxist conspiracy composed of Communists and Socialists, there is another force called "internationalism."

The Internationalists pose just as great a threat to the United States as do the Marxists in that if the Internationalists succeed, the Marxists will succeed.

The problem is a relatively simple one. The United States is supposed to be the leader of the free world. In order to repel the forces of Marxism, this nation must remain strong, and it must offer a basis of nationalism and pride in itself if other nations are to follow its example. It must remain free and unhampered, powerful and ready to meet all aggression. What is its present condition?

Shackled and bound by the "United Nations," the American people are asked to give up their sovereignty while other nations are attempting to solidify their own national economic and stragetic positions, "hang" the free world and the needed desperate fight against the Marxists. In this nation, the internationalists operate several propaganda agencies by which the word is spread. The most adroit and powerful one is termed "UNESCO" ("United Nations Economic, Scientific and Cultural Organization.")

It is UNESCO which fosters an educational program among the younger Americans attempting to instill a feeling of "world citizenship" into young Americans, and asserting that one should be loyal not to the American Flag, but to the flag of the 'United Nations" (which curiously resembles the banner of the Red Army). One interesting and shocking example of this was pointed out to the Morning World last week by an irate parent who had cause to examine and read "The Girl Scout Handbook." Other textbooks are filled with internationalist literature and ideas and a general breakdown of home and family life is advocated by "UNESCO" which states that the "family influence" is somewhat retarding in that families tend to be "unfortunately nationalistic."

The basis for the combined attack on the United States stems back to the three branches of Marxism. Unfortunately, there are many, many patriotic Americans, who have fallen victim to the idea of "world brotherhood" and the potentialities for peace through "one world." The Marxists, all three segments of them, realize that the average American sincerely desires peace in the world, and is a kind and considerate individual. Thus, the Marxists seek to take advantage of the "one world" idea and to make Americans believe that they must surrender their individual sovereignty to the "United Nations."

The readers will find all three branches of Marxist endeavor, the Communists, the Socialists and the "Fabians" engaged in a strenuous support of all types of one world organizations for the simple reason that they realize the importance in sapping the sovereignty of the U. S. and turning its power over to foreign powers.

The American people must come to realize that the problem is also an economic one. The British are interested in the preservation of their empire. "If the 'fool Americans' want to give themselves away, let them do it," to quote an Englishman last year. The French are interested in their financial recovery while the Soviets are interested in dominating the world and turning it over to the godless creed of materialist collectivism.

What do the Marxists have in store for you? Consider again, the three branches of Marxism. First, the Communists plan to wipe out at least a third of the American people. They will imprison and make slaves of another third and will "use" the final third. This is no mere figment of imagination, but is taken from the reports of FBI agents within the American Communist party. Among other aspects, there are plans (according to the House Committee on un-American Activities), to set up a "Negro Soviet Socialist Republic" in an area comprising the "black belt" and Communists are being trained for this job right now. The information comes both from Congressional Bulletin number 65176 (House Committee on un-American Activities) and from a Communist report written by two Communist officials, James W. Ford and James S. Allen called "The Negroes in a Soviet America." A map was also published in the Communist journal outlining the borders of the "new state". It is not believed that patriotic American Negroes go along with this.

The Marxists, all of them, plan to eliminate the religion of God in the world stating that such "is the opium of the people." They obviously plan to eliminate the individual, relegating him to the state, and the economic system in this nation will be a thing of the past.

If either the Marxists or the internationalists succeed, these aims will eventually come about.

There is no necessity for the "mincing of words." The position is clear—for nearly all citizens of this area and throughout the nation, there can be but one choice—survival or Marxism.

Jackson Parish

In 1845 an act of the Louisiana legislature created Jackson parish from portions of Claiborne, Ouachita and Union parishes. The creation of the parish, which according to records was named after Andrew Jackson, saw settlement of the area by people of many nationalities who moved from the Carolina's, Alabama and other southern states.

Through the march of time Jackson parish, since her creation, has kept well abreast of her sister parishes. High civic standards point to the established place of Jackson with the more than 50 church buildings, modern schools and both parish and municipal facilities and services.

Jackson has an abundant potential forest wealth. Preservation and protection of her wealth is a civic pride with the citizenry who know that forestry products are the future of the area. The largest industry in the parish is the Southern Advance Bag and Paper Company, operating in Hodge and known throughout the state and South as a leader of the industry. Many other companies, such as Davis Brothers Lumber Company, Brown Paper Company, Tremont Lumber Company, show that Jackson parish is indeed a wealthy forestry area.

Situated in the heart of North Louisiana, Jackson parish has a population of 15,354 as recorded by the 1950 census. Encompassing 583 square miles within her boundaries, a large part of the land, not used for reforestation, is devoted to farming. Large farming operations are not present and most of the agriculture work is classified as "one man farms."

Through forestry and agriculture, Jackson parish has a well stabilized economy and is known as an area of "progressive and spirited citizens."

The 'NAAWP'

This newspaper does not condone radical organizations. It believes in a calm approach to all subjects and the consideration of all sides of the facts. It has denounced editorially on numerous occasions that organization entitled the "National Association for the Advancement of Colored People" due to the fact that it believes this organization is spreading race hatred and inciting race warfare where none ever existed before.

It has editorially commented on the NAACP "executive secretary," Walter White and does not believe that he sincerely believes in the good of all the American people. Since there is in existence, an organization to sponsor the cause of the Negro people, although it is not believed that there are too many Southern Negroes who belong to it, and one which "opposes" bloc voting on one hand while praising the "all Negro vote-down the line" on the other, this newspaper feels that in all fairness, the other "minority" must be heard.

There has come into existence in the national capital, the "National Association for the Advancement of White People." Realizing that the power of the Federal Courts apparently seeks to represent only a minority of the American people and to overrule the rights of states, perhaps the NAAWP could be an answer to the question.

The NAAWP's platform states the following things:

"The NAAWP after sane consideration and rational appraisal of the facts—believes that racial integration can only result in the ultimate destruction of both the White and the Negro races. Therefore, as the first important task, the NAAWP opposes the movement to integration.

"The NAAWP will immediately seek to advance the White people by insuring their rights in law to associate with their own kind, if they so desire, either publicly or privately in any or all of the multitude of life's activities. Racial separation is no sin, hatred is.

"The NAAWP is in the open where all men can see and form clear judgements. We strive for fair play and because we want fair play in return, we wish not to be misquoted.

"The NAAWP wants to do what is right and good. We are Americans. In order to defend our own rights, we will defend the rights of others. What we want for ourselves, we grant for others.

"The NAAWP believes in the right to private property and free enterprise.

"The NAAWP is not motivated by prejudice, bigotry or hatred nor are its policies un-American, un-democratic, or un-Christian.

"The NAAWP will always endeavor to be governed in its actions by the Golden Rule: 'Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.' "

As the NAAWP is yet a young organization, it would perhaps not be wise to pass judgement on it at this time.

Much discussion of an article (May 22) in the Christian Science Monitor, reporting that the "Joe Must Go" stunt, staged by a small town Wisconsin editor to recall McCarthy, has bogged down. The article reports that $7,000 of the $17,000 raised for the movement came from Los Angeles and "other large amounts" came from New York. The Monitor has been unsympathetic to McCarthy.

Ike Faithfully Promised The South State's Rights

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The South voted for Mr. Eisenhower with a two-fold purpose: First, to fumigate Washington and Mr. Eisenhower promised the south state's rights. But it has developed that Mr. Eisenhower is president in name only. He reminds me of the man who was hod-carrier on a brick building. "Oh, I only carry the brick and mortar up to them other fellers they do the work," said the man.

Evidently Mr. Eisenhower isn't doing the work we assigned to him. He has a circle of advisors, all peregrine to the south, who are running this country. Mr. Eisenhower's Attorney General Brownell made a dramatic plea before the U. S. supreme court, calling for the elimination of segregation in schools. Reporters said Mr. Eisenhower approved the speech but I have never believed a d--n word of it. I doubt that they ever let Mr. Eisenhower read a newspaper unless it's something that suits them.

The south is now 'twixt the devil and the deep-blue sea, and closer to the devil. Those nine old men, evidently in a maudlin mood, has now decreed that we shall be a miscegenate race of people rather than give some people an inferior complex. The Kremlin was behind this. They had planned for a revolution. The Russians have used this segregation issue to spit in our faces. The Soviets lead the world when it comes to segregation. They use an iron curtain.

These nine old men walked into their trap and the south now has to suffer for it. There is a great deal of unrest, much talk of secession, and it may be a long time before this decision is healed. The chances are that we will be in war with Russia before this is accepted by the south.

Rich, Powerful Men Sponsor "Right-To-Work"

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I have read editorials and comment in several of the newspapers concerning the reason given by the advocates for the so-called "Right-to-Work" bill. All of them seem to be concerned with the right of the individual to join or not join a union. Do you really think these people who are sponsoring this right to work law are interested in any individuals' right?

It has been indicated that the farmers are for the "Right-to-Work" bill due to the fact that the head of this Right-to-Work Council is also head of the Farm Bureau. This is the same man who favored flexible parity on farm products. His stand on that question was repudiated by the farmers themselves. Union labor has supported farmers in their battle for 90 per cent parity and it is reasonable to think that the farmers will support union labor who keep purchasing power high so the farmer will have a market for his products. You can bet your life the farmer with any intelligence knows that the consumer (union men and women a large part) buys something to eat and wear before he buys anything else. If the consumer can only buy one shirt the cotton farmer doesn't do as well as he would if the consumer could buy two, four or six shirts. This works on all that the farmer produces.

These people who are sponsoring this "Right-to-Work" bill are rich and powerful men who do not care about anyone but their own selfish interest. In fact to get members into the Farm Bureau in the sugar cane region of the state, the mill owner deducts the membership fees out of the payment to the small farmer for his crop. This is the kind of people who are sponsoring this so-called "Right-to-Work" bill.

The type of Government that we have as set up by the Constitution is a Democratic Republic where the majority make the rules and all, including the individual and the minority have to go by them.

The union shop (the closed shop is forbidden by the Taft-Hartley Act) is where the majority of the employees of a company or industry have voted to have such a union. After a majority of the employees have so voted, employee representatives have to negotiate with their bosses for this union shop. This is done all in the American tradition of majority rule.

Telethon — Job Well Done

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Please run this under the Public Forum of the Sunday World of May 30th. This is a copy of a letter that was mailed to Mr. Parkerson on May 27, 1954.

Mr. J. W. Parkerson, Chairman,
United Cerebral Palsy Campaign Fund,
Monroe, Louisiana

Congratulations for a job well done. Your committee's drive for funds exceeded all expectations, some $50,000 being pledged to United Cerebral Palsy on the 17-hour telethon.

It was a privilege for members of organized labor of the various affiliated locals of this council to have helped out in the drive by furnishing transportation.

A vote of thanks from the entire community is due all the stars who appeared on the show, to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Noe and their loyal staff of employees, and to all those organizations and individuals who worked so hard to make this drive a success. A most worthwhile achievement was accomplished for which all can be proud.

In closing may I again extend our feeling of pleasure at having participated in this wonderful drive.

Re: State Socialism

San Antonio, Tex.

Editor, Morning World:

State socialism is government control of the people. A look at the volumes of statutes and ordinances controlling every citizen activity should convince any dumb kluck that state socialism has been substituted in the place of constitutional government. And there is no difference beween socialism, communism, democracy, and where they eventualley lead — to dictorship.

Some socialists start off as dogooders but when they find their utopian schemes will not work on a voluntary basis they get the fanatical notion that such schemes would work if instituted by the force of government. When the government forces something on the people they have no authority to do under the constitution, that is plain dictatorship whether the politically ignorant realize it or not. Dictatorship in any degree is treason against this republic and should be dealt with accordingly.

Governor Person's Statement

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I lifted an editorial out of the New Orleans Times-Picayune and because Governor Person's statement sounds so logical and well-phrased I feel compelled to pass it on to you in the event you missed the editorial or Governor Person's statement at the time he signed Alabama's Right-To-Work bill. Now if we can only see 47 other governors sign 47 similar bills and make 47 similar statements perhaps we can yet escape the regimentation and slavery under the boots of labor bosses and racketeers.

I wish to take the opportunity of expressing my own appreciation of your efforts in combatting those evil cynical forces who seem so determined to reverse our free American way of life. I still think your editorials are masterpieces.

Indo-China Dilemma

Hodge, Louisiana

Editor, Morning World:

The United States is today faced with one of the most critical dilemmas in its history. I refer to the Indo - China situation, which indeed is a most serious one, in spite of the tendency of some people to regard the problem lightly. We are faced with two alternatives, both of which could easily bring disaster to this country and Indo - China as well as the entire world possibly.

The first alternative, which most people seem to favor, is the one which advocates the abstinence of the United States from sending troops to aid Indo-China. Many people fear that the result of sending our forces to Indo-China would be comparable to the result of the so-called "police action" in Korea. This fear of the apparently unnecessary sacrifice of human lives suffered during the Korean conflict creates a sense of hesitance in the mind of the average American citizen in regards to sending our armed forces to Indo-China.

Another reason for the opposition to sending troops to Indo - China is based on the principle of isolationism, which, in my opinion, can have only an adverse effect on our modern world. Many people believe we should let Indo-China handle its own business and fight its own wars. A large number of people believe that Indo - China is of no real importance and does not warrant our aid. These beliefs are wholly false. Not only is Indo-China a valuable source of vital raw materials, such as rubber and tin, but it represents a steppingstone to the entire Southeastern area of Asia.

This first alternative which opposes the sending of troops to Indo-China presents its good and bad sides. The profit received from abstinence of military action in Indo-China would be the preservation of human lives. The adverse side presents the problem of losing a source of necessary natural resources as well as a strategic fort to communism.

The second alternative we have is to send military assistance to Indo-China. This decision would also have its pro and con aspects. The pro side rests on the important fact that the strategic area can and must be saved from that cruel conqueror—communism. All freedom-loving citizens feel the grave necessity of rescuing Indo-China from this fate. By taking action and freeing Indo - China from the grip of communism the free world would have taken an important step toward the triumph of the cause of democracy in our Communist-threatened world.

Again we are faced with the adverse effects of sending troops to Indo - China. Not only are we faced with the loss of and injury to human lives, but we must also face the fact that war in Indo-China could only lead to further war in the Far East and possibly World War III.

Our country as a recognized leader of the free world is faced with a grave responsibility in their decision concerning the nation which has come to represent the struggle of the free world against communism. Should we let them "go it alone" and possibly lose to the Communists what would be a steppingstone to additional Communist conquest of southeastern Asia, or should we aid the Indo - Chinese and either free their country from the threat of communism or risk setting off that most feared explosion of all — World War III?

For Better Government

Crowville, La.

Editor, Morning World:

We are opposed to any bill offered in behalf of the Gambling Racketeers that would legalize any kind of gambling by churches, municipalities, organized charities, veterans organizations, or anybody else, whether such gambling is conducted "as a business" or not as a business. We are opposed to any bill that seeks to take away from the state police any of their law enforcement authority, or to reduce the funds appropriated for their highway patrol and law enforcement work. We are opposed to political bosses, to gamblers dictating to lawmakers, to the liquor traffic enjoying special privileges and unfair advantages in local option elections, to bribe - taking and corruption.

We would like our senators and representatives to stand against any legislation that would permit any vices or immoral practices. We would like them to stand for and support legislation that would give us better government and better moral conditions in our state. We believe in our legislative body, and you have our support in providing legislation to clean up vices and corruption in our state and foster better conditions.

It Is A Shame

New Orleans, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The constitution of the U. S. requires in Article 2, Section 2 that the President appoint the Judges of the Supreme Court who will be charged with the enormously important duty to exert the Judicial Power of the U. S., one of the three studiously separated powers and in many cases the greatest.

The public will be shocked to learn that eight of the nine members of the present Court are ex-politicians, none ever a Judge; the ninth trained as a politician before he was appointed.

Black, Burton and Menton were U. S. Senators; Clark, Jackson and Reed Attorneys General; Warren, Governor; Frankfurter, Assistant Sec. of State; Douglas with a whole string of political offices. This is how recent Presidents have been filling their constitutional duty of appointing Judges to the Supreme Court. Stuffing the court to pay off political debts — a shabby and dangerous business, which the lawyers of this country should summon their courage to resist; the people having little or no knowledge of how this undermines our whole system.

A judicial decision, "the exertion of the Judicial power" by these politically minded men would be an impossibility if they tried. They did not try in the segregation case. They gave as the basis of that reversal of the ruling of the real judges preceding them for 50 years; that segregation is no longer fashionable, in precise words, "Times have changed." That is the language of politicians, not of judges. For generations judges, both state and federal, have declared as axiomatic that in the "exercise of judicial power" it is the function of Courts to construe the law as written by the lawmakers; not to bring it to what the judges might think is up to date.

It is a shame that the many trained and competent judges of our state and federal courts have no chance for a place on this judicial body; crowded out by elbowing politicians.

McCarthy Has Undermined Confidence In Sec. Stevens

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Whether or not anyone has been ruined by McCarthy is only of secondary importance. Far more important is if it's true that he is doing harm to our country by undermining confidence in our government. From here it appears he is trying to do just that.

He has attacked Stassen's department time and again, which is the same thing as attacking the President because he sees fit to let him do the job. He has gone to extreme lengths in offering doctored up pictures and letters to undermine confidence in the Secretary of the Army, Stevens. Likewise, he attempts to cast doubt on such tried men as Generals Marshall and Zwicker, whose loyalty is unquestioned by millions of Americans. Such action and name-calling is bound to keep our country in turmoil.

Yes, it does appear that this man is working systematically to destroy the confidence of the American people in their government.

Against A Stock Law

Collinston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I am against a stock law. In fact I'm not in favor of any law that doesn't benefit all of the people. Certainly it is easy to see what those who advocate a stock law are after. Just a very few people are fortunate enough to have in their possession large portions of God's land, if they can pass a state wide stock law, it will be to their advantage, for very few of the so-called land owners will let their tenants keep any cows, so the poor man can't own any cattle and the big man will have them all.

God made the world and everything in it for all to enjoy. God speed the day when people will wake up from their state of lethargy and come confessing God as owner of the world and that he has only entrusted it to our hands.

As far as the $50,000 a year for men to patrol the roads, that money can be used for a better cause.

Please!

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Will the party or parties who borrowed the bicycle Monday night from the yard at 3610 Polk street please return. This bicycle is a Goodyear, color maroon and white, 28 - inch, serial number 2434423, model number 240518.

This bike belongs to Roland McKellar and no other will take its place. This was a Christmas gift from his Dad. The last thing his father ever gave him, as his father passed away Jan. 12, so you can see what it will mean to us to get the bike.

If you will only return the bike there will be no questions asked.

Barber Board Is Stopped

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Now that we have stopped the barber board from issuing fraudulent licenses to beauty operators, it does not mean that our fight is over. We must see that some of the beauty board members, who have gone astray on the money grabbing scheme of the barber board, do not sell the beauticians down the river on a planned meeting of the two boards soon. We must also remain alert to any new bill in legislature shot through by the barber board. The beauticians hope to have a bill introduced in this legislature to completely separate the practice of beauty culture in its entirety, including ladies' hair cuts, from the barber board.

As to the two cases in Monroe, and there may be more, where the beauticians unlawfully bought barber licenses, it seems to me that they might lessen their chance of prosecution by surrending said licenses to the district attorney at once and make public statement of same.

Break Up Fifth Column Like Ku Klux Klan

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

There are many evils operating under cover that will come to light when the legislature writes the anti-Communist law in the statutes of the state of Louisiana. One of them is that Russia already has the best organized fifth column in the United States that has ever been organized since prehistoric times. And another is the futility of going to war against communism before we break up this fifth column in the United States. A multitude of evils will be uncovered when the Courts and secret servicemen begin operations in Louisiana. The legislature broke up the Ku Klux Klan, and can likewise break up this fifth column.

The Dowager Empress

Indianapolis, Ind.

Editor, Morning World:

There has but lately come into my hands with other patriotic literature a reprint of your priceless essay on "The Dowager Empress." This expresses the feelings of, and adds to the knowledge of many I know. Having suffered under the afflictions of certain 'edicts.' However, there remains too many who do not know why the rest of us feel as we do. Do not know enough. Your editorial says it.

In April I met a Southern gentleman of standing in Texas, who said that despite some mistakes, Senator McCarthy "deserves well of his country."

I am glad to read you stand for him and agree about the UN. I am just a private citizen and my letter seeks no publication and prefers none, but let me express my gratitude for this editorial's happening at all. The "Empress" is quite friendly at my old college, too (Vassar, Poughkeepsie N. Y.) which makes me sad. She came here in December to make a speech along her usual lines for benefit of the building fund of the Negro YMCA. The program called, "Beloved First Lady of the World."

Webb Pierce Signs With Universal For 2 Pictures

—NASHVILLE, Tenn. May 29 (Special)—Webb Pierce, WMS Grand Ole Opry star, will go to Hollywood during the latter part of June to make two singing movie shorts for Universal International. Pierce is a native of West Monroe, La.

Between now and the Hollywood engagement, Pierce will go to his hometown for an appearance and celebration of a homecoming in his honor. June 5 has been declared "Webb Pierce Day" in Monroe and West Monroe, La.

The invitation to Hollywood is a realization of a lifelong ambition for the Louisiana boy whose rise to the top in Country Music has been little short of phenomenal. As a youngster picking the guitar and singing country music, Pierce took his inspiration from the singing cowboys of the movies.

The Grand Ole Opry star's "Slowly" has been at the top of the popularity charts across the nation for several weeks now, and his latest release, "Even Though," is rising rapidly.

Another honor for Pierce was his selection as "Mr. Country Music" of 1953. He was chosen for that honor by Pickin' and Singin' News, a nationwide country music newspaper published in Nashville.

In West Monroe, Pierce is expected to get his most enthusiastic homecoming since he became a nationally known artist. The West Monroe Businessmen's Association, the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce and Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the celebration in Pierce's honor.

With Pierce on his appearance in West Monroe will be Wilburn Brothers, Faron Young, Red Sovine and many others. Some local musicians will appear on the program at the West Monroe arena.

Ellis Criticizes Sen. Ellender For Travels Abroad

MINDEN, La. —UP— Frank B. Ellis, candidate for the U. S. Senate, said here Saturday that Sen. Allen J. Ellender "told me in 1948 that he would not run again when his term expired."

"Some people are in office too long," said Ellis, Democratic national committeeman from Louisiana. "Some time they get in a rut and stop of oeing of genuine service to their people."

Ellis charged that Ellender toured foreign lands to the neglect of his home state.

"I am unalterably opposed to sending our youth to fight and die in the jungles of Indo-China," said Ellis, who made appearances in 17 towns in six parishes as he campaigned in northwest Louisiana.

He also said he favors a strong bi-partisan foreign policy to help guide America.

The candidate was scheduled to return to his headquarters in New Orleans Sunday.

City Police Chief Supports Traffic Safety Campaign

Monroe Chief of Police M. L. Peters yesterday promised "the fullest cooperation" of his department with the three - month long traffic safety program scheduled in 14 southern states.

Friday, Louisiana Gov. Robert F. Kennon and his Highway Safety Commission entered into a joint declaration with 13 other southern states for a safety program stressing the slogan "Slow Down and Live" from today — which is Memorial Day — until Sept. 6, Labor Day.

"In cooperation with the plan to achieve a higher degree of safety on the streets and highways, the Monroe police department takes pleasure in adopting the slogan of 'Slow Down and Live'," Chief Peters said yesterday.

Peters added that the Monroe police department continues to regulate traffic at all times to the best of its ability, but that the need for stressing of excessive speeds can be readily seen.

"Statistics in the past have shown that many of the traffic accidents and violations have included speed, namely speeding too fast for conditions, following too closely, failing to yield the right-of - way, improper passing and plain excessive speed," he said.

"More than 25 per cent of drivers involved in fatal accidents annually are violating speed laws at the time of the accident," Peters continued.

"For instance, a speeding car travels a greater distance between the time the brakes are applied and the car stops than the slower moving vehicle," he said.

"To illustrate this point, a car with good brakes can stop in 21 feet after they are applied from a speed of 20 miles per hour. It will take about 189 feet for the car to stop if the speed is 60 miles per hour," he concluded.

Webb Pierce Signs With Universal For 2 Pictures

–NASHVILLE, Tenn. May 29 (Special)—Webb Pierce, WMS Grand Ole Opry star, will go to Hollywood during the latter part of June to make two singing movie shorts for Universal International. Pierce is a native of West Monroe, La.

Between now and the Hollywood engagement, Pierce will go to his hometown for an appearance and celebration of a homecoming in his honor. June 5 has been declared "Webb Pierce Day" in Monroe and West Monroe, La.

The invitation to Hollywood is a realization of a lifelong ambition for the Louisiana boy whose rise to the top in Country Music has been little short of phenomenal. As a youngster picking the guitar and singing country music, Pierce took his inspiration from the singing cowboys of the movies.

The Grand Ole Opry star's "Slowly" has been at the top of the popularity charts across the nation for several weeks now, and his latest release, "Even Though," is rising rapidly.

Another honor for Pierce was his selection as "Mr. Country Music" of 1953. He was chosen for that honor by Pickin' and Singin' News, a nationwide country music newspaper published in Nashville.

In West Monroe, Pierce is expected to get his most enthusiastic homecoming since he became a nationally known artist. The West Monroe Businessmen's Association, the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce and Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the celebration in Pierce's honor.

With Pierce on his appearance in West Monroe will be Wilburn Brothers, Faron Young, Red Sovine and many others. Some local musicians will appear on the program at the West Monroe arena.

Ellis Criticizes Sen. Ellender For Travels Abroad

MINDEN, La. —UP— Frank B. Ellis, candidate for the U. S. Senate, said here Saturday that Sen. Allen J. Ellender "told me in 1948 that he would not run again when his term expired."

"Some people are in office too long," said Ellis, Democratic national committeeman from Louisiana. "Some time they get in a rut and stop of peing of genuine service to their people."

Ellis charged that Ellender toured foreign lands to the neglect of his home state.

"I am unalterably opposed to sending our youth to fight and die in the jungles of Indo-China," said Ellis, who made appearances in 17 towns in six parishes as he campaigned in northwest Louisiana.

He also said he favors a strong bi-partisan foreign policy to help guide America.

1st Christians Plan Mortgage Burning Event

Members of the First Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) will have an old-fashioned mortgage burning during the Sunday morning services June 6, in celebration of the complete payment of the mortgage on their church.

The following statement was issued in connection with the event:

"Although the church was first organized in Monroe in 1906 and the congregation bought the present site and built a frame structure in 1923 it was not until 1951 that the membership erected a modern up-todate church plant at the corner of St. John and Oak Streets. This beautiful building was designed by and erected under the personal supervision of Merl Padgett, who is a member of the church.

"Upon completion of the building in 1951, a mortgage was placed upon it to run for a period of approximately ten years. At that time many members were worried about the large monthly payments and were afraid that the church would not be able to pay them in that length of time. In fact it was only after considerable figuring and discussion and with some misgivings that it had been decided to erect the new building.

"Shortly before construction of the building, R. O. Ware was elected chairman of the property and finance division. He immediately set as his primary goal the full payment of the mortgage in the least possible time. His efforts have been untiring and the entire congregation has responded splendidly to his call. Now in less than three years, the mortgage has been paid in full and in celebration thereof the church has planned the mortgage burning ceremony.

"The official board and the membership of the First Christian Church extend to all of its friends in this area a cordial invitation to be present for this service, Sunday, June 6. Church School at 9:40 a.m., Worship Service at 10:50 a.m."

Intruder Enters Service Station

Robert S. Murray, operator of Murray's Super Service Station at 1605 DeSiard, reported to police early Saturday his station had been burglarized, but nothing was taken.

According to Murray, he had received a telephone call from Willie Wright of 1816 Adams street shortly after midnight Friday. Wright told him he had just passed the service station and had seen a Negro man jump out of a window and run from the station.

Murray told police later Saturday he thought someone was attempting to play a joke on him when he received the telephone call. He didn't go to the shop until 6 a. m., when he found an east window broken, but nothing missing.

Wright later gave police a partial description of the man he had seen in the station.

Summer Reading Club Sponsored By Library

As in the past the Ouachita Parish public library will make educational reading available to all youngsters throughout the parish. This year the personnel and facilities of the library system are being utilized to bring to the youngsters books on all phases of life in other parts of the world, as well as the United States.

Miss Frances Flanders, head librarian, has announced a summer project, entitled this season "Books Around the World" reading club. Information sheets with all details on the reading club have been printed and were distributed to youngsters this past week.

Then, for those who may not have gotten the "rules of the club" additional prints are available in all branches of the public library.

This special project, as described by the head librarian, is to get the younger readers interested in "educational books" and to supplement the work of school through the broadening of knowledge in geography, and allied fields. However, to counteract the possibility of a child reading only a certain type of book, regardless of the value of this particular book, the library personnel has decided to conduct a "tour by books" of all countries of the world. By this, Miss Flanders has explained a child will take out books on the countries of Africa, then Asia or Europe. From there the "tour by books" will go to Australia or the South Pacific, and then back to the Americas, North and South America.

When the child has thus "toured the world" he will become eligible for a certificate to be issued in the fall.

The project will formally open on Monday and continue through August 15. Books read during this time will be credited to the individual child.

As explained by Miss Flanders, the child must first enroll in the project, which can be done at any of the four branches of the library. These are located at: Monroe branch, 418 Jackson Street; West Monroe branch, 106 Cypress street; Carver branch (colored), 116 North Tenth street, Monroe; or in the Bookmobile, which goes throughout the parish, outside the city limits.

If a child wishes to enroll in Monroe or West Monroe, he must go to the children's room and contact the attendant in charge. The attendant will then take the name, address, telephone number, school, age and grade of the child. If the person goes to the bookmobile or Carver branch, he or she will give this information to the assistant in charge of that particular branch.

The books will be checked out in units of five When the five books are read, the child will notify the assistant so that she may stamp the particular child's card. (If the child is in a grade from the fourth up, he must read one book with a foreign setting in each group of five. However, if he or she is not, this requirement does not apply.)

Fifteen books must be read for the child to receive a certificate. For all books over the minimum of 15, gold stars will be placed on the card for each extra group of five.

The certificates will be distributed at the various schools early in the fall.

BOOKS AROUND THE WORLD

Intruder Enters Service Station

Robert S. Murray, operator of Murray's Super Service Station at 1605 DeSiard, reported to police early Saturday his station had been burglarized, but nothing was taken.

According to Murray, he had received a telephone call from Willie Wright of 1816 Adams street shortly after midnight Friday. Wright told him he had just passed the service station and had seen a Negro man jump out of a window and run from the station.

Murray told police later Saturday he thought someone was attempting to play a joke on him when he received the telephone call. He didn't go to the shop until 6 a. m., when he found an east window broken, but nothing missing.

Wright later gave police a partial description of the man he had seen in the station.

Summer Reading Club Sponsored By Library

As in the past the Ouachita Parish public library will make educational reading available to all youngsters throughout the parish. This year the personnel and facilities of the library system are being utilized to bring to the youngsters books on all phases of life in other parts of the world, as well as the United States.

Miss Frances Flanders, head librarian, has announced a summer project, entitled this season "Books Around the World" reading club. Information sheets with all details on the reading club have been printed and were distributed to youngsters this past week.

Then, for those who may not have gotten the "rules of the club" additional prints are available in all branches of the public library.

This special project, as described by the head librarian, is to get the younger readers interested in "educational books" and to supplement the work of school through the broadening of knowledge in geography, and allied fields. However, to counteract the possibility of a child reading only a certain type of book, regardless of the value of this particular book, the library personnel has decided to conduct a "tour by books" of all countries of the world. By this, Miss Flanders has explained a child will take out books on the countries of Africa, then Asia or Europe. From there the "tour by books" will go to Australia or the South Pacific, and then back to the Americas, North and South America.

When the child has thus "toured the world" he will become eligible for a certificate to be issued in the fall.

The project will formally open on Monday and continue through August 15. Books read during this time will be credited to the individual child.

As explained by Miss Flanders, the child must first enroll in the project, which can be done at any of the four branches of the library. These are located at: Monroe branch, 418 Jackson Street; West Monroe branch, 106 Cypress street; Carver branch (colored), 116 North Tenth street, Monroe; or in the Bookmobile, which goes throughout the parish, outside the city limits.

If a child wishes to enroll in Monroe or West Monroe, he must go to the children's room and contact the attendant in charge. The attendant will then take the name, address, telephone number, school, age and grade of the child. If the person goes to the bookmobile or Carver branch, he or she will give this information to the assistant in charge of that particular branch.

The books will be checked out in units of five When the five books are read, the child will notify the assistant so that she may stamp the particular child's card. (If the child is in a grade from the fourth up, he must read one book with a foreign setting in each group of five. However, if he or she is not, this requirement does not apply.)

Fifteen books must be read for the child to receive a certificate. For all books over the minimum of 15, gold stars will be placed on the card for each extra group of five.

The certificates will be distributed at the various schools early in the fall.

Last year, Miss Flanders pointed out, over 1,000 children in the parish participated in a similar project. Of this number 800 received certificates.

IN CHILDREN'S ROOM — Joe Gonzales is being shown where Sweden is on a map in the children's room of the Ouachita Parish public library, Monroe branch. # Missionary Cadwallader Writes From Guatemala

The letter below is from Rev. C. S. Cadwallader, who with his family, has moved from Monroe to Guatemala to engage in Baptist missionary work. In his letter it is noticed that he made no mention openly or secretly concerning communism that is getting a strangle hold of government affairs there.

The letter is as follows:

May 20, 1954,
Apartado 322,
Guatemala.

"Dear Prayer Helpers and Friends: What and where is Guatemala? A world in miniature, about the size and population of Louisiana and located 1,000 miles due south of New Orleans, with 14,000-foot mountain peaks, emerald lakes, sandy deserts, windswept plateaus, tropical swamps, turbulent rivers, lush mahogany forests, steamy jungles, low bush country, tourist beaches, shallow and inviting Caribbean bays and inlets, abrupt Pacific depths, alligators, deer, mountain goat and monkeys, multi-colored parrots, apples, wheat and charcoal in the highlands, raw coffee at 85 cents per pound and ageless corn or maize, regional emblem of the ancient Mayan civilizations which lived in cliffs and buried their dead in giant pyramids.

"Yes, but Guatemala is more—it is our home now—our adopted country—our opportunity in Christ for nearly three million people (56 per cent Indian) with scarcely 50,000 counted as evangelical Christians after 75 years of mission work (Baptists have been here but eight years). Our Presbyterian friends have been on the job the longest time.

"Yes, we are here after a year in language work in Costa Rica and a short stay in the States for furniture and supplies. Oh how we do thank each one of you and each church that had part in helping us to get outfitted with the things needed. We arrived here February 12. The house we rented needed inside painting. Our furniture arrived through the customs department six weeks late. Seth and David have been busy attending the American school. They leave by bus at 7:30 and are home by 4:30. David in kindergarten goes only in the morning. School year started January 18 and will end October 20, then summer vacation! Paul David broke his leg a month ago. Ralph Aldes and Martha Faye the three and two year olds, ran away from home unaccompanied to see bears and lions in the zoo. We had taken them once before and Ralph remembered the way. We found them an hour later in answer to prayer. Our Baptist seminary here opened April sixth with courses in evangelism and church history being assigned to one green missionary C. S. (Cad). Last but not least, Dona Dora has begun to speak to the W. M. U. of the churches and will soon do part time teaching in the Seminary.

"Already Don Samuel has visited and preached in nine of the 16 churches here. These churches sponsor 170 mission stations. A trip to a church in the interior 150 miles away took only ten hours over a narrow gauge and personal experience will say that one was not too comfortable on board seats. But we do not complain for it was a joy to go to the coast and visit a two year old mission station and to preach to a brush arbor full of people and to sleep in a bamboo house with one room with fifteen others on grass mats. We wish we had 100 lives to give to the Lord Jesus in this work.

"We face some tremendous problems both in our work and in a personal way. Stand by us in your prayers. But in it all we have a peace which this world cannot give and we know that Grace that is all sufficient. So, until next time, may we hear from you all, please. Then we may know as to whether to send a second letter. Air mail is only ten cents. Missionarily yours, The C. S. Cadwallader Family."

West Monroe's 1st. Methodist Gets Assistant

A new educational director, Wayne McClain, of Selman, Tenn., will assume new duties with the West Monroe First Methodist Church as educational director and associate pastor, it is announced by the pastor, Rev. W. D. Milton.

He won laurels in high school days as member of the state championship basketball team and was voted the state's outstanding player. Later he attended Memphis State College and at this time is a student in Lambuth College in Jackson, Miss.

This fall he plans to attend Northeast State College to complete studies while he is also attending to his duties at the West Monroe church.

Mr. McClain's wife is the former Miss Mary Ann Hixson of Monroe.

Miss Mary Jane Hitchcock, educational director the past years for the church, has resigned to take up mission duties.

Red Chinese Hint Of Willingness To Ransom Captives

GENEVA, May 29—UP— U. S. diplomats here have been instructed to ignore Communist hints that they might be able to "ransom" 32 American civilian captives in China by granting a degree of recognition to the Red regime, it was reported Saturday.

Well - informed sources said the State Department believes the Communists dropped the hints only in hopes of arranging direct negotiations with the United States, which their propaganda machine could ballyhoo as U. S. recognition of the Reds.

There is considerable doubt that the Communists have any real intention of releasing their captives, who include at least two U. S. newsmen — Richard Applegate of the National Broadcasting Co. and Don Dixon of International News Service.

The informants said the State Department has instructed the U. S. delegation to the Geneva conference to leave all prisoner negotiations in the hands of the British, who recognized the Reds four years ago.

Observers here were uncertain as to how long the United States will be able to maintain its stand. Communist spokesman Huang Hua, who "planted" the ransom idea at a press conference here this week, indicated that British intercession will not secure the freedom of a single American.

The only official U. S. reaction to Huang's "feeler" was a statement noting the Red admission that they are holding the Americans and adding that the information is "woefully inadequate" and "tragically late."

"For four years, the U. S. government has made persistent efforts to obtain information about American citizens detained in China," the statement said. "Their families have made similar attempts.

"Until now, however, the Chinese Communist authorities have failed even to acknowledge the inquiries addressed to them, let alone provide the information requested."

Red Members Of Korean Armistice Commission Assailed As Partisans

WASHINGTON, May 29 —UP— The Defense Department Saturday accused Communist members of the Korean Armistice Supervisory Commission of following "obstructionist tactics to prevent disclosure and investigation of the (Red) military buildup in North Korea."

The department said that from the outset of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission, which is supposed to investigate armistice violations, it was evident that Czech and Polish members "were not neutral."

"It soon became evident that the polish and Czech members of the NNSC were following a specific line of obstructionist tactics established and set forth by the senior Communist member of the MAC (Military Armistice Commission)," the Defense Department said.

"These tactics apparently are intended to generate propaganda and intelligence opportunities for the Communists while serving as a 'cover' to prevent disclosure and investigation of the military buildup in North Korea."

The Defense Department issued the statement while releasing documents on activities of the NNSC in Korea. The move came as the Geneva Far East conference considered Communist and Allied proposals for a cease-fire in Indo-China which would include some kind of neutral supervision.

The Defense Department drew this conclusion from the documents:

"In sum, the attached establish the necessity for good faith by all parties concerned in the successful operation of an organization such as the NNSC. The conspicuous lack of good faith on the part of the Communists is clearly responsible for the inability of the NNSC to discharge the responsibilities assigned to it by the armistice agreement."

The Korean armistice set up the NNSC to investigate alleged armistice violations. The commission is composed of representatives from Switzerland and Sweden, chosen by the United Nations side, and representatives of Poland and Czechoslovakia, chosen by the Communist side.

Red Chinese Hint Of Willingness To Ransom Captives

GENEVA, May 29—UP— U. S. diplomats here have been instructed to ignore Communist hints that they might be able to "ransom" 32 American civilian captives in China by granting a degree of recognition to the Red regime, it was reported Saturday.

Well - informed sources said the State Department believes the Communists dropped the hints only in hopes of arranging direct negotiations with the United States, which their propaganda machine could ballyhoo as U. S. recognition of the Reds.

There is considerable doubt that the Communists have any real intention of releasing their captives, who include at least two U. S. newsmen — Richard Applegate of the National Broadcasting Co. and Don Dixon of International News Service.

The informants said the State Department has instructed the U. S. delegation to the Geneva conference to leave all prisoner negotiations in the hands of the British, who recognized the Reds four years ago.

Observers here were uncertain as to how long the United States will be able to maintain its stand. Communist spokesman Huang Hua, who "planted" the ransom idea at a press conference here this week, indicated that British intercession will not secure the freedom of a single American.

The only official U. S. reaction to Huang's "feeler" was a statement noting the Red admission that they are holding the Americans and adding that the information is "woefully inadequate" and "tragically late."

"For four years, the U. S. government has made persistent efforts to obtain information about American citizens detained in China," the statement said. "Their families have made similar attempts.

"Until now, however, the Chinese Communist authorities have failed even to acknowledge the inquiries addressed to them, let alone provide the information requested."

Red Members Of Korean Armistice Commission Assailed As Partisans

WASHINGTON, May 29 —UP— The Defense Department Saturday accused Communist members of the Korean Armistice Supervisory Commission of following "obstructionist tactics to prevent disclosure and investigation of the (Red) military buildup in North Korea."

The department said that from the outset of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission, which is supposed to investigate armistice violations, it was evident that Czech and Polish members "were not neutral."

"It soon became evident that the polish and Czech members of the NNSC were following a specific line of obstructionist tactics established and set forth by the senior Communist member of the MAC (Military Armistice Commission)," the Defense Department said.

"These tactics apparently are intended to generate propaganda and intelligence opportunities for the Communists while serving as a 'cover' to prevent disclosure and investigation of the military build-up in North Korea."

The Defense Department issued the statement while releasing documents on activities of the NNSC in Korea. The move came as the Geneva Far East conference considered Communist and Allied proposals for a cease-fire in Indo-China which would include some kind of neutral supervision.

The Defense Department drew this conclusion from the documents:

"In sum, the attached establish the necessity for good faith by all parties concerned in the successful operation of an organization such as the NNSC. The conspicuous lack of good faith on the part of the Communists is clearly responsible for the inability of the NNSC to discharge the responsibilities assigned to it by the armistice agreement."

The Korean armistice set up the NNSC to investigate alleged armistice violations. The commission is composed of representatives from Switzerland and Sweden, chosen by the United Nations side, and representatives of Poland and Czechoslovakia, chosen by the Communist side.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Jim Malone has been at Northeast State so long it's going to be hard to get used to following the Redskin football doings without the "Big Indian" going through his sideline struggles as he pulls for and with his boys. This transplanted Alabama athlete who became one of the finest centers ever turned out at Louisiana State, and once considered for the head coaching job at L. S. U., reached one of his hardest decisions when he decided to end his coaching career after 20 years at Northeast.

But Malone may find life more serene in the insurance business. At least the demanding public, that requires a coach to be a diplomat as well as a conditioner and trainer of athletes, won't be pressing when the victories are not coming as frequently as some think they should.

The man who inherits Malone's job at Northeast isn't going to find it an easy task. Northeast is young as a four-year school and is still striving, with limited funds, to maintain a football program against schools better fixed to field the kind of teams their public demands

So far there have been no hints as to who will accept the challenge that Northeast offers, but we understand several coaches are already under consideration.

It has been a pleasure to know the Malones—Jim, Margie, and "Boofie"—they belong to Northeast and Monroe even though they are planning to make their home in Baton Rouge. Now Malone can join the fans in the stands, but we think Jim will have a better understanding of what coaches are going through, win or lose.

They're tagged defending state champions, but the current edition of the Monroe American Legion Junior baseball team that won the Louisiana and four-state regional crowns last year bears no resemblance to Coach Woody Boyles' titled teams of the last two seasons.

Gone is the entire pitching staff—Art Swanson, Wayne Causey and Gene Barham as over-aged, Wayne Hendrix to West Monroe and Bobby Joe Dunn to Haughton; the entire infield of Freddie Frickie and Billy Hardy to over-age, and Dave "Chubby" Johnston and Gary Huckabay to West Monroe; catcher Tommy Boyles and outfielder Ike McMullen, both past the age limit. Only holdovers from the 13-man squad that went so far last year are Larry Reeves and Jeff Spence.

District Commissioner Bob McNeely had looked forward to the new season with hopes of "seeing another state champion from my district." The district had won its only state titles during the reign of McNeely during the last two years. Death claimed Bob eight days ago as he was spearheading plans for the opening of the new campaign. The district may still furnish a strong state contender, even if it should not be Monroe.

As Coach Boyles sized up the situation a year ago: "Any four teams in this district can win the state title —Monroe, Bastrop, Winsboro or Farmerville, depending on which wins the district title" Again the district looks strong with nine clubs contending and it could be a mighty close race for the Fifth District crown. Every club wants to "Win it (the state title) for Bob."

No Amusement Tax If Major 9 Moves To Dallas

DALLAS, May 29 (UP) The president of the Chamber of Commerce telegraphed President Walter F. O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers Saturday that Dallas will be glad to get the franchise of any major league baseball club that does not want to pay an amusement tax.

"The city of Dallas would welcome and, in my judgment, support major league baseball and any such club whose franchise might be transferred to this city would not be subject to any city amusements tax under existing ordinances, and, in my judgment, no such ordinance would be enacted if such a franchise were to be transferred to this city," Chamber of Commerce President Jerome K. Crossman telegraphed O'Malley.

"Down here we think in 'big league' terms and we are not inclined to levy a tax against the hen that lays the golden egg."

The telegram was prompted by reports that O'Malley is upset by a proposal to put a 5 per cent amusement tax on baseball admissions in New York.

Crossman said that though the telegram was addressed to O'Malley, he wanted to get his proposal across to any major league club that may be looking for a new home.

"I don't anticipate any move by the Brooklyn club but I want that club and all others to know that Dallas is interested in obtaining a major league franchise," he said.

Pomace Scores Win In Chicago Feature

Pomace returned $4.60, $3 and $2.60. Arab Actress paid $3.80 and $2.80 and Bugledrums $4.

Cancel Belgian Boxers Permit; Withhold Purse

BRUSSELS, May 29 (AP) The Belgian Boxing Federation today cancelled the license of former European heavyweight champion Karel Sys and confiscated two-thirds of the $6,000 purse he won in a recent bout with Cuban Nino Valdes.

Sys refused to continue the fight after six seconds of the fourth round of their May 22 fight. The federation said it took today's action because of the moral damage caused by Sys to the sport.

Sys called the decision unfair and "I will fight it by all possible means, including in court."

The Belgian said on Wednesday he was quitting boxing.

Trabert, 'Little Mo' Take French Singles Crowns

PARIS, May 29 (UP)—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati won the men's singles title in the French International tennis championships Saturday when he easily defeated Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., in straight sets, as Maureen Connolly of San Diego successfully defended her women's crown.

With a superb display of tennis, Trabert turned back Larsen, 6-4, 7-5, 6-1 as he won his first major European title in his first attempt while Miss Connolly, seeking to duplicate the sweep of all major women's championships she scored last year, downed Mrs. Ginette Bucaille of France, 6-4, 6-1.

Playing before a capacity crowd of 12,000, including field Marshall Viscount Montgomery, in the Roland-Garros Stadium, it took Trabert only an hour and 20 minutes, including a brief pause for rain in the third set, to down the rangy Californian. The southpaw Larsen never had a chance as he was unable to break through Trabert's perfectly paced game and for the first time in the tournament found himself running after balls instead of directing play.

Negro Big League Teams To Tangle In Contest Here

Twin Cities baseball fans will get an opportunity to see the potential champions of the 1954 Negro American League in action here tomorrow night when the highly touted Memphis Red Sox engage the Detroit Stars at 8 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The red - hot Sox, under new manager Buster Haywood, who formerly led the Indianapolis Clowns to four Negro American League pennants, are reputedly dead set upon bringing the pennant to Memphis' Martin Stadium this year.

Memphis is led by the power hitting of "Pee Wee" Sheelor, 23-year-old second sacker batting .341; Don Whittington, a 20-year-old with a .333 average; and the veteran Fate Sims, a hard hitting catcher; and a pair of heavy-hitting outfielders, Zeke Merrick, and Raymond Haggins.

Owner - manager Ted Rasberry of the Stars is equally confident he has welded together the kind of team it will take to win the championship and boasts a heavy hitting outfield of Herman Green, home run specialist, and Joe Montgomery and Jimmy Jenkins. Green, the "boy wonder" of the league, has already poled eleven homers this season.

The Stars also feature Pepper Bassett, the rocking chair stunt man formerly with the Birmingham Black Barons. Bassett will give an exhibition of arm-chair catching.

Marjorie Pitts Heads Summer Bowling League

MONTREAL, May 29 (AP)— Montreal of the International Baseball League today optioned left-handed pitcher Ronnie Lee to St. Paul of the American Association.

CLEVELAND, May 29. (AP)—Bob Lemon hurled a six-hit shutout and his teammates backed him up with a barrage of runs off three pitchers tonight as the Cleveland Indians beat the Detroit Tigers, 12-0. Larry Doby hit a two-run homer in the first inning, and Rudy Regalado hit a one-run homer in the seventh. It was Lemon's seventh victory against one loss.

Doby's homer plus a six-run flurry in the second inning gave Lemon a comfortable eight-run lead early in the game. Six Detroit errors added to the rout.

Three of Cleveland's 12 hits were made by the American League's leading hitter, Bob Avila, who raised his batting average to .384. Regalado, in addition to his homer, hit a double which scored a man in the eighth.

Detroit starter Ray Herbert, seeking his first victory of the year, was chased by the Indians' six - run second inning.

Today's victory was Cleveland's second in two days against Detroit and the 13th in a string of hometown triumphs. It enabled the Tribe to maintain its slim first place edge over the hard-pressing Chicago White Sox.

MILWAUKEE, May 29—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals blasted a half-dozen Milwaukee pitchers for 17 hits tonight, wrecking the Braves' 10-game winning streak with a 12-7 victory before a record crowd of 40,001 at County Stadium.

The Cards and Braves had hardly rested from a gruelling battle that started Friday night and ended in the wee hours this morning with Milwaukee winning in 12 innings, 3 to 2, a crowd of 34,146 fans sat through the three hour and 20 minute game Friday night that was held up 45 minutes at the start and again 24 minutes in the first inning by rain. Singles by Joe Adcock and Johnny Logan that scored Eddie Mathews and Jim Pendleton broke up the long tussle after St. Louis had scored once in the top of the twelfth.

Blessbull Takes Constitution Run On Suffolk Oval

BOSTON, May 29 (AP) — Blessbull raced to a new track record for one mile today in winning the $10,000 Constitution Handicap at Suffolk Downs in 1:35 2-5.

The previous best mile at Suffolk was 1:36 by Clingendaal in 1937.

Nashville Rookie Leads Southern Loop In Batting

ATLANTA, May 29 (AP)—Nashville rookie Eric Roden regained the Southern Association batting lead this week, but Atlanta's Bob Montag still is the big boy in the slugging department.

Roden's average climbed two points to .398 in games through May 26, Howe News Bureau statistics reveal. That enabled him to pull ahead of Montag, whose average dropped 25 points to .380.

Montag, however, had these marks to his credit:

Led the league in total bases with 109.

Took over the front spot in doubles with 13.

Was tied with Nashville's Bob Lennon for the homer lead with 14.

Maintained his tie with Birmingham's Herb Plews for first place in runs scored with 37.

Rookie Gene Freese of New Orleans was third in the batting parade with a .356 average and extended his league-hit hit total to 58.

Plews moved up to fourth with a .348 mark and continued to set the pace for triples with six. Lennon increased his average by 22 points to .345 and moved into fifth spot.

Len Johnson of Memphis, another rookie, added two stolen bases to his collection, increasing his league-leading mark to 11.

Keith Speck of Brimingham still paced the pitchers with a 5-0 record. Atlanta's Leo Cristante had a 9-1 mark and was the only pitcher in the loop who has gone all the way in seven games.

New Orleans' Bob Schultz led the strikeout artists with 57 to his credit, but he also had issued the most walks—41.

Santee Breaks American Mile Run At 4:01.3

KANSAS CITY, Kan., May 29 (AP)—Wes Santee, Kansas University's great distance runner, set a new American outdoor mile record of 4:01.3 tonight as he made an all-out effort to break the 4-minute barrier in the Missouri Valley A. A. U. track meet.

The stringbean Kansas senior not only bettered his American record of 4:02.4 set last year, but ran the second fastest mile ever recorded.

Only the 3:59.4 by England's Roger Bannister earlier this month was better than Santee's time. He was a tenth of a second faster than the former record of 4:01.4 set by Gunder Haegg in 1945.

Santee has completed his collegiate campaigning and will run in the Compton Relays June 4 and the Pacific A. A. U. the following night.

Monroe Negroes Play Bastrop Team Today

Monroe's Pepsi-Cola Trojans, Negro baseball club, meets the Bastrop Eagles here this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium.

It will be the second game of the season for Manager Gregory Hobson's Pepsi team which lost its opener to "Satchel" Paige and the Harlem Globetrotters.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Jim Malone has been at Northeast State so long it's going to be hard to get used to following the Redskin football doings without the "Big Indian" going through his sideline struggles as he pulls for and with his boys. This transplanted Alabama athlete who became one of the finest centers ever turned out at Louisiana State, and once considered for the head coaching job at L. S. U., reached one of his hardest decisions when he decided to end his coaching career after 20 years at Northeast.

But Malone may find life more serene in the insurance business. At least the demanding public, that requires a coach to be a diplomat as well as a conditioner and trainer of athletes, won't be pressing when the victories are not coming as frequently as some think they should.

The man who inherits Malone's job at Northeast isn't going to find it an easy task Northeast is young as a four-year school and is still striving, with limited funds, to maintain a football program against schools better fixed to field the kind of teams their public demands

So far there have been no hints as to who will accept the challenge that Northeast offers, but we understand several coaches are already under consideration.

It has been a pleasure to know the Malones—Jim, Margie, and "Boofie"—they belong to Northeast and Monroe even though they are planning to make their home in Baton Rouge. Now Malone can join the fans in the stands, but we think Jim will have a better understanding of what coaches are going through, win or lose.

They're tagged defending state champions, but the current edition of the Monroe American Legion Junior baseball team that won the Louisiana and four-state regional crowns last year bears no resemblance to Coach Woody Boyles' titled teams of the last two seasons.

Gone is the entire pitching staff—Art Swanson, Wayne Causey and Gene Barham as over-aged, Wayne Hendrix to West Monroe and Bobby Joe Dunn to Haughton; the entire infield of Freddie Frickie and Billy Hardy to over-age, and Dave "Chubby" Johnston and Gary Huckabay to West Monroe; catcher Tommy Boyles and outfielder Ike McMullen, both past the age limit. Only holdovers from the 13-man squad that went so far last year are Larry Reeves and Jeff Spence.

District Commissioner Bob McNeely had looked forward to the new season with hopes of "seeing another state champion from my district." The district had won its only state titles during the reign of McNeely during the last two years. Death claimed Bob eight days ago as he was spearheading plans for the opening of the new campaign. The district may still furnish a strong state contender, even if it should not be Monroe.

As Coach Boyles sized up the situation a year ago: "Any four teams in this district can win the state title—Monroe, Bastrop, Winsboro or Farmerville, depending on which wins the district title" Again the district looks strong with nine clubs contending and it could be a mighty close race for the Fifth District crown. Every club wants to "Win it (the state title) for Bob."

No Amusement Tax If Major 9 Moves To Dallas

DALLAS, May 29 —UP— The president of the Chamber of Commerce telegraphed President Walter F. O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers Saturday that Dallas will be glad to get the franchise of any major league baseball club that does not want to pay an amusement tax.

"The city of Dallas would welcome and, in my judgment, support major league baseball and any such club whose franchise might be transferred to this city would not be subject to any city amusements tax under existing ordinances, and, in my judgment, no such ordinance would be enacted if such a franchise were to be transferred to this city." Chamber of Commerce President Jerome K. Crossman telegraphed O'Malley.

"Down here we think in 'big league' terms and we are not inclined to levy a tax against the hen that lays the golden egg."

The telegram was prompted by reports that O'Malley is upset by a proposal to put a 5 per cent amusement tax on baseball admissions in New York.

Crossman said that though the telegram was addressed to O'Malley, he wanted to get his proposal across to any major league club that may be looking for a new home.

"I don't anticipate any move by the Brooklyn club but I want that club and all others to know that Dallas is interested in obtaining a major league franchise," he said.

Pomace Scores Win In Chicago Feature

Cancel Belgian Boxers Permit; Withhold Purse

BRUSSELS, May 29 (AP)—The Belgian Boxing Federation today cancelled the license of former European heavyweight champion Karel Sys and confiscated two-thirds of the $6,000 purse he won in a recent bout with Cuban Nino Valdes.

Sys refused to continue the fight after six seconds of the fourth round of their May 22 fight. The federation said it took today's action because of the moral damage caused by Sys to the sport.

Sys called the decision unfair and "I will figh it by all possible means, including in court."

The Belgian said on Wednesday he was quitting boxing.

Trabert, 'Little Mo' Take French Singles Crowns

PARIS, May 29—UP—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati won the men's singles title in the French International tennis championships Saturday when he easily defeated Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., in straight sets, as Maureen Connolly of San Diego successfully defended her women's crown.

With a superb display of tennis, Trabert turned back Larsen, 6-4, 7-5, 6-1 as he won his first major European title in his first attempt while Miss Connolly, seeking to duplicate the sweep of all major women's championships she scored last year, downed Mrs. Ginette Bucaille of France, 6-4, 6-1.

Playing before a capacity crowd of 12,000, including field Marshall Viscount Montgomery, in the Roland-Garros Stadium, it took Trabert only an hour and 20 minutes, including a brief pause for rain in the third set, to down the rangy Californian. The southpaw Larsen never had a chance as he was unable to break through Trabert's perfectly paced game and for the first time in the tournament found himself running after balls instead of directing play.

Twin Cities Even Greenville Series, 6-5

GREENVILLE, Miss., May 29 (AP)—Monroe scored five runs in the top of the fifth inning and then held off late rallies to defeat Greenville 6-5 in a Cotton States League game tonight.

Greenville narrowed the lead in the seventh when Banks McDowell doubled to drive in Al Benza and Owen Dougherty. Greenville added another run in the ninth on consecutive doubles by Hal Martin and Frank Shell.

McWilliams, who started for Monroe, received credit for the win. John Venable, the first of three Greenville hurlers, took the loss.

Negro Big League Teams To Tangle In Contest Here

Twin Cities baseball fans will get an opportunity to see the potential champions of the 1954 Negro American League in action here tomorrow night when the highly touted Memphis Red Sox engage the Detroit Stars at 8 o'clock at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The red - hot Sox, under new manager Buster Haywood, who formerly led the Indianapolis Clowns to four Negro American League pennants, are reputedly dead set upon bringing the pennant to Memphis' Martin Stadium this year.

Memphis is led by the power hitting of "Pee Wee" Sheelor, 23-year-old second sacker batting .341; Don Whittington, a 20-year-old with a .333 average; and the veteran Fate Sims, a hard hitting catcher; and a pair of heavy-hitting outfielders, Zeke Merrick, and Raymond Haggins.

Owner - manager Ted Rasberry of the Stars is equally confident he has welded together the kind of team it will take to win the championship, and boasts a heavy hitting outfield of Herman Green home run specialist, and Joe Montgomery and Jimmy Jenkins. Green the "boy wonder" of the league, has already poled eleven homers this season.

The Stars also feature Pepper Bassett, the rocking chair stunt man formerly with the Birmingham Black Barons. Bassett will give an exhibition of arm-chair catching.

Marjorie Pitts Heads Summer Bowling League

Marjorie Pitts has been elected president of the second of the mixed summer bowling leagues organized here for vacation-time kegling at the Monroe Bowling Center.

Bill Dyer was elected vice president, and H. N. "Casey" Jones was named publicity director.

Jones last night said the league for men and women will begin play as team No. 1, 2, 3 etc. until sponsors are secured.

MONTREAL, May 29. (AP)— Montreal of the International Baseball League today optioned left-handed pitcher Ronnie Lee to St. Paul of the American Association.

Larry Doby hit a two-run homer in the first inning, and Rudy Regalado hit a one-run homer in the seventh. It was Lemon's seventh victory against one loss.

Doby's homer plus a six-run flurry in the second inning gave Lemon a comfortable eight-run lead early in the game. Six Detroit errors added to the rout.

Three of Cleveland's 12 hits were made by the American League's leading hitter, Bob Avila, who raised his batting average to .384. Regalado, in addition to his homer, hit a double which scored a man in the eighth.

Detroit starter Ray Herbert, seeking his first victory of the year, was chased by the Indians' six - run second inning.

MILWAUKEE, May 29—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals blasted a half-dozen Milwaukee pitchers for 17 hits tonight, wrecking the Braves' 10-game winning streak with a 12-7 victory before a record crowd of 40,001 at County Stadium.

The Cards and Braves had hardly rested from a gruelling battle that started Friday night and ended in the wee hours this morning with Milwaukee winning in 12 innings, 3 to 2. a crowd of 34,146 fans sat through the three hour and 20 minute game Friday night that was held up 45 minutes at the start and again 24 minutes in the first inning by rain. Singles by Joe Adcock and Johnny Logan that scored Eddie Mathews and Jim Pendleton broke up the long tussle after St. Louis had scored once in the top of the twelfth.

Montag, however, had these marks to his credit:

Was tied with Nashville's Bob Lennon for the homer lead with 14.

Rookie Gene Freese of New Orleans was third in the batting parade with a .356 average and extended his league-hit hit total to 58.

Plews moved up to fourth with a .348 mark and continued to set the pace for triples with six. Lennon increased his average by 22 points to .345 and moved into fifth spot.

Len Johnson of Memphis, another rookie, added two stolen bases to his collection, increasing his league-leading mark to 11.

Keith Speck of Brimingham still paced the pitchers with a 5-0 record. Atlanta's Leo Cristante had a 9-1 mark and was the only pitcher in the loop who has gone all the way in seven games.

New Orleans' Bob Schultz led the strikeout artists with 57 to his credit, but he also had issued the most walks—41.

Santee Breaks American Mile Run At 4:01.3

KANSAS CITY, Kan., May 29 (AP)—Wes Santee, Kansas University's great distance runner, set a new American outdoor mile record of 4:01.3 tonight as he made an all-out effort to break the 4-minute barrier in the Missouri Valley A. A. U. track meet.

The stringbean Kansas senior not only bettered his American record of 4:02.4 set last year, but ran the second fastest mile ever recorded.

Only the 3:59.4 by England's Roger Bannister earlier this month was better than Santee's time. He was a tenth of a second faster than the former record of 4:01.4 set by Gunder Haegg in 1945.

Santee has completed his collegiate campaigning and will run in the Compton Relays June 4 and the Pacific A. A. U. the following night.

2-Run Reese Homer Ends Nine-Game Giant Streak

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP) — Pee Wee Reese's two-run homer in the ninth ended the New York Giants' six-game winning streak today as Carl Erskine allowed only five hits in a 4-2 Brooklyn victory.

The Giants put the heat on Erskine in the ninth when Whitey Lockman and Ken Mueller singled, but Willie Mays struck out to end the game.

Erskine held the Giants hitless until Mays hits his 12th homer against the left field scoreboard with one out in the fifth to tie the score. The Dodgers had scored a run in the second when Sal Maglie walked Pee Wee Reese with the bases loaded on two walks and Junior Gilliam's infield single.

After Gil Hodges put Brooklyn back on top with his 11th homer in the sixth, the Giants tied it again in their half of the inning on Al Dark's fourth home run.

The third Giant hit was a double by Billy Gardner with one out in the eighth.

It was the first time Brooklyn had beaten Maglie, their old jinx, since he lost to Erskine last Aug. 11. Maglie held two decisions over Brooklyn this season and holds a 20-7 lifetime edge.

Miceli, Andrews Battle To Draw For Video Fans

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29 (AP)—Joe Miceli of New York and Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., tonight fought to a hard-punching draw that gave a national television audience its first taste of round-by-round scoring announcements from the officials.

Andrews weighed 150¼, Miceli 152½.

Andrews rallied with a bulling body attack and brought the fight even at the end of four.

Both corners apparently heeded the announced scores, and both fighters circled the middle of the ring most of the fifth round.

The fight seesawed with Miceli holding a slight edge that brought a chorus of boos on the announced decision. Judge Tony Coppi scored it Miceli 95, Andrews 93. Judge Dan Smith scored it 95-95 even, and referee Tony Zale gave Andrews 97, Miceli 96 on the must-10 system.

Apprentice rider George Taniguchi, seeking his third victory of the afternoon, brought First Baby up at the head of the stretch and took out after the pace setter. First Baby, a 6-year-old mare, couldn't make it, however, and missed by nearly two lengths.

Hollywood's big holiday feature Monday lists 11 as entries in the $25,000 added Argonaut Handicap at one mile.

Named today were Imbros, Fleet Bird, High Scud, Stranglehold, Kingly, Golden Abbey, Correspondent, Six Fifteen, Laughlin Louie, Don Rebelde and Curragh King.

Joe Conrad Cops Second Straight Southern Crown

MEMPHIS, May 29 (AP) — Texas redhead Joe Conrad today became the first golfer in 40 years to win two consecutive Southern Amateur championships, beating Jimmy Wittenberg 3 and 2.

Wittenberg, a 31-year-old Memphis auto salesman, whose careful, unspectacular play won the Tennessee Amateur in 1947, took an early and surprisingly strong lead. But he lost control of his irons and faltered under pressure.

Conrad, a Lackland Air Force Base Lieutenant who hails from San Antonio, trailed two down after 18 but he pulled even on the 20th hole and went ahead to stay on the 26th.

It was the first time a champion had successfully defended a Southern Amateur crown since Nelson Whitney of New Orleans won the 1913-1914 tournaments.

The little Texas closed Wittenberg out on the par three 34th hole with a halve. On the edge of the carpet off the tee, he nudged his first putt three feet past the pin, then tapped it in for a par. Wittenberg dropped his tee shot on the green, 20 feet from the hole, and putted for a conceded par.

Ben Hogan Goes Out Of Tourney By Virus Attack

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 29 (AP)—A couple of golf's old-timers, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, making his nineteenth and last tour, and Byron Nelson, the Texan who retired from regular tournament competition eight years ago but still plays in a select few, shot their way into the lead today in the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation at the 54-hole mark with 210.

It was a round that saw the great Ben Hogan suttled to the sidelines by a virus attack and his protege, Gardner Dickinson, proclaiming that he was "bearing down for Hogan," shooting a four-under-par 66 to slam into contention for the first money.

It was a day of disaster for the young man from Melbourne, Australia — Peter Thomson — who had led the tournament through 36 holes. Thomson skied to a 77 and fell down the list with 214.

Harrison shot a 68 today to shove into the lead. Then Nelson, the man who back in the mid-forties was golf's greatest name, moved in with a 69 to tie the fellow he played against so long.

Tightly bunched in third place were three professionals and the brilliant amateur, Harvie Ward, San Francisco. Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N.C., laid down a 69; Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., had the same, and Mike Souchak, Durham, N.C., who was in second place yesterday with 139, soared to a 72 as these three deadlocked with Ward. A 71-shooter, for third place at 211.

Dickinson furnished most of the color of the day. His boss, Hogan, the National Open champion and favorite to win the Colonial tournament, was lying ill at home and unable to play. So Gardner , who confessed that his new wife (he was married only May 1) had "eaten me out for my poor putting" and goaded him into action, used his wife's putter to shoot one of the lowest rounds in the tournament's history. It was just one stroke over the course record held by Hogan.

Dickinson, assistant pro to Hogan at Palm Springs, Calif., said he "just had to shoot this round to repay Ben for what he has done for me."

Pet Bully Shades Repetoire To Win Wilmington 'Cap

WILMINGTON, Del., May 29 (AP) Mrs. Ada L. Rice's topweighted Pet Bully rallied from far back today to capture the $12,950 Wilmington Handicap as Delaware Park opened a 32-day thoroughbred race meeting before 19,517 fans.

Under 126 pounds, which included popular jockey Willie Hartack, the Chicago-owned six-year-old took the $9,225 first money by three-quarters of a length. Repetoire, representing Stanley C. Mikell of Dover, Del., was second by a length over Alfred Roberts' Eatontown.

Pet Bully, chalking up his fourth straight triumph, was a $4.60 for $2 favorite in the field of nine and his time of 1:10 2-5 tied the stake's record set a year ago by Eatontown.

The biggest opening day crowd at Delaware Park prior to today was the 13,650 of the Saturday inaugural in 1948. The wagering mark for an opening — $924,958 in 1946—also fell, with a handle of $1,005,198 on today's events.

Pet Bully also has been entered in Monday's $20,000 added, mile and a sixteenth Brandywine Handicap. It remains to be seen whether he will attempt to duplicate the 1949 feat of Royal Governor, who won both stakes within three days.

Bastrop Juniors Nip Farmerville, Ruston Combines

BASTROP, La., May 29. (Special)—The Bastrop American Legoin Juniors won their first two starts in Fifth District play by stopping Farmerville yesterday, 2-0, and defeating Ruston today, 9-4, as they point for a Monday meeting at Monroe with the renovated defending state champions.

Bill Loftin, with a pair of doubles, and Bill Carter, with two singles, led an eight - hit attack for Bastrop against Ruston today while Bob Loftin was holding the Lincoln Parish boys to five hits.

Bastrop beat Ruston with a big six-run third inning in which singles by Stormet and Carter, a double by Bill Loftin, four bases on balls and an error figured in the scoring.

Pilcher and Nelson shared the pitching for Ruston with Colvin catching. Bill Loftin caught for Bastrop.

The Bastrop - Farmerville game Friday was a pitchers' battle all the way, but Bastrop jumped into the lead with two runs in the first inning when Bob Loftin's timely hit scored Stormet and Peek, who had walked.

Farmerville's Smith held Bastrop to three hits while Terry Murry hurled a four - hitter for the Morehouse boys. Till caught Smith. Bill Loftin was Murry's catcher.

STRING SNAPPED

BOSTON, May 29 (AP) —The Boston Red Sox' five-run third inning last night snapped a string of 21 consecutive shutout innings by Allie Reynolds, the New York Yankees' ace righthander. Bob Grim, who replaced Reynolds in the sixth, was the winner as the Yanks won 10-9.

Monroe Legion Juniors Edge Farmerville, 12-11

The Gay Buccaneers American Legion Juniors of Monroe, snapping back from their 10-inning 13-8 loss to Jonesboro Friday night, defeated Farmerville yesterday afternoon, 12-11 to notch their first victory as they started defense of the state championship in district league play.

The lead changed hands four times in the seven-inning contest, but Coach "Woody" Boyles' Monroe club sewed up the game with seven runs in the last two innings and shut off a Farmerville rally at two in the last frame.

Farmerville's Booth, third baseman, was the most dangerous batter of the game, getting four singles and a triple, stealing two bases, scoring four runs, and batting in four more.

Tom Causey, Johnny Maroney, and Earnest Carter led the Gay Clothing-sponsored Monroe club with three hits each. One of Maroney's blows was a triple, and Carter showed a double. Carter had only three official trips to the plate.

The 14-year-old kid, Carter, was outstanding for the Boyles' crew as pitcher and batter. In addition to his three-for-three, Carter pitched the first six innings, allowing nine hits. Farmerville got three more hits in the two-run seventh off Altick after Boyles had pulled Carter.

"I'm not going to pitch these young kids too much this early," Boyles declared in explaining the switch, a chore the Monroe coach tackled in withdrawing Terry Reeves after six innings of two-hit ball against Jonesboro Friday night.

Wheeler, Redden, and Roberson shared the pitching for Farmerville.

Pro Golfers Name Leacox To Direct Tournaments

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 29. (AP)—A schedule director who will have a free hand in arranging the national golf tournament tour of the P. G. A. was announced today.

He is Bob Leacox, Kansas City business man, who will serve without pay.

Cary Middlecoff, retiring chairman of the tournament committee of the P. G. A. made the announcement, explaining that it was being done so there could be a central authority to arrange the tournaments.

"The way we have been operating, the president of the P. G. A. will be setting a date, the secretary another and the committee chairman another," Middlecoff declared.

Leacox is a member of the national advisory council of the P. G. A. and also is chairman of the sponsors committee that will put on a big golf tournament at Washington in September.

Middlecoff said the new arrangement should work well "because for the first time we have a business man handling the P. G. A.'s business."

Members of the tournament committee are Middlecoff, Jack Burke, Doug Ford and Jerry Barber representing the players; Jackson Bradley, member at large; Horton Smith, president of the P. G. A., and Harry Mosfett, secretary of the P. G. A.

Middlecoff said the current schedule was badly arranged — that there was no use of having a schedule that forced the golfers to travel 9,000 miles for five tournaments.

There is an organization known as the Winter Sponsors Association, headed by M. P. Wilson, San Antonio. It was formed in protest against the P. G. A.'s control of the tournaments and set its own schedule. In February, the Winter Sponsors met and reached an agreement with the P. G. A. on 10 tournaments for the winter tour. Contracts were signed for these tournaments, Wilson said.

How Leacox will deal with the Winter Sponsors Association, in the event that organization wants to set its own schedule, was explained by Leacox like this: "I plained by Leacox like this: "I will set a schedule and attempt to reach an agreement with the winter sponsors. If I can not, then there just won't be a tournament. They can't have a tournament without players."

2-Run Reese Homer Ends Nine-Game Giant Streak

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP) — Pee Wee Reese's two-run homer in the ninth ended the New York Giants' six-game winning streak today as Carl Erskine allowed only five hits in a 4-2 Brooklyn victory.

The Giants put the heat on Erskine in the ninth when Whitey Lockman and Ken Mueller singled, but Willie Mays struck out to end the game.

Erskine held the Giants hitless until Mays hits his 12th homer against the left field scoreboard with one out in the fifth to tie the score. The Dodgers had scored a run in the second when Sal Maglie walked Pee Wee Reese with the bases loaded on two walks and Junior Gilliam's infield single.

After Gil Hodges put Brooklyn back on top with his 11th homer in the sixth, the Giants tied it again in their half of the inning on Al Dark's fourth home run.

The third Giant hit was a double by Billy Gardner with one out in the eighth.

It was the first time Brooklyn had beaten Maglie, their old jinx, since he lost to Erskine last Aug. 11. Maglie held two decisions over Brooklyn this season and holds a 20-7 lifetime edge.

Joe Conrad Cops Second Straight Southern Crown

MEMPHIS, May 29 (AP) — Texas redhead Joe Conrad today became the first golfer in 40 years to win two consecutive Southern Amateur championships, beating Jimmy Wittenberg 3 and 2.

Wittenberg, a 31-year-old Memphis auto salesman, whose careful, unspectacular play won the Tennessee Amateur in 1947, took an early and surprisingly strong lead. But he lost control of his irons and faltered under pressure.

Conrad, a Lackland Air Force Base Lieutenant who hails from San Antonio, trailed two down after 18 but he pulled even on the 20th hole and went ahead to stay on the 26th.

It was the first time a champion had successfully defended a Southern Amateur crown since Nelson Whitney of New Orleans won the 1913-1914 tournaments.

The little Texas closed Wittenberg out on the par three 34th hole with a halve. On the edge of the carpet off the tee, he nudged his first putt three feet past the pin, then tapped it in for a par. Wittenberg dropped his tee shot on the green, 20 feet from the hole, and putted for a conceded par.

Miceli, Andrews Battle To Draw For Video Fans

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29 (AP)—Joe Miceli of New York and Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., tonight fought to a hard-punching draw that gave a national television audience its first taste of round-by-round scoring announcements from the officials.

Andrews weighed 150¼, Miceli 152½.

Andrews rallied with a bulling body attack and brought the fight even at the end of four.

Both corners apparently heeded the announced scores, and both fighters circled the middle of the ring most of the fifth round.

The fight seesawed with Miceli holding a slight edge that brought a chorus of boos on the announced decision. Judge Tony Coppi scored it Miceli 95, Andrews 93. Judge Dan Smith scored it 95-95 even, and referee Tony Zale gave Andrews 97, Miceli 96 on the must-10 system.

Is Proud Turns In Record Dash For Ramona Run

INGLEWOOD, Calif., May 29. (AP)—Holding off a stretch challenge by the favored First Baby, Is Proud came on to win the $28,200 Ramona Handicap today and set a new record for the six furlong distance.

Racing before 48,500 fans, Is Proud, owned by the Circle "M" farm and ridden by jockey Ray York, turned the six furlongs in 1.09 flat, breaking the mark of 1.09 1-5 set by Special Touch in 1950.

First Baby beat out Vickie Blue for the second spot, and Royal Grace was fourth in the field of 10 mares and fillies.

Is Proud, winning a net of $15,900, paid $17.90, $6.50 and $4.80; First Baby $3.40 and $2.90, and Vickie Blue $4.10.

Is Proud, Racing on the coast for the first time in her four years on the turf, took a quick lead and held it. At the far turn she was almost two lengths in front of the well - regarded Alibhai Lynn, with First Baby hanging back in the third spot.

Apprentice rider George Taniguchi, seeking his third victory of the afternoon, brought First Baby up at the head of the stretch and took out after the pace setter. First Baby, a 6-year-old mare, couldn't make it, however, and missed by nearly two lengths.

Hollywood's big holiday feature Monday lists 11 as entries in the $25,000 added Argonaut Handicap at one mile.

Named today were Imbros, Fleet Bird, High Scud, Stranglehold, Kingly, Golden Abbey, Correspondent, Six Fifteen, Laughlin Louie, Don Rebelde and Curragh King.

Ben Hogan Goes Out Of Tourney By Virus Attack

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 29 (AP)—A couple of golf's old-timers, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, making his nineteenth and last tour, and Byron Nelson, the Texan who retired from regular tournament competition eight years ago but still plays in a select few, shot their way into the lead today in the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation at the 54-hole mark with 210.

It was a round that saw the great Ben Hogan suttled to the sidelines by a virus attack and his protege, Gardner Dickinson, proclaiming that he was "bearing down for Hogan," shooting a four-under-par 66 to slam into contention for the first money.

It was a day of disaster for the young man from Melbourne, Australia — Peter Thomson — who had led the tournament through 36 holes. Thomson skied to a 77 and fell down the list with 214.

Harrison shot a 68 today to shove into the lead. Then Nelson, the man who back in the mid-forties was golf's greatest name, moved in with a 69 to tie the fellow he played against so long.

Tightly bunched in third place were three professionals and the brilliant amateur, Harvie Ward, San Francisco. Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N.C., laid down a 69; Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., had the same, and Mike Souchak, Durham, N.C., who was in second place yesterday with 139, soared to a 72 as these three deadlocked with Ward. A 71-shooter, for third place at 211.

Dickinson furnished most of the color of the day. His boss, Hogan, the National Open champion and favorite to win the Colonial tournament, was lying ill at home and unable to play. So Gardner, who confessed that his new wife (he was married only May 1) had "eaten me out for my poor putting" and goaded him into action, used his wife's putter to shoot one of the lowest rounds in the tournament's history. It was just one stroke over the course record held by Hogan.

Dickinson, assistant pro to Hogan at Palm Springs, Calif., said he "just had to shoot this round to repay Ben for what he has done for me."

The leaders:

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, St. Louis, 71-70-69—210.

Byron Nelson, Roanoke, Tex., 67-74-69—210

Pet Bully Shades Repetoire To Win Wilmington 'Cap

WILMINGTON, Del., May 29 (AP) Mrs. Ada L. Rice's topweighted Pet Bully rallied from far back today to capture the $12,950 Wilmington Handicap as Delaware Park opened a 32-day thoroughbred race meeting before 19,517 fans.

Under 126 pounds, which included popular jockey Willie Hartack, the Chicago-owned six-year-old took the $9,225 first money by three-quarters of a length. Repetoire, representing Stanley C. Mikell of Dover, Del., was second by a length over Alfred Roberts' Eatontown.

Pet Bully, chalking up his fourth straight triumph, was a $4.60 for $2 favorite in the field of nine and his time of 1:10 2-5 tied the stake's record set a year ago by Eatontown.

The biggest opening day crowd at Delaware Park prior to today was the 13,650 of the Saturday inaugural in 1948. The wagering mark for an opening — $924,958, in 1946—also fell, with a handle of $1,005,198 on today's events.

Pet Bully also has been entered in Monday's $20,000 added, mile and a sixteenth Brandywine Handicap. It remains to be seen whether he will attempt to duplicate the 1949 feat of Royal Governor, who won both stakes within three days.

Bastrop Juniors Nip Farmerville, Ruston Combines

BASTROP, La., May 29. (Special)—The Bastrop American Legoin Juniors won their first two starts in Fifth District play by stopping Farmerville yesterday, 2-0, and defeating Ruston today, 9-4, as they point for a Monday meeting at Monroe with the renovated defending state champions.

Bill Loftin, with a pair of doubles, and Bill Carter, with two singles, led an eight - hit attack for Bastrop against Ruston today while Bob Loftin was holding the Lincoln Parish boys to five hits.

Bastrop beat Ruston with a big six-run third inning in which singles by Stormet and Carter, a double by Bill Loftin, four bases on balls and an error figured in the scoring.

Pilcher and Nelson shared the pitching for Ruston with Colvin catching. Bill Loftin caught for Bastrop.

The Bastrop - Farmerville game Friday was a pitchers' battle all the way, but Bastrop jumped into the lead with two runs in the first inning when Bob Loftin's timely hit scored Stormet and Peek, who had walked.

Farmerville's Smith held Bastrop to three hits while Terry Murry hurled a four - hitter for the Morehouse boys. Till caught Smith. Bill Loftin was Murry's catcher.

Dodd Will Coach East In Shrine Football Battle

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29. (AP)—Robert L. (Bobby) Dodd of Georgia Tech, one of the standout football coaches of the nation, will serve as a member of the East coaching staff for the 30th annual Shrine East - West game here Jan. 1, 1955.

His appointment was announced today by William M. Coffman, managing director of the charity classic played for the Shriners Crippled Children's Hospital here.

Dodd will be the first Southeastern Conference mentor to participate here. He will serve with Dr. Edward N. Anderson of Holy Cross, head coach, and assistant Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan.

In nine years as head coach at Georgia Tech, Dodd has produced five bowl teams, all winners. Tech's 31-game winning streak extending over four seasons was shattered by Notre Dame last fall. His teams have won 74 games, lost 23 and tied two.

STRING SNAPPED

BOSTON, May 29 (AP) —The Boston Red Sox' five-run third inning last night snapped a string of 21 consecutive shutout innings by Allie Reynolds, the New York Yankees' ace righthander. Bob Grim, who replaced Reynolds in the sixth, was the winner as the Yanks won 10-9.

Monroe Legion Juniors Edge Farmerville, 12-11

The Gay Buccaneers American Legion Juniors of Monroe, snapping back from their 10-inning 13-8 loss to Jonesboro Friday night, defeated Farmerville yesterday afternoon, 12-11 to notch their first victory as they started defense of the state championship in district league play.

The lead changed hands four times in the seven-inning contest, but Coach "Woody" Boyles' Monroe club sewed up the game with seven runs in the last two innings and shut off a Farmerville rally at two in the last frame.

Farmerville's Booth, third baseman, was the most dangerous batter of the game, getting four singles and a triple, stealing two bases, scoring four runs, and batting in four more.

Tom Causey, Johnny Maroney, and Earnest Carter led the Gay Clothing-sponsored Monroe club with three hits each. One of Maroney's blows was a triple, and Carter showed a double. Carter had only three official trips to the plate.

The 14-year-old kid, Carter, was outstanding for the Boyles' crew as pitcher and batter. In addition to his three-for-three, Carter pitched the first six innings, allowing nine hits. Farmerville got three more hits in the two-run seventh off Altick after Boyles had pulled Carter.

"I'm not going to pitch these young kids too much this early," Boyles declared in explaining the switch, a chore the Monroe coach tackled in withdrawing Terry Reeves after six innings of two-hit ball against Jonesboro Friday night.

Wheeler, Redden, and Roberson shared the pitching for Farmerville.

Pro Golfers Name Leacox To Direct Tournaments

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 29. (AP)—A schedule director who will have a free hand in arranging the national golf tournament tour of the P. G. A. was announced today.

He is Bob Leacox, Kansas City business man, who will serve without pay.

Cary Middlecoff, retiring chairman of the tournament committee of the P. G. A. made the announcement, explaining that it was being done so there could be a central authority to arrange the tournaments.

"The way we have been operating, the president of the P. G. A. will be setting a date, the secretary another and the committee chairman another," Middlecoff declared.

Leacox is a member of the national advisory council of the P. G. A. and also is chairman of the sponsors committee that will put on a big golf tournament at Washington in September.

Middlecoff said the new arrangement should work well "because for the first time we have a business man handling the P. G. A.'s business."

Members of the tournament committee are Middlecoff, Jack Burke, Doug Ford and Jerry Barber representing the players; Jackson Bradley, member at large; Horton Smith, president of the P. G. A., and Harry Mosfett, secretary of the P. G. A.

Middlecoff said the current schedule was badly arranged — that there was no use of having a schedule that forced the golfers to travel 9,000 miles for five tournaments.

There is an organization known as the Winter Sponsors Association, headed by M. P. Wilson, San Antonio. It was formed in protest against the P. G. A.'s control of the tournaments and set its own schedule. In February, the Winter Sponsors met and reached an agreement with the P. G. A. on 10 tournaments for the winter tour. Contracts were signed for these tournaments, Wilson said.

How Leacox will deal with the Winter Sponsors Association, in the event that organization wants to set its own schedule, was explained by Leacox like this: "I plained by Leacox like this: "I will set a schedule and attempt to reach an agreement with the winter sponsors. If I can not, then there just won't be a tournament. They can't have a tournament without players."

Jack McGrath Favored To Win Indianapolis '500'

Fast Field Ready For Big Speedway Classic Tomorrow

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29 (AP) — Three former winners and four former AAA national racing champions will chase a driver who has never won either title in the 38th annual 500-mile auto race Monday at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Jack McGrath, a lean and determined professional with the fastest car in the field, will start in the pole position from which Bill Vukovich ran off with last year's race.

The 34-year-old Los Angeles veteran has missed in six previous attempts to win top money in the Indianapolis pot, expected to exceed $250,000 this year. He has been an early leader twice, but he was slowed once by a leg cramp and once by a slipping clutch.

He established himself as the man to beat this year by setting a 10-mile qualifying record of 141.033 miles an hour in a new Kurtis-Kraft racer owned by J. B. Hinkle of Wichita, Kan. He finished fifth last year and was one of only six drivers who didn't call for relief in the intense heat.

A poll of 27 drivers showed 10 believed McGrath would win.

The drivers made Vukovich second choice, although the fierce little competitor from Fresno, Calif., will have to start in 19th place because of a late qualification run.

Pari-mutuel betting is illegal in Indiana and there are no official odds. If there were a tote board, the Bardahl tem entry of Ed Walsh Jr., of St. Louis probably would carry the shortest odds.

The Bardahl Specials, only three-car entry to qualify, will be driven by Sam Tanks, Burbank, Calif., 1953 AAA national champion; Jim Rathmann, Miami, second in the 1952 Indianapolis race, and Art Cross, La Porte, Ind., second last year.

Former national champs in the lineup besides Hanks and Johnnie Parsons are Chuck Stevenson, Garden Grove, Calif., and Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill.

Troy Ruttman of Salem, Ind., youngest driver ever to win the 500, is still the youngest in the field two years later. He is 24, four months younger than Jimmy Reece of Oklahoma City.

Rutman's race record of 128.92 miles an hour is almost certain to be rubbed out unless wrecks or showers slow the pace. The 33 cars averaged 138.63 in the time trials.

The Speedway never discloses its ticket sales but the crowd in recent years has been estimated at 200,000 and more. The guaranteed purse of $75,000, swelled by $35,000 in special cash prizes from accessory firms, will be increased according to the gate. Last year the total payoff was $246,300, of which Vukovich and his car owner received $89,496.

Relay Team Wrestling Program Tuesday Night

A main event tag team wrestling match is scheduled for Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, in which Danny Dusek pairs with the Alaska Wolf Man to take on Indian Chief Apache and Jackie Fargo in 90-minute time limit, two falls-of-three to win attraction.

In Dusek's last appearance here, he was on the opposite side of the fence from Wolf, pairing with Bill Barney to battle the Alaskan and Herb Schiff. The villains won the relay tussle that night in three falls, and since both Dusek and Wolf were the number one men on their respective teams, they will compose a formidable combine Tuesday for the Chief and Fargo.

The latter impressed on eand all last week with his superior wrestling skill, handling veteran Paddy Mack with ease to win in three falls. Mack won the first fall but only by resorting to illegal slugs all the way.

But the long-haired Fargo, who looks like a teenager in the face, knocked him flat with a dropkick in the second heat and applied the pin before Mack even knew the fall had actually begun. Using a varied assortment of lightning-fast holds seldom seen in these parts, the young ex-G.I. completely befuddled Mack in the third, and escaped a Mack fall-finisher, the crabhold, to turn the tables and win the match.

With the smooth-working Indian, who made quick work of Adonis Schiff in two falls last week, as his tag partner, the clean-styled duo should have the skill to overcome even Wolf treachery and Dusek power Tuesday night.

Two one-fall, ten minute time limit bouts between opposing wrestlers will serve as warmups for the main-eventers, and open the program at 8:15.

127 Top-Notchers Prepare For 51st Western Tourney

CINCINNATI, May 29. (AP) — A field of 127, including five former winners, was lined up today for the $15,000 51st Western Open Golf Tournament to be played here next Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

One of the last entries came from little Felice Torza, St. Charles, Ill., runner-up last year to Walter Burkemo for the National P. G. A. championship.

Neither Ben Hogan nor Sam Snead entered but virtually all of the other top flight touring pros will be on hand for the 72-hole effort to wrest the title from E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Ardmore, Okla.

Harrison won last year's event at St. Louis with a 72-hole score of 278. The tournament record is 268, set by Snead at St. Paul in 1949.

The other former winners in the field will be Lloyd Mangrum former National Open champion and a Western Open winner in 1952; Marty Furgol, who took the title in 1951; Johnny Palmer, the 1947 winner, and Ed (Porky) Oliver, the 1941 victor.

Foreign entrants include Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, and Roberto De Vicenzo, the high ranking Argentine shotmaker.

As it now stacks up, the tournament course will measure about 6,800 yards with a par of 35-36—71.

Penn State Ends Boxing As Sport After 36 Years

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 29 (AP)—Penn State, a pioneer in collegiate boxing, today dropped that sport because of what it called public apathy and scheduling difficulties.

The Nittany Lions fielded boxing teams for 36 straight years and as one of the earliest college's to begin boxing regularly was host to the first national collegiate (N.C.A.A.) and eastern collegiate tournaments.

E.D. McCoy, state athletic director, said the decision to end boxing at Penn State on an intercollegiate basis was taken unanimously by the university's 13-member athletic advisory board after a year-long study.

The study indicated "there no longer was any great enthusiasm for the sport in colleges across the country," a university spokesman said. He noted that there were fewer than 20 major colleges now fielding full boxing teams.

Strafaci Heads U. S. In French Golf Meet

PARIS, May 29. (AP)— Frank Strafaci, Garden City, N. Y., heads the 30-man American entry in a field of 93 players announced today by the French Golf Federation for the French Amateur Championships starting June 1.

Strafaci, who has won the metropolitan New York amateur title six times and reached the North and South finals in 1952, was eliminated in the fourth round of this week's British Amateur championship. Many of the other American entries are servicemen stationed in Europe.

Roger Lagarde, the 20-year-old defending champion from France, heads the European entries.

Australian Whips Campbell To Win British Amateur

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 29 (AP) —An Australian saloon keeper, Doug Bachli, won the British Amateur Golf championship today, 2 and 1, over Bill Campbell after the American veteran wasted four strokes in two sand traps with the wrong club.

The victory for the stocky, nonsmoking teetotaller from Rosebud, Victoria, ranks as the greatest upset in the British amateur since World War II and probably for much longer.

Campbell looked the winner for certain until the 32nd hole. At that point the lead had changed hands or gone even nine times. Bachli squared at the 32nd and won the next two holes to put the title in his locker.

The 35th was halved and that was all for the 6-foot, 3 inch handsome blond from Huntington, W.Va.

On the 17th and 33rd Campbell —his usual mighty long game wobbling in the stiff breeze over this huge 6,806 yards links—pounded the ball into fairway bunkers.

Each time he decided to go for the distant green with his 5 iron instead of using a wedge and pitching out safely.

That 5 iron cost him both holes—and he lost by that margin.

This was Campbell's fifth trip to the British amateur but the first time he has ever gotten beyond the sixth round in this tournament.

Bachli is the only Australian ever to win this title but Jim Ferrier managed to play in the finals in 1936, losing to Hector Thompson of Scotland.

From the showing he made, international golf will get to know Bachli much better. The Aussie says he prefers horse racing to golf and he is quite happy running the pub he inherited from his father two years ago. He also inherited a string of racehorses but these have been leased out while he mastered the game of golf.

Belmont Feature Won By Cherokee Rose, Sesame 2nd

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Cherokee Rose, a fleet bay filly from the Cain Hoy stable of Harry F. Guggenheim, outfought Walter M. Jefford's Open Sesame today to capture the $62,000 Coaching Club American Oaks by a scant head in an exciting stretch duel at Belmont Park.

The first three horses under the wire could have finished under a blanket in this famed classic for three-year-old turf misses. The King Ranch's Reverina took third, three-quarters of a length behind Open Sesame and two and one-half lengths ahead of the Hasty House farm's Queen Hopeful.

The crowd of 33,890, watching in sunny weather, had made Queen Hopeful the 6-5 favorite after her victory in the Black Eyed Susan Stakes at Pimlico May 15. Previously, she had defeated Cherokee Rose in the Florida Oaks at Gulfstream Park in March, but jockey Henry Moreno and the speedy daughter of Princequillo caught the Queen today.

Fry, Hart Will Share Surrey Tennis Title

SURBITON, England, May 29. (AP) — Shirley Fry, Akron, Ohio, reached the final round of the Surrey Tennis Championships today with a 3-6, 6-4, 6-1 victory over Ann Shilcock, England, then sat back and saw her title match with Doris Hart, Coral Gables, Fla., rained out.

Officials finally gave up after four hours of steady rain and announced that the American girls, frequent foes in tournaments all over the world in recent year, would share the singles title.

The downpour also washed out the men's singles final scheduled between John Barry, New Zealand and A. Segal, South Africa, and the men's doubles matching the Los Angeles pair of Hugh Stewart and Gil Shea against J. Robson and M. Otway, England.

All the titles will be shared.

NET STAR WEDS

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Miss Betty Nuthall, former member of England's Wightman Cup team and 1930 United States' women's tennis champion, married Franklin Comly Shoemaker, a member of the department of commerce here yesterday. Mrs. Shoemaker also shared the U. S. L. T. A. doubles championship in 1930, 1931 and 1933 and the mixed doubles crown in 1929 and 1931.

War Of Roses 1st In Jersey Stakes To Return $18.60

CAMDEN, N.J., May 29 (AP)—War Of Roses, an English-bred thoroughbred who had never won a stakes race, took the $50,000 added Jersey Stakes at Garden State Park today under a whipping ride by jockey Jackie Westrope as the 2-5 favorite, Correlation, wound up sixth in the field of 12.

Mrs. E. H. Thouron's three-year-old moved into contention at the three-quarter mile mark as Westrope took his mount from fifth to third. The colt came between horses at the top of the stretch to grab the lead from the pace setting Red Hannigan and then galloped home to one of 1954's big racing upsets.

Correlation, the odds on favorite of the 34,305 racing fans, never was in contention. He was off in 11th position, moved to eighth at the end of the back stretch and then quit. Jockey Willie Shoemaker said he had no excuse for the west coast son of Free America who was shooting to become the year's top money winner.

Correlation disappointed owner Robert S. Lytle for the third time in less than a month when he failed to show any of the great stretch run he has become known for. The California horse was out of the money in the Kentucky Derby won by Determine, and finished a neck off winning Hasty Road in the Preakness Stakes last week.

War Of Roses, making his first appearance at Garden State, was timed in 1:51 3-5 for the mile and a furlong run and paid his backers $18.60, $7.80 and $5.20 across the board. Red Hannigan rewarded his backers $20 and $1.20 and King Ranch's High Gun returned $4.00 for the show.

Pollet Shuts Out Reds With 4 Hits As Cubs Win, 6-0

CHICAGO, May 29. (AP)—Walker Cooper's grand slam homer in the fourth inning backed up Howie Pollet's tight four - hitter today and powered the Chicago Cubs to a 6-0 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs before 11,172 in Wrigley Field.

Berra On Batting Spree; Yanks Maul Bosox, 10-2

BOSTON, May 29 (AP)—A two-hit performance by Harry Byrd and Johnny Sain and Yogi Berra's grand slam home run helped New York to a 10-2 victory over Boston today.

Berra's blow, his seventh round tripper, capped a five-run eighth inning that assured the Yankee win and gave him six RBI's for the day. Yogi teed off on a one-strike pitch as the first man to face reliefer Bill Werle and sent it into the Red Sox bullpen in right center.

Byrd, making his first appearance since May 14 when he hurt his side in Detroit, yielded the two hits in going six innings to gain credit for the victory before giving way to Sain.

Ted Williams homered, his first hit in Fenway Park this year, in the sixth inning off Byrd. Big Ted, with a two strike count against him, slammed a fast ball 20 rows into the right field bleachers. There was never any doubt that it was gone and as Williams jogged around the bases he received a standing ovation from the 21,992 fans. It was his third of the year.

The only other Sox hit was a run-producing single by Sammy White in the fourth. Sain checked the losers over the last three frames.

Belmont's Suburban

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—While a foot injury will keep Native Dancer in his barn, a dozen horses were entered today for the $50,000 suburban Handicap, Monday's holiday feature at Belmont Park.

Although the big star will be missing from America's great handicap, it should be quite a battle every inch of the mile and one-quarter run.

Alfred Vanderbilt will substitute Find, 122 pounds, for the Dancer. Find, the Greentree stable's Straight Face, 118 and Mrs. J.R.H. Thouron's Royal Vale, 125, are the class of the field.

Others in the Suburban are Matagorda, 104; Alerted, 108; Northirdchance, 107; Armageddon, 109; Impulsivo, 109; Bassanio, 106; Impasse, 110; Count Cain, 104; and Mandingo, 106.

Tigers, White Sox In Catcher Swap; Batts For Wilson

DETROIT, May 29. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers today traded catcher Matt Batts to the Chicago White Sox in a straight player swap for catcher Robert J. Wilson.

No money was involved in the deal.

Wilson, a 25-year-old righthanded catcher from Milwaukee, played 71 games for Chicago last year and batted .250. He was on the University of Wisconsin team with Tiger second baseman Harvey Kuenn.

Batts, who came to Detroit in a 1951 trade with St. Louis has been used mainly as a pinch-hitter by the Tigers this year. Bonus rookie Frank House has been doing most of the backstopping chores for Detroit.

Batts was obtained by the Tigers in a search for distance hitting but last year he hit only six home runs in the 116 games he played and he batted .278. He batted in 42 runs.

Dickey Sees Mantle As Greatest Slugger

BOSTON, May 29. (AP) — Bill Dickey, a fellow who played with and against some great sluggers, rates young Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees with the best of the long-ball hitters.

The ex - Yankee catcher, now a coach with the world champions, says "Mantle has more talent than any man I've seen. As a slugger, from either side, he rates with Ruth, Foxx, Gehrig, Greenberg, Williams and Dimaggio."

The switch - hitting Mantle, boosting his average to .286 this past week, is "still two or three years away," says Dickey. Mantle has hit seven home runs this spring.

Jack McGrath Favored To Win Indianapolis '500'

Fast Field Ready For Big Speedway Classic Tomorrow

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29 (AP) — Three former winners and four former AAA national racing champions will chase a driver who has never won either title in the 38th annual 500-mile auto race Monday at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Jack McGrath, a lean and determined professional with the fastest car in the field, will start in the pole position from which Bill Vukovich ran off with last year's race.

The 34-year-old Los Angeles veteran has missed in six previous attempts to win top money in the Indianapolis pot, expected to exceed $250,000 this year. He has been an early leader twice, but he was slowed once by a leg cramp and once by a slipping clutch.

He established himself as the man to beat this year by setting a 10-mile qualifying record of 141.033 miles an hour in a new Kurtis-Kraft racer owned by J. B. Hinkle of Wichita, Kan. He finished fifth last year and was one of only six drivers who didn't call for relief in the intense heat.

A poll of 27 drivers showed 10 believed McGrath would win.

The drivers made Vukovich second choice, although the fierce little competitor from Fresno, Calif., will have to start in 19th place because of a late qualification run.

Pari-mutuel betting is illegal in Indiana and there are no official odds. If there were a tote board, the Bardahl tem entry of Ed Walsh Jr., of St. Louis probably would carry the shortest odds.

The Bardahl Specials, only three-car entry to qualify, will be driven by Sam Tanks, Burbank, Calif., 1953 AAA national champion; Jim Rathmann, Miami, second in the 1952 Indianapolis race, and Art Cross, La Porte, Ind., second last year.

Former national champs in the lineup besides Hanks and Johnnie Parsons are Chuck Stevenson, Garden Grove, Calif., and Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill.

Troy Ruttman of Salem, Ind., youngest driver ever to win the 500, is still the youngest in the field two years later. He is 24, four months younger than Jimmy Reece of Oklahoma City.

Rutmtan's race record of 128.92 miles an hour is almost certain to be rubbed out unless wrecks or showers slow the pace. The 33 cars averaged 138.63 in the time trials.

The Speedway never discloses its ticket sales but the crowd in recent years has been estimated at 200,000 and more. The guaranteed purse of $75,000, swelled by $35,000 in special cash prizes from accessory firms, will be increased according to the gate. Last year the total payoff was $246,300, of which Vukovich and his car owner received $89,496.

Charley Kress of the Detroit Tigers is an automobile salesman during the off-season.

Relay Team Wrestling Program Tuesday Night

A main event tag team wrestling match is scheduled for Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night, in which Danny Dusek pairs with the Alaska Wolf Man to take on Indian Chief Apache and Jackie Fargo in 90-minute time limit, two falls-of-three to win attraction.

In Dusek's last appearance here, he was on the opposite side of the fence from Wolf, pairing with Bill Barney to battle the Alaskan and Herb Schiff. The villains won the relay tussle that night in three falls, and since both Dusek and Wolf were the number one men on their respective teams, they will compose a formidable combine Tuesday for the Chief and Fargo.

The latter impressed on eand all last week with his superior wrestling skill, handling veteran Paddy Mack with ease to win in three falls. Mack won the first fall but only by resorting to illegal slugs all the way.

But the long-haired Fargo, who looks like a teenager in the face, knocked him flat with a dropkick in the second heat and applied the pin before Mack even knew the fall had actually begun. Using a varied assortment of lightning-fast holds seldom seen in these parts, the young ex-G.I. completely befuddled Mack in the third, and escaped a Mack fall-finisher, the crabhold, to turn the tables and win the match.

With the smooth-working Indian, who made quick work of Adonis Schiff in two falls last week, as his tag partner, the clean-styled duo should have the skill to overcome even Wolf treachery and Dusek power Tuesday night.

Two one-fall, ten minute time limit bouts between opposing wrestlers will serve as warmups for the main-eventers, and open the program at 8:15.

127 Top-Notchers Prepare For 51st Western Tourney

CINCINNATI, May 29. (AP) — A field of 127, including five former winners, was lined up today for the $15,000 51st Western Open Golf Tournament to be played here next Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

One of the last entries came from little Felice Torza, St. Charles, Ill., runner-up last year to Walter Burkemo for the National P. G. A. championship.

Neither Ben Hogan nor Sam Snead entered but virtually all of the other top flight touring pros will be on hand for the 72-hole effort to wrest the title from E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Ardmore, Okla.

Harrison won last year's event at St. Louis with a 72-hole score of 278. The tournament record is 268, set by Snead at St. Paul in 1949.

The other former winners in the field will be Lloyd Mangrum former National Open champion and a Western Open winner in 1952; Marty Furgol, who took the title in 1951; Johnny Palmer, the 1947 winner, and Ed (Porky) Oliver, the 1941 victor.

Foreign entrants include Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, and Roberto De Vicenzo, the high ranking Argentine shotmaker.

As it now stacks up, the tournament course will measure about 6,800 yards with a par of 35-36—71.

Penn State Ends Boxing As Sport After 36 Years

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., May 29 (AP)—Penn State, a pioneer in collegiate boxing, today dropped that sport because of what it called public apathy and scheduling difficulties.

The Nittany Lions fielded boxing teams for 36 straight years and as one of the earliest college's to begin boxing regularly was host to the first national collegiate (N.C.A.A.) and eastern collegiate tournaments.

E.D. McCoy, state athletic director, said the decision to end boxing at Penn State on an intercollegiate basis was taken unanimously by the university's 13-member athletic advisory board after a year-long study.

The study indicated "there no longer was any great enthusiasm for the sport in colleges across the country," a university spokesman said. He noted that there were fewer than 20 major colleges now fielding full boxing teams.

Strafaci Heads U. S. In French Golf Meet

PARIS, May 29. (AP)— Frank Strafaci, Garden City, N. Y., heads the 30-man American entry in a field of 93 players announced today by the French Golf Federation for the French Amateur Championships starting June 1.

Strafaci, who has won the metropolitan New York amateur title six times and reached the North and South finals in 1952, was eliminated in the fourth round of this week's British Amateur championship. Many of the other American entries are servicemen stationed in Europe.

Roger Lagarde, the 20-year-old defending champion from France, heads the European entries.

Australian Whips Campbell To Win British Amateur

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, May 29 (AP) —An Australian saloon keeper, Doug Bachli, won the British Amateur Golf championship today, 2 and 1, over Bill Campbell after the American veteran wasted four strokes in two sand traps with the wrong club.

The victory for the stocky, non-smoking teetotaller from Rosebud, Victoria, ranks as the greatest upset in the British amateur since World War II and probably for much longer.

Campbell looked the winner for certain until the 32nd hole. At that point the lead had changed hands or gone even nine times. Bachli squared at the 32nd and won the next two holes to put the title in his locker.

The 35th was halved and that was all for the 6-foot, 3 inch handsome blond from Huntington, W.Va.

On the 17th and 33rd Campbell—his usual mighty long game wobbling in the stiff breeze over this huge 6,806 yards links—pounded the ball into fairway bunkers.

Each itme he decided to go for the distant green with his 5 iron instead of using a wedge and pitching out safely.

That 5 iron cost him both holes—and he lost by that margin.

This was Campbell's fifth trip to the British amateur but the first time he has ever gotten beyond the sixth round in this tournament.

Bachli is the only Australian ever to win this title but Jim Ferrier managed to play in the finals in 1936, losing to Hector Thompson of Scotland.

From the showing he made, international golf will get to know Bachli much better. The Aussie says he prefers horse racing to golf and he is quite happy running the pub he inherited from his father two years ago. He also inherited a string of racehorses but these have been leased out while he mastered the game of golf.

Belmont Feature Won By Cherokee Rose, Sesame 2nd

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Cherokee Rose, a fleet bay filly from the Cain Hoy stable of Harry F. Guggenheim, outfought Walter M. Jefford's Open Sesame today to capture the $62,000 Coaching Club American Oaks by a scant head in an exciting stretch duel at Belmont Park.

The first three horses under the wire could have finished under a blanket in this famed classic for three-year-old turf misses. The King Ranch's Reverina took third, three-quarters of a length behind Open Sesame and two and one-half lengths ahead of the Hasty House farm's Queen Hopeful.

The crowd of 33,890, watching in sunny weather, had made Queen Hopeful the 6-5 favorite after her victory in the Black Eyed Susan Stakes at Pimlico May 15. Previously, she had defeated Cherokee Rose in the Florida Oaks at Gulfstream Park in March, but jockey Henry Moreno and the speedy daughter of Princequillo caught the Queen today.

Fry, Hart Will Share Surrey Tennis Title

SURBITON, England, May 29. (AP) — Shirley Fry, Akron, Ohio, reached the final round of the Surrey Tennis Championships today with a 3-6, 6-4, 6-1 victory over Ann Shilcock, England, then sat back and saw her title match with Doris Hart, Coral Gables, Fla., rained out.

Officials finally gave up after four hours of steady rain and announced that the American girls, frequent foes in tournaments all over the world in recent year, would share the singles title.

The downpour also washed out the men's singles final scheduled between John Barry, New Zealand and A. Segal, South Africa, and the men's doubles matching the Los Angeles pair of Hugh Stewart and Gil Shea against J. Robson and M. Otway, England.

All the titles will be shared.

NET STAR WEDS

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Miss Betty Nuthall, former member of England's Wightman Cup team and 1930 United States' women's tennis champion, married Franklin Comly Shoemaker, a member of the department of commerce here yesterday. Mrs. Shoemaker also shared the U. S. L. T. A. doubles championship in 1930, 1931 and 1933 and the mixed doubles crown in 1929 and 1931.

War Of Roses 1st In Jersey Stakes To Return $18.60

CAMDEN, N.J., May 29 (AP)—War Of Roses, an English-bred thoroughbred who had never won a stakes race, took the $50,000 added Jersey Stakes at Garden State Park today under a whipping ride by jockey Jackie Westrope as the 2-5 favorite, Correlation, wound up sixth in the field of 12.

Mrs. E. H. Thouron's three-year-old moved into contention at the three-quarter mile mark as Westrope took his mount from fifth to third. The colt came between horses at the top of the stretch to grab the lead from the pace setting Red Hannigan and then galloped home to one of 1954's big racing upsets.

Correlation, the odds on favorite of the 34,305 racing fans, never was in contention. He was off in 11th position, moved to eighth at the end of the back stretch and then quit. Jockey Willie Shoemaker said he had no excuse for the west coast son of Free America who was shooting to become the year's top money winner.

Correlation disappointed owner Robert S. Lytle for the third time in less than a month when he failed to show any of the great stretch run he has become known for. The California horse was out of the money in the Kentucky Derby won by Determine, and finished a neck off winning Hasty Road in the Preakness Stakes last week.

War Of Roses, making his first appearance at Garden State, was timed in 1:51 3-5 for the mile and a furlong run and paid his backers $18.60, $7.80 and $5.20 across the board. Red Hannigan rewarded his backers $20 and $1.20 and King Ranch's High Gun returned $4.00 for the show.

Berra On Batting Spree; Yanks Maul Bosox, 10-2

BOSTON, May 29 (AP)—A two-hit performance by Harry Byrd and Johnny Sain and Yogi Berra's grand slam home run helped New York to a 10-2 victory over Boston today.

Berra's blow, his seventh round tripper, capped a five-run eighth inning that assured the Yankee win and gave him six RBI's for the day. Yogi teed off on a one-strike pitch as the first man to face reliefer Bill Werle and sent it into the Red Sox bullpen in right center.

Byrd, making his first appearance since May 14 when he hurt his side in Detroit, yielded the two hits in going six innings to gain credit for the victory before giving way to Sain.

Ted Williams homered, his first hit in Fenway Park this year, in the sixth inning off Byrd. Big Ted, with a two strike count against him, slammed a fast ball 20 rows into the right field bleachers. There was never any doubt that it was gone and as Williams jogged around the bases he received a standing ovation from the 21,992 fans. It was his third of the year.

The only other Sox hit was a run-producing single by Sammy White in the fourth. Sain checked the losers over the last three frames.

Basketball coaches scheduled to speak during the three-day clinic will be Ken Loeffler of LaSalle University, Dr. Eugene Lambert of Memphis State College and Red Thomas of Northwestern (La.) State.

Belmont's Suburban

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—While a foot injury will keep Native Dancer in his barn, a dozen horses were entered today for the $50,000 suburban Handicap, Monday's holiday feature at Belmont Park.

Although the big star will be missing from America's great handicap, it should be quite a battle every inch of the mile and one-quarter run.

Alfred Vanderbilt will substitute Find, 122 pounds, for the Dancer. Find, the Greentree stable's Straight Face, 118 and Mrs. J.R.H. Thouron's Royal Vale, 125, are the class of the field.

Others in the Suburban are Matagorda, 104; Alerted, 108; Northirdchance, 107; Armageddon, 109; Impulsivo, 109; Bassanio, 106; Impasse, 110; Count Cain, 104; and Mandingo, 106.

Tigers, White Sox In Catcher Swap; Batts For Wilson

DETROIT, May 29. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers today traded catcher Matt Batts to the Chicago White Sox in a straight player swap for catcher Robert J. Wilson.

No money was involved in the deal.

Wilson, a 25-year-old righthanded catcher from Milwaukee, played 71 games for Chicago last year and batted .250. He was on the University of Wisconsin team with Tiger second baseman Harvey Kuenn.

Batts, who came to Detroit in a 1951 trade with St. Louis has been used mainly as a pinch-hitter by the Tigers this year. Bonus rookie Frank House has been doing most of the backstopping chores for Detroit.

Batts was obtained by the Tigers in a search for distance hitting but last year he hit only six home runs in the 116 games he played and he batted .278. He batted in 42 runs.

Dickey Sees Mantle As Greatest Slugger

BOSTON, May 29. (AP) — Bill Dickey, a fellow who played with and against some great sluggers, rates young Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees with the best of the long-ball hitters.

The ex-Yankee catcher, now a coach with the world champions, says "Mantle has more talent than any man I've seen. As a slugger, from either side, he rates with Ruth, Foxx, Gehrig, Greenberg, Williams and Dimaggio."

The switch-hitting Mantle, boosting his average to .286 this past week, is "still two or three years away," says Dickey. Mantle has hit seven home runs this spring.

Several Key Industries Slow Production, While Retail Trade Drops Off

NEW YORK (AP)—The last week in May saw a moderate slowdown in several key lines of business.

The dips stemmed chiefly from seasonal and other temporary factors. Business sentiment continued optimistic. Most of the long-term indicators still pointed up.

Auto production was off 5¼ per cent from the previous week, chiefly because the pace-setting Big Three scheduled no work for the Saturday before Memorial Day.

General Motors accounted for 54 per cent of the 493,000 passenger cars turned out by U. S. factories this month. Ford's share was 30.6 per cent and Chrysler's not quite 12 per cent, leaving 3 per cent for the independents.

In June the industry as a whole will operate at a somewhat slower tempo, but total production will be up a shade because there will be two more working days than in May. The ding dong battle between Chevrolet and Ford will continue.

The big sales push is moving into high gear. Best guess is, however, that stocks of unsold new cars will continue at or near record levels through August and possibly September.

Retail trade inched lower again this week. Merchants tried promotions, bargain sales, night shopping and easy credit, but chill, damp weather over wide areas kept the customers away.

So far this year, department store sales have been running about 3 per cent behind the corresponding period of 1953. The comparison with last year should be more favorable after Labor Day. Two large chains—Federated Department Stores and R. H. Macy & Co.—reported bigger volume for the quarter ended May 1 than in the like 1953 quarter.

Want to make a loan? There's lots of money in the banks—and it's looking for borrowers. The abundance of loan and investment funds was pointed up this week when the U. S. Treasury reported on the sale of its latest issue of 91-day bills. They sold at a discount equal to an interest rate of 0.718 per cent—the lowest in nearly seven years. Meanwhile there were renewed indications that mortgage terms are easing.

Steelmakers look for good business this year, with no drastic changes either way in the current level of production. That was the word at the annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute here. There has been some hedge buying by steel consumers against the possibility of a strike—a contingency described by industry leaders as "remote."

Optimistic talk at the steel meeting sparked a midweek rise in stock prices that carried the market to new 24-year highs.

There was optimistic talk, too, at the annual meeting of the world's biggest oil corporation. M. J. Rathbone, president, predicted sales of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) would set a new record this year. And Jersey Standard's earnings, he said, will be "as good as they were in 1953 and probably a little better."

NAACP Leaders To Hold Meeting On Segregation

BATON ROUGE, May 29 (AP) — Louisiana leaders of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People meet here tomorrow to draft a state program on public school segregation.

Dr. E. A. Johnson of Natchitoches, state president, said the NAACP executive group plans procedures "to implement the decision of the Supreme Court."

After the Supreme Court Ruling, the state Legislature expressed a policy of favoring continued segregation in public schools.

Dr. Johnson said a five-member executive group will be named to work with the governor's office and the state Board of Education.

The permanent committee, he said, also will have the task of developing local committees to contact school boards on the local level.

In addition, the 15-member executive group meeting here is expected to decide next steps in the long existing policy of seeking admission of Negro students to state colleges and white state trade schools where first efforts were turned down.

A few weeks before the Supreme Court action, a three-man federal court had ordered Southwestern Louisiana Institute, one of the NAACP target schools, to admit four Negroes who applied.

Legislature Cool To New Tax Raises, But Several Await Committee Action

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana legislators in the first three weeks of a 60-day session failed to show enthusiasm for any tax raise bills introduced and awaiting committee action.

In the House, where tax proposals must originate, many members shook their heads at the thoughts of boosting taxes now.

During the long grind of fiscal committee hearings on state budgets before the Legislature sailed into view, lawmakers were cool to tampering with taxes.

The administration's two bond packages of 92 million dollars will settle demands for highways, colleges and institutions for a couple of years.

But opponents fear tax raises are certain in the next Legislature because of the big bond programs swallowing available revenues.

Several tax bills have been introduced. But a typical reaction in the House is that of Rep. John Garrett of Haynesville: "The people don't want tax raises. Period."

Joe W. Sanders, the governor's legislative arm, makes clear, "the administration is not supporting any tax raise bills."

The major tax raise bills in the House ask:

1. Authority for cities and parishes to levy at their discretion up to one cent in local sales taxes without the people voting on the issue.

2. Increases in the excise taxes on liquor, wine and beer to finance $50 monthly pay raises for all policemen in municipalities with five or more officers on the force.

3. An increase in the natural gas severance tax from three-tenths of one cent to two and three-tenths of one cent per 1,000 cubic feet. A severance tax is a levy on natural resources.

Reps. William Yarno, James Villemarette and Lee Fontenot, who propose the natural gas tax increase, expect to bring it up in the House Ways and Means Committe Monday.

The committee chairman, Rep. Jasper Smith of Caddo Parish, is backing a bill to head off any Louisiana tax raises of new taxes unless submitted to the people. His bill also insists the governor warn the Legislature 60 days in advance if he wants to levy new taxes.

While the local sales tax bill has the powerful support of the Louisiana Municipal Association, several House members expressed concern about the feature allowing city or parish governing authorities to levy the tax directly without a public vote.

Suspect Wanted Here Arrested In Arkansas

A man wanted by the Ouachita Parish sheriff department for moving mortgaged property out of the parish has been arrested by authorities in Little Rock, Ark., and is being held for local officers.

Sheriff Bailey Grant identified the man as Albert Beesom. He has been wanted by the local department since a warrant for his arrest was issued on October 10 of last year.

Sheriff Grant said Beesom had refused to sign a waiver of extradition and the proceedings had already begun to have him returned.

Indecent Behavior Charge Made Here

A 71 - year - old Swartz man, B. W. Winnon, was charged Saturday with indecent behavior with a juvenile and is being held in the Ouachita Parish jail in lieu of a $1,500 bond. He was arrested Saturday morning.

The charge was placed formally when a warrant for his arrest was issued by Judge Jesse Heard upon the request of the district attorney's office and parish juvenile officer.

Northeast State Summer School Registration Set

Registration for the summer term at Northeast State is scheduled Friday and Saturday, with classes beginning on June 7. The nine-week session will end on August 6.

Offerings are designed to meet the needs of teachers, beginning college students and persons interested in continuing their college studies.

Students may earn a maximum of ten semester hours during the summer school at a cost of $9, the regular enrollment fee. This fee will also include private music lessons. Certain special courses in science which require laboratory work will carry an additional small cost.

All veterans of the Korean War and World War II must register for a minimum of nine semester hours of study in order to obtain full subsistence allowance.

Dormitory facilities are available for both men and women at the rate of $7.50 per month, and meals are obtainable in the college cafeteria at $36 per month. Individual meals may be purchased at reasonable rates.

In - service teachers will find in the summer curricula most courses which are required for Louisiana certification and teacher education degrees, according to Dean William M. Smith, director of teacher education. Students graduating this spring from high schools will have opportunity to schedule beginning courses in all departments which will make it possible to start their college careers without loss of time. Students already matriculated in college may find that summer school study enables them to graduate earlier or to reduce their course loads.

Additional features of the session will include special workshops, conferences and recreational activities.

Several Key Industries Slow Production, While Retail Trade Drops Off

NEW YORK (AP)—The last week in May saw a moderate slowdown in several key lines of business.

The dips stemmed chiefly from seasonal and other temporary factors. Business sentiment continued optimistic. Most of the long-term indicators still pointed up.

Auto production was off 5½ per cent from the previous week, chiefly because the pace-setting Big Three scheduled no work for the Saturday before Memorial Day.

General Motors accounted for 54 per cent of the 493,000 passenger cars turned out by U. S. factories this month. Ford's share was 30.6 per cent and Chrysler's not quite 12 per cent, leaving 3 per cent for the independents.

In June the industry as a whole will operate at a somewhat slower tempo, but total production will be up a shade because there will be two more working days than in May. The ding dong battle between Chevrolet and Ford will continue.

The big sales push is moving into high gear. Best guess is, however, that stocks of unsold new cars will continue at or near record levels through August and possibly September.

Retail trade inched lower again this week. Merchants tried promotions, bargain sales, night shopping and easy credit, but chill, damp weather over wide areas kept the customers away.

So far this year, department store sales have been running about 3 per cent behind the corresponding period of 1953. The comparison with last year should be more favorable after Labor Day. Two large chains—Federated Department Stores and R. H. Macy & Co.—reported bigger volume for the quarter ended May 1 than in the like 1953 quarter.

Want to make a loan? There's lots of money in the banks—and it's looking for borrowers. The abundance of loan and investment funds was pointed up this week when the U. S. Treasury reported on the sale of its latest issue of 91-day bills. They sold at a discount equal to an interest rate of 0.718 per cent—the lowest in nearly seven years. Meanwhile there were renewed indications that mortgage terms are easing.

Steelmakers look for good business this year, with no drastic changes either way in the current level of production. That was the word at the annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute here. There has been some hedge buying by steel consumers against the possibility of a strike—a contingency described by industry leaders as "remote."

Optimistic talk at the steel meeting sparked a midweek rise in stock prices that carried the market to new 24-year highs.

There was optimistic talk, too, at the annual meeting of the world's biggest oil corporation. M. J. Rathbone, president, predicted sales of Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) would set a new record this year. And Jersey Standard's earnings, he said, will be "as good as they were in 1953 and probably a little better."

NAACP Leaders To Hold Meeting On Segregation

BATON ROUGE, May 29 (AP) — Louisiana leaders of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People meet here tomorrow to draft a state program on public school segregation.

Dr. E. A. Johnson of Natchitoches, state president, said the NAACP executive group plans procedures "to implement the decision of the Supreme Court."

After the Supreme Court Ruling, the state Legislature expressed a policy of favoring continued segregation in public schools.

Dr. Johnson said a five-member executive group will be named to work with the governor's office and the state Board of Education.

The permanent committee, he said, also will have the task of developing local committees to contact school boards on the local level.

In addition, the 15-member executive group meeting here is expected to decide next steps in the long existing policy of seeking admission of Negro students to state colleges and white state trade schools where first efforts were turned down.

A few weeks before the Supreme Court action, a three-man federal court had ordered Southwestern Louisiana Institute, one of the NAACP target schools, to admit four Negroes who applied.

Legislature Cool To New Tax Raises, But Several Await Committee Action

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Louisiana legislators in the first three weeks of a 60-day session failed to show enthusiasm for any tax raise bills introduced and awaiting committee action.

In the House, where tax proposals must originate, many members shook their heads at the thoughts of boosting taxes now.

During the long grind of fiscal committee hearings on state budgets before the Legislature sailed into view, lawmakers were cool to tampering with taxes.

The administration's two bond packages of 92 million dollars will settle demands for highways, colleges and institutions for a couple of years.

But opponents fear tax raises are certain in the next Legislature because of the big bond programs swallowing available revenues.

Several tax bills have been introduced. But a typical reaction in the House is that of Rep. John Garrett of Haynesville: "The people don't want tax raises. Period."

Joe W. Sanders, the governor's legislative arm, makes clear, "the administration is not supporting any tax raise bills."

The major tax raise bills in the House ask:

1. Authority for cities and parishes to levy at their discretion up to one cent in local sales taxes without the people voting on the issue.

2. Increases in the excise taxes on liquor, wine and beer to finance $50 monthly pay raises for all policemen in municipalities with five or more officers on the force.

3. An increase in the natural gas severance tax from three-tenths of one cent to two and three-tenths of one cent per 1,000 cubic feet. A severance tax is a levy on natural resources.

Reps. William Yarno, James Villemarette and Lee Fontenot, who propose the natural gas tax increase, expect to bring it up in the House Ways and Means Committe Monday.

The committee chairman, Rep. Jasper Smith of Caddo Parish, is backing a bill to head off any Louisiana tax raises of new taxes unless submitted to the people. His bill also insists the governor warn the Legislature 60 days in advance if he wants to levy new taxes.

While the local sales tax bill has the powerful support of the Louisiana Municipal Association, several House members expressed concern about the feature allowing city or parish governing authorities to levy the tax directly without a public vote.

Suspect Wanted Here Arrested In Arkansas

A man wanted by the Ouachita Parish sheriff department for moving mortgaged property out of the parish has been arrested by authorities in Little Rock, Ark., and is being held for local officers.

Sheriff Bailey Grant identified the man as Albert Beesom. He has been wanted by the local department since a warrant for his arrest was issued on October 10 of last year.

Sheriff Grant said Beesom had refused to sign a waiver of extradition and the proceedings had already begun to have him returned.

Indecent Behavior Charge Made Here

A 71 - year - old Swartz man, B. W. Winnon, was charged Saturday with indecent behavior with a juvenile and is being held in the Ouachita Parish jail in lieu of a $1,500 bond. He was arrested Saturday morning.

The charge was placed formally when a warrant for his arrest was issued by Judge Jesse Heard upon the request of the district attorney's office and parish juvenile officer.

Northeast State Summer School Registration Set

Registration for the summer term at Northeast State is scheduled Friday and Saturday, with classes beginning on June 7. The nine-week session will end on August 6.

Offerings are designed to meet the needs of teachers, beginning college students and persons interested in continuing their college studies.

Students may earn a maximum of ten semester hours during the summer school at a cost of $9, the regular enrollment fee. This fee will also include private music lessons. Certain special courses in science which require laboratory work will carry an additional small cost.

All veterans of the Korean War and World War II must register for a minimum of nine semester hours of study in order to obtain full subsistence allowance.

Dormitory facilities are available for both men and women at the rate of $7.50 per month, and meals are obtainable in the college cafeteria at $36 per month. Individual meals may be purchased at reasonable rates.

In - service teachers will find in the summer curricula most courses which are required for Louisiana certification and teacher education degrees, according to Dean William M. Smith, director of teacher education. Students graduating this spring from high schools will have opportunity to schedule beginning courses in all departments which will make it possible to start their college careers without loss of time. Students already matriculated in college may find that summer school study enables them to graduate earlier or to reduce their course loads.

Additional features of the session will include special workshops, conferences and recreational activities.

DON'T GET CAUGHT...

. . . again this summer in a "steaming" apartment when so little down ($900) buys so much house (with a 42" attic fan) in such a desirable neighborhood located at 103 GRAYLING LANE! There are 1036 sq. feet in this one, included among are: floor furnace; new 30-gal. water heater; 2 nice size bedrooms; large living room and separate dining room; private fenced backyard; oak floors and it's selling for only $6900 which is $600 less than FHA value!

100% G. I.

When you can buy this nice two-bedroom home at 408 Moore by merely paying the closing costs, you're silly not to pick up the phone this minute and ask to see it! It has a separate garage, side porch, nice oak floors, metal Venetian blinds, 42" attic fan (sure will be nice this summer), floor furnace, serving bar in the kitchen and other attractive features that will make you want to sign the papers then and there! Go on . . . walk over to the phone and dial NOW!

WANTA' PEEK...

. . . at one of the most imposing homes on JASMINE ST? Well . . . if you're "cool" to the idea, maybe this will stimulate your desire! To begin with it's on a 65'x150' lot with nice trees and the back yard is a "kid's Delight." Among the 1253 sq. feet of the home are these features: two 13'x14' bedrooms; well-proportioned living room with a roomy separate dining room; there's a side screened porch; attic fan; attic is insulated and attic has storage. It's also wired for 220 volts as is the laundry room with washer plumbing and dryer wiring. Got 30 minutes to spare today?

I'M BEGGING...

. . . for a "lady of the house" who has the time to look after me like I'd like, even though I'm now gettin' good attention. When I was built a year ago, little did she realize I was so big (over 1200 sq feet of living area)! Now . . . they want somethin' smaller, so wouldn't you enjoy my 75'x150' lot? My wall-to-wall carpeting in living room? My mammoth pine-paneled kitchen? My glowing pine-paneled den? My (2) large bedrooms (both with sliding door closets)? I'm new and located on S. 6th St. (just a coupla' blocks from the Plum St. Grammar) and I'll 100 per cent G. I. "I'M BEGGING!"

"EVERYTHING GOES...

. . . even the chickens!" That's what the owner of this matchless home at 3713 CYPRESS ST. (W. M.) said and even without the chickens it's some buy! Among the 1416 Sq. feet of this one are: spacious living room with real fireplace; "old timey" separate dining room; large kitchen with unusually nice cabinet space and a separate breakfast room; attic fan and wall heat; hardwood floors and loads of other comfortable features. You'll have a hard time finding it for the trees, but we know exactly where it is!

STACKED? WOW!

40,000 bricks combined with expert craftsmanship and modern ideas have produced the most original home in Monroe! From the white crushed marble roof to the Roman brick chimney and fireplace wall . . . it's a "dilly"! There are 1276 sq. feet of living area alone plus garage and storage; living room has wall-to-wall carpeting; it's of solid brick construction for a lifetime of trouble-free comfort; it has central heating and aluminum frame windows; it's on a corner lot with 130' frontage and only $810 down to a G. I. makes the move. Total price is $16,200 and it's on SANDEL DRIVE in Spanish City.

SKIN DEEP?

Not this one, for once you're inside all of the comfortable features will begin to "smack" you in the face! The 13'x19' living room has livability written all over it; there's an 11'x11' dining room; a delightful side screened porch; (2) spacious bedrooms; well-arranged kitchen with unusually nice storage and washer plumbing; there's a garage and a host of other features that'll "smack" you in the face when you see it! It's on a corner lot at 1511 N. 7th in Monroe and priced at only $10,500.

WANTA KNOW...

where a house is with low monthly payments? Well, without further ado, it's located at 1500 Alabama. Now, I guess you'd like a few details . . . well, here they are: natural woodwork throughout, nice closet space, floor furnace, 36" attic fan, nice wallpaper, oak floors, shower in bath. Wanta see? If so, dial pronto!

When you drive by, you can't miss it for it's absolutely "beaming." $1,353 down and monthly payments of only $58.89 makes it yours. See it . . . you'll be glad you did.

100% G. I.

Here's one I like . . . mainly because it's right new (just 3 years old) and mainly because it has a big double carport with storeroom, a separate dining room, nice oak floors, 42" attic fan, floor furnace, huge linen closet in bath and mainly, because I like trees and there are four large trees located on this lot (which, incidently, is 121x121). I guess you'd like to see this and before you can see it, you have to know the address. It's 105 Stix (right off Splane Drive)—you can't miss it, it's the one with the trees and double carport, remember? Pay the closing costs of approximately 375.00 and we'll give you the keys to the house with the trees.

HONESTLY...

we can't understand why we still have this one! It's 100 per cent G. I., located at 2710 North Eighth in West Monroe in a nice neighborhood, and it has three bedrooms (and the attic can easily be made into another bedroom, or if you prefer, a den or playroom for the kiddies). For some G. I. here's a nice home. All that is necessary is the closing costs and you can move right in. If you're curious about what's inside, here are just a few of the many attractions: 42" attic fan; floor furnace; washer plumbing; enclosed garage with door leading into the hall; shower in the bath; house has just been painted inside and out and this home is only 3½ years old. Can you understand it?

ONCE IN A WHILE...

we have a home like this, but only once in a while! It's really choice in a choice neighborhood! Before I get started, let me give you the address . . . it's 1411 Park Avenue (that's a corner lot . . . 75x 240). It has been completely redecorated on the inside (first floor) and the wall to wall carpeting is "lucious." There are 12' ceilings, real fireplace in the living room and one in a bedroom, three floor furnaces downstairs, and three baths (all tile) with three showers. And for summer living there's a breezeway and two sun porches, not to mention the two car garage. Only once in a while is there a home like this . . . call now for an appointment.

$37.00 A MONTH...

Hard to believe, isn't it? But, it's true. It's located at 708 Adcock Street. This two bedroom home is on a 50x150 lot, has aluminum tension screens, metal Venetian blinds, natural woodwork, Youngstown metal sink. So, if you've a "bashful budget" you'd better see this one. Only $853.00 down and $37.00 a month is all it takes.

GOING NUTS...

trying to find a home large enough for your family? Well, we've got the goods. It's a three-bedroom home (two of them in fact) located at 506 and 510 Cryer and they're brand new. The rooms (all of 'em) are good sizes and when you walk around, you'll see such things as . . . metal Venetian blinds to match each room, nice closet space, 42" attic fan, asphalt tile floors, three panel ray heaters, Vent-a-hood, and the carport has two roomy storerooms. By the way, it's convenient for the kiddies . . . the grammar school is right across the street and the new high school just one block. There's an interesting down payment and the monthly payments are around 58.00 a month. Stop pulling your hair . . . call now for a showing.

MOTHERS...

. . . now that school is out, possibly you're beginning to dread the thought of your youngsters playing and riding bicycles in busy streets. Wouldn't this summer be a lot easier for you if the kids could "romp in the country"? Well . . . if that the case, we've a 2-year old home on a 150'x250' lot with nice trees that's priced so low, you may wonder what's the trouble. The home has 1473 sq. feet of living area with (2) massive bedrooms; central heat; a 9'x23' den; an enclosed garage; attic fan and "oodles" of other features. It's located on the RESTFUL HOME ROAD (W. M.) and only $650 down to a G. I. makes the move. How about lookin' today?

DON'T GET CAUGHT . . .

. . . again this summer in a "steaming" apartment when so little down ($900) buys so much house (with a 42" attic fan) in such a desirable neighborhood located at 103 GRAYLING LANE! There are 1036 sq. feet in this one, included among are: floor furnace; new 30-gal. water heater; 2 nice size bedrooms; large living room and separate dining room; private fenced backyard; oak floors and it's selling for only $6900 which is $600 less than FHA value!

100% G. I.

When you can buy this nice two-bedroom home at 408 Moore by merely paying the closing costs, you're silly not to pick up the phone this minute and ask to see it! It has a separate garage, side porch, nice oak floors, metal Venetian blinds, 42" attic fan (sure will be nice this summer), floor furnace, serving bar in the kitchen and other attractive features that will make you want to sign the papers then and there! Go on . . . walk over to the phone and dial NOW!

WANTA' PEEK . . .

. . . at one of the most imposing homes on JASMINE ST? Well . . . if you're "cool" to the idea, maybe this will stimulate your desire! To begin with it's on a 65'x150' lot with nice trees and the back yard is a "kid's Delight." Among the 1253 sq. feet of the home are these features: two 13'x14' bedrooms; well-proportioned living room with a roomy separate dining room; there's a side screened porch; attic fan; attic is insulated and attic has storage. It's also wired for 220 volts as is the laundry room with washer plumbing and dryer wiring. Got 30 minutes to spare today?

I'M BEGGING . . .

. . for a "lady of the house" who has the time to look after me like I'd like, even though I'm now gettin' good attention. When I was built a year ago, little did she realize I was so big (over 1200 sq. feet of living area)! Now . . . they want somethin' smaller, so wouldn't you enjoy my 75'x150' lot? My wall-to-wall carpeting in living room? My mammoth pine-paneled kitchen? My glowing pine-paneled den? My (2) large bedrooms (both with sliding door closets)? I'm new and located on S. 6th St. (just a coupla' blocks from the Plum St. Grammar) and I'll 100 per cent G. I. "I'M BEGGING!"

"EVERYTHING GOES . . .

STACKED? WOW!

40,000 bricks combined with expert craftsmanship and modern ideas have produced the most original home in Monroe! From the white crushed marble roof to the Roman brick chimney and fireplace wall . . . it's a "dilly"! There are 1276 sq. feet of living area alone plus garage and storage; living room has wall-to-wall carpeting; it's of solid brick construction for a lifetime of trouble-free comfort; it has central heating and aluminum frame windows; it's on a corner lot with 130' frontage and only $810 down to a G. I. makes the move. Total price is $16,200 and it's on SANDEL DRIVE in Spanish City.

SKIN DEEP?

Not this one, for once you're inside all of the comfortable features will begin to "smack" you in the face! The 13'x19' living room has livability written all over it; there's an 11'x11' dining room; a delightful side screened porch; (2) spacious bedrooms; well-arranged kitchen with unusually nice storage and washer plumbing; there's a garage and a host of other features that'll "smack" you in the face when you see it! It's on a corner lot at 1511 N. 7th in Monroe and priced at only $10,500.

WANTA KNOW . . .

where a house is with low monthly payments? Well, without further ado, it's located at 1500 Alabama. Now, I guess you'd like a few details . . . well, here they are: natural woodwork throughout, nice closet space, floor furnace, 36" attic fan, nice wallpaper, oak floors, shower in bath. Wanta see? If so, dial pronto!

WANTED . . .

a family looking for a home with two bedrooms and a den away from the noises of the city! It's a nice, well-kept home. Read on and discover a few of the features . . . Automatic shutter fan; 4 wall heaters; shower in bath; copper plumbing throughout; washer plumbing in storeroom; double sink; Oh, by the way, this one's located on Blair Street on an 80x195 foot corner lot . . . When you drive by, you can't miss it for it's absolutely "beaming." $1,353 down and monthly payments of only $58.89 makes it yours. See it . . . you'll be glad you did.

100% G. I.

Here's one I like . . . mainly because it's right new (just 3 years old) and mainly because it has a big double carport with storeroom, a separate dining room, nice oak floors, 42" attic fan, floor furnace, huge linen closet in bath and mainly, because I like trees and there are four large trees located on this lot (which, incidently, is 121x121). I guess you'd like to see this and before you can see it, you have to know the address. It's 105 Stix (right off Splane Drive)—you can't miss it, it's the one with the trees and double carport, remember? Pay the closing costs of approximately 375.00 and we'll give you the keys to the house with the trees.

HONESTLY . . .

we can't understand why we still have this one! It's 100 per cent G. I., located at 2710 North Eighth in West Monroe in a nice neighborhood, and it has three bedrooms (and the attic can easily be made into another bedroom, or if you prefer, a den or playroom for the kiddies). For some G. I. here's a nice home. All that is necessary is the closing costs and you can move right in. If you're curious about what's inside, here are just a few of the many attractions: 42" attic fan; floor furnace; washer plumbing; enclosed garage with door leading into the hall; shower in the bath; house has just been painted inside and out and this home is only 3½ years old. Can you understand it?

ONCE IN A WHILE . . .

we have a home like this, but only once in a while! It's really choice in a choice neighborhood! Before I get started, let me give you the address . . . it's 1411 Park Avenue (that's a corner lot . . . 75x240). It has been completely redecorated on the inside (first floor) and the wall to wall carpeting is "lucious." There are 12' ceilings, real fireplace in the living room and one in a bedroom, three floor furnaces downstairs, and three baths (all tile) with three showers. And for summer living there's a breezeway and two sun porches, not to mention the two car garage. Only once in a while is there a home like this . . . call now for an appointment.

$37.00 A MONTH . . .

Hard to believe, isn't it? But, it's true. It's located at 708 Adcock Street. This two bedroom home is on a 50x150 lot, has aluminum tension screens, metal Venetian blinds, natural woodwork, Youngstown metal sink. So, if you've a "bashful budget" you'd better see this one. Only $853.00 down and $37.00 a month is all it takes.

GOING NUTS . . .

trying to find a home large enough for your family? Well, we've got the goods. It's a three-bedroom home (two of them in fact) located at 506 and 510 Cryer and they're brand new. The rooms (all of 'em) are good sizes and when you walk around, you'll see such things as . . . metal Venetian blinds to match each room, nice closet space, 42" attic fan, asphalt tile floors, three panel ray heaters, Vent-a-hood, and the carport has two roomy storerooms. By the way, it's convenient for the kiddies . . . the grammar school is right across the street and the new high school just one block. There's an interesting down payment and the monthly payments are around 58.00 a month. Stop pulling your hair . . . call now for a showing.

MOTHERS . . .

. . . now that school is out, possibly you're beginning to dread the thought of your youngsters playing and riding bicycles in busy streets. Wouldn't this summer be a lot easier for you if the kids could "romp in the country"? Well . . . if that the case, we've a 2-year old home on a 150'x250' lot with nice trees that's priced so low, you may wonder what's the trouble. The home has 1473 sq. feet of living area with (2) massive bedrooms; central heat; a 9'x23' den; an enclosed garage; attic fan and "oodles" of other features. It's located on the RESTFUL HOME ROAD (W. M.) and only $650 down to a G. I. makes the move. How about lookin' today?

MRS. EUGENE J. SIEVERS JR. and baby daughter, Patti who, with Lieutenant Sievers left this week for Camp Gordon, Georgia for several months.

Croslow-Newcomer Vows Said In Church Ceremony

The First Methodist Church in West Monroe was the setting for an impressive double ring ceremony which united Miss Peggy Ann Newcomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen Newcomer, and Everette A. Croslow, son of Mrs. Allie Mae Coleman of Blytheville, Ark. Dr. Ernest Holloway read the nuptial vows at five - thirty o'clock Saturday evening, May 22.

The church altar was banked with greenery and magnolia blossoms against a myriad of white cathedral tapers in branched candelabra.

Miss Jane Wallace presented the nuptial music and accompanied Miss Polly Ragland who sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a waltz-length wedding gown of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over taffeta. Her bolero of Chantilly lace was fashioned with a standing collar and tight fitting sleeves which came to points over the wrist. The lace skirt featured a panel of tulle. A Juliet cap of satin covered with Chantilly lace and seed pearls held her finger - tip veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of tube roses centered with a white orchid and mounted on a white satin prayer book.

Mrs. C. R. Russell, Jr., was matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a patio - length gown of pale green net over taffeta with a matching headdress. Her bouquet was of magnolias with dark green satin streamers.

Mr. James W. Moore served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Kent Anderson, Virgil Perkins, W. G. Newcomer and Bill Wardlow.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a light blue linen model trimmed in white with seed pearls around the neck and white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Mrs. Coleman, the bridegroom's mother, was becomingly attired in a soft blue linen with white accessories and an orchid.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in the church parlor.

The bride's table was overlaid with a white satin cloth and centered with a tiered arrangement of gardenias. The three - tiered wedding cake was placed opposite the silver punch service.

For traveling, the bride changed to a two - piece white shantung model with an aqua hat and black accessories. They will make their home in Memphis, Tenn.

The bride is a granduate of Ouachita Parish High School and was a member of Delta Beta Sigma sorority.

Mr. Croslow graduated from the University of Arkansas.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wardlow; Mr. Virgil Perkins of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Allie Coleman of Blytheville, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Boudoin of Franklin; Mrs. Maude Boudoin of Abbeville; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jackson of Lake Charles; Mrs. Harry Stone of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. R. L. Jackson of Gilbert; Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Trussell and Mrs. Erdman Mabrey of Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. Will Rolfe of Oak Ridge; Mrs. W. R. Baker of Bastrop.

Miss Blanchard To Wed In June

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde C. Blanchard announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Georgia Ann, to John Hardy Filhiol, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Baptiste Filhiol, Jr.

The wedding date has been set for June 21 at St. Matthews Catholic Church.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lee Moore of Monroe. Mr. Filhiol is the son of Mrs. John Filhiol and the late Mr. John Filhiol of this city.

They will make their home in Monroe.

A discarded pill bottle is a handy container for the baby oil you keep on your make-up tray. It's just the right size to dip in a cotton-tipped stick.

Golson-Jones Wedding Plans Are Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Florence Leonard Jones of Monroe, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Martha Agnes, to Mr. Fred Key Golson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Key Golson, Sr., also of Monroe. The wedding will take place July 10, at the First Methodist Church.

Miss Jones is a graduate of Neville High School, Northeast Junior College, Louisiana State University and the School of Physical Therapy of New Orleans. While a student at L. S. U., she was a member of Phi Mu social sorority and Phi Kappa Phi honorary fraternity.

Mr. Golson is a graduate of Winnfield High School and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute of Ruston. After graduation he served two years as a second lieutenant in the United States.

Miss Jones will have her cousin, Mrs. Jim Ashley, Wichita Falls, Texas, as matron of honor. Other attendants will be Mrs. Guy Breese Jones, Mrs. Robert Mackinley Holt, twin sister of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. Jack Lane of Washington, D. C.

Mr. Fred Crenshaw will serve as best man. The groomsmen will include Mr. Guy Breese Jones, brother of the bride elect, Mr. Robert Mackinley Holt, and Mr. Hudson Tomlinson.

If you're house - hunting, don't let attractive incidentals prevent your looking for fundamental features. It's a good idea to make a list of those features before setting out. Don't forget to look for such things as good insulation in walls and floors, plenty of storage space, carefully finished moldings, halls with good width.

If you're house - hunting, don't let attractive incidentals prevent your looking for fundamental features. It's a good idea to make a list of those features before setting out. Don't forget to look for such things as good insulation in walls and floors, plenty of storage space, carefully finished moldings, halls with good width.

Croslow-Newcomer Vows Said In Church Ceremony

The First Methodist Church in West Monroe was the setting for an impressive double ring ceremony which united Miss Peggy Ann Newcomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen Newcomer, and Everette A. Croslow, son of Mrs. Allie Mae Coleman of Blytheville, Ark. Dr. Ernest Holloway read the nuptial vows at five - thirty o'clock Saturday evening, May 22.

The church altar was banked with greenery and magnolia blossoms against a myriad of white cathedral tapers in branched candelabra.

Miss Jane Wallace presented the nuptial music and accompanied Miss Polly Ragland who sang "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a waltz-length wedding gown of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over taffeta. Her bolero of Chantilly lace was fashioned with a standing collar and tight fitting sleeves which came to points over the wrist. The lace skirt featured a panel of tulle. A Juliet cap of satin covered with Chantilly lace and seed pearls held her finger - tip veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of tube roses centered with a white orchid and mounted on a white satin prayer book.

Mrs. C. R. Russell, Jr., was matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a patio - length gown of pale green net over taffeta with a matching headdress. Her bouquet was of magnolias with dark green satin streamers.

Mr. James W. Moore served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Kent Anderson, Virgil Perkins, W. G. Newcomer and Bill Wardlow.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a light blue linen model trimmed in white with seed pearls around the neck and white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid.

Mrs. Coleman, the bridegroom's mother, was becomingly attired in a soft blue linen with white accessories and an orchid.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding in the church parlor.

The bride's table was overlaid with a white satin cloth and centered with a tiered arrangement of gardenias. The three - tiered wedding cake was placed opposite the silver punch service.

For traveling, the bride changed to a two - piece white shantung model with an aqua hat and black accessories. They will make their home in Memphis, Tenn.

The bride is a granduate of Ouachita Parish High School and was a member of Delta Beta Sigma sorority.

Mr. Croslow graduated from the University of Arkansas.

Girl Scout News

All kinds of interesting things go on in Scouting this time of year, so many that some of them will have to wait until other columns.

First, we'd better mention the swimming classes which begin tomorrow at 3:00 at the municipal pool. Girl Scouts have sponsored swimming classes which begin tomorrow at 3:00 at the municipal pool. Girl Scouts have sponsored swimming lessons for many years now and we know many excellent swimmers who have had no other instruction. There are classes for all, from the non - swimmers to the girls who are eligible for lifesaving, that is, are twelve years old or will be at least in the seventh grade next fall.

Parents have been enrolling daughters all week at the office. Arrangements must be made there, not at the pool. A doctor's statement that a girl is physically able to participate must be filed at the office before a girl is allowed to join a class. It's not too late, yet, as the classes last until the 25th. Better see about it tomorrow if you haven't done so yet. Fliers containing details have been given out in Scout troops and are available at the office.

Beverly Hatchell and Julie Wooley are two of the instructors. That's a guarantee of good teaching and fun in learning, as far as we are concerned.

Two cookie overnights have been held recently, with girls who qualified for the '54 awards having a good time getting acquainted with each other and doing the usual activities such as cooking, hiking, capers, swinging on the grapevine, enjoying singing and games around a campfire. They made ice cream, too, always fun to make and eat.

The first group accompanied by Janet Andrews, Lorraine Ragland, and Annis Klie, had quite an adventurous hike. Many of the more familiar paths are covered with backwater now, so the group proceeded to try out new places and directions, with the result that they were an unusually long time getting back to camp and to lunch. Just a part of the adventure that makes good camping!

Many will agree that there's nothing like the thrill of one's first night at camp. Mrs. Charles Cason and Mrs. Elton Upshaw found that true of the twelve fly-ups of Troop 26 that they took to camp last week end. They reported that everything went as smoothly as if the girls had been camping all their lives.

The girls learned to make campfire stew for supper and enjoyed every bite of it, along with the ever - popular some mores for dessert. Dramatizations, including paper bag dramatics, and learning new songs made campfire fun. Afterward, someone spied the big dipper directly overhead and the group became interested in learning some of the constellations visible at that time. Everyone was asleep soon after 9:00. Florence Cason says, so as to be ready for next day's fun.

Morning and evening color ceremonies, a nature scavenger hunt, which taught the girls to observe a great many interesting things in the woods, including blooms on the Spanish moss, swinging on the grapevine, and doing capers cheerfully so as to leave the place spic and span, were other activities of the campers, who were: Suzanne Cason, Judy Clark, Sheila Culp, Judy Fairchild, Mary Ellen Francis, Susan Hubka, Joyce Humble, Joyce Mullins, Pamela Sims, Rosemary Upshaw, Linda Welch, and Sharon Griffith.

Before placing freshly cut flowers into a vase, snip off the ends with a sharp knife so that the stems will be able to absorb the water freely. A knife is preferable to scissors, since the latter may pinch the water - conducting tube.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am 30, have been married for 10 years and am the father of four children. My wife and I have been miserable for the last three years and we have been separated for the last year (this is the second separation). Recently I met a wonderful girl with whom I could really be happy the rest of my life and have now filed for a divorce.

She said the children made no difference, as she loved me. However, as soon as her mother knew that we planned to marry she nagged at my girl until she dated other boys, too. She says it is only to please her mother. Her mother constantly reminds her that she will be tied down with my children. Can the girl really love me and date others? Why doesn't she stand up to her mother? Should I fight for her or give her up?—S. B.

Give up. Any girl who must take on the care or responsibility of four children in order to marry you will have to love you like no one ever loved before! She would be willing to fight through a herd of dragons (Ollie, do dragons come in "herds?" instead of being cowed by one mother. Either the girl is under her mother's thumb, which means she will never marry you, or she is dating others because she wants to. Incidentally, you would be wise not to think of marrying with your entanglements. What have you got to offer? And, the girl will have to be more than just "wonderful" — she'll have to be a saint. After traveling along the road for 10 years with your wife and bringing four children into the world, your best bet is to expend all your efforts — with or without the aid of trained help—toward making a go of your marriage.

Dear Ann: I am 16. Four years ago I liked a boy who jilted me. Try as I might, I can't forget him. I hear from others that he speaks of me even though he has had several girls since. Do you think I am in love or is it a figment of my imagination, as my friends say?—Wondering

Just a common case of wanting what you can't have. It must be catching because we've all had it time and time again. Make every effort to date the boy again and get him out of your system. If that doesn't work, you'll have to carry him around with you for most of your life (there's one in every closet). No, you are not necessarily in love with the boy—as you would find out if you could date him again.

P. S. Kind of an early-in-life "jilt," wasn't it?

Dear Ann Landers: Five years ago when we bought and moved into our own house our neighbor requested us not to allow our four children to run across his lawn as they might harm his plants. We respected his wishes. The next summer we bought the children a puppy but when the neighbor complained about the noise, we gave it away.

Now the neighbor has a dog for his children, keeps it penned up on the driveway under our windows and allows the children to play there and the dog to cry and whine to be let out all day. It is making me highly nervous. I want them to take the dog into their yard and have told the boys so, but they pay no attention. What do you think I should do? — Mrs. F.A.B.

The neighbor didn't hesitate to tell you what to do, now just trot right next door and have a talk with him about fairness, reciprocation and the good-neighbor policy.

Girl Scout News

All kinds of interesting things go on in Scouting this time of year, so many that some of them will have to wait until other columns.

First, we'd better mention the swimming classes which begin tomorrow at 3:00 at the municipal pool. Girl Scouts have sponsored swimming classes which begin tomorrow at 3:00 at the municipal pool. Girl Scouts have sponsored swimming lessons for many years now and we know many excellent swimmers who have had no other instruction. There are classes for all, from the non - swimmers to the girls who are eligible for lifesaving, that is, are twelve years old or will be at least in the seventh grade next fall.

Parents have been enrolling daughters all week at the office. Arrangements must be made there, not at the pool. A doctor's statement that a girl is physically able to participate must be filed at the office before a girl is allowed to join a class. It's not too late, yet, as the classes last until the 25th. Better see about it tomorrow if you haven't done so yet. Fliers containing details have been given out in Scout troops and are available at the office.

Beverly Hatchell and Julie Wooley are two of the instructors. That's a guarantee of good teaching and fun in learning, as far as we are concerned.

Two cookie overnights have been held recently, with girls who qualified for the '54 awards having a good time getting acquainted with each other and doing the usual activities such as cooking, hiking, capers, swinging on the grapevine, enjoying singing and games around a campfire. They made ice cream, too, always fun to make and eat.

The first group accompanied by Janet Andrews, Lorraine Ragland, and Annis Klie, had quite an adventurous hike. Many of the more familiar paths are covered with backwater now, so the group proceeded to try out new places and directions, with the result that they were an unusually long time getting back to camp and to lunch. Just a part of the adventure that makes good camping!

Many will agree that there's nothing like the thrill of one's first night at camp. Mrs. Charles Cason and Mrs. Elton Upshaw found that true of the twelve fly-ups of Troop 26 that they took to camp last week end. They reported that everything went as smoothly as if the girls had been camping all their lives.

The girls learned to make campfire stew for supper and enjoyed every bite of it, along with the ever - popular some mores for dessert. Dramatizations, including paper bag dramatics, and learning new songs made campfire fun. Afterward, someone spied the big dipper directly overhead and the group became interested in learning some of the constellations visible at that time. Everyone was asleep soon after 9:00. Florence Cason says, so as to be ready for next day's fun.

Morning and evening color ceremonies, a nature scavenger hunt, which taught the girls to observe a great many interesting things in the woods, including blooms on the Spanish moss, swinging on the grapevine, and doing capers cheerfully so as to leave the place spic and span, were other activities of the campers, who were: Suzanne Cason, Judy Clark, Sheila Culp, Judy Fairchild, Mary Ellen Francis, Susan Hubka, Joyce Humble, Joyce Mullins, Pamela Sims, Rosemary Upshaw, Linda Welch, and Sharon Griffith.

Before placing freshly cut flowers into a vase, snip off the ends with a sharp knife so that the stems will be able to absorb the water freely. A knife is preferable to scissors, since the latter may pinch the water - conducting tubes.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Mrs. Landers: I am 30, have been married for 10 years and am the father of four children. My wife and I have been miserable for the last three years and we have been separated for the last year (this is the second separation). Recently I met a wonderful girl with whom I could really be happy the rest of my life and have now filed for a divorce.

She said the children made no difference, as she loved me. However, as soon as her mother knew that we planned to marry she nagged at my girl until she dated other boys, too. She says it is only to please her mother. Her mother constantly reminds her that she will be tied down with my children. Can the girl really love me and date others? Why doesn't she stand up to her mother? Should I fight for her or give her up?—S. B.

Give up. Any girl who must take on the care or responsibility of four children in order to marry you will have to love you like no one ever loved before! She would be willing to fight through a herd of dragons (Ollie, do dragons come in "herds?" instead of being cowed by one mother. Either the girl is under her mother's thumb, which means she will never marry you, or she is dating others because she wants to. Incidentally, you would be wise not to think of marrying with your entanglements. What have you got to offer? And, the girl will have to be more than just "wonderful" — she'll have to be a saint. After traveling along the road for 10 years with your wife and bringing four children into the world, your best bet is to expend all your efforts — with or without the aid of trained help—toward making a go of your marriage.

Dear Ann: I am 16. Four years ago I liked a boy who jilted me. Try as I might, I can't forget him. I hear from others that he speaks of me even though he has had several girls since. Do you think I am in love or is it a figment of my imagination, as my friends say?—Wondering

Just a common case of wanting what you can't have. It must be catching because we've all had it time and time again. Make every effort to date the boy again and get him out of your system. If that doesn't work, you'll have to carry him around with you for most of your life (there's one in every closet). No, you are not necessarily in love with the boy—as you would find out if you could date him again.

P. S. Kind of an early-in-life "jilt," wasn't it?

Dear Ann Landers: Five years ago when we bought and moved into our own house our neighbor requested us not to allow our four children to run across his lawn as they might harm his plants. We respected his wishes. The next summer we bought the children a puppy but when the neighbor complained about the noise, we gave it away.

Now the neighbor has a dog for his children, keeps it penned up on the driveway under our windows and allows the children to play there and the dog to cry and whine to be let out all day. It is making me highly nervous. I want them to take the dog into their yard and have told the boys so, but they pay no attention. What do you think I should do? — Mrs. F.A.B.

The neighbor didn't hesitate to tell you what to do, now just trot right next door and have a talk with him about fairness, reciprocation and the good-neighbor policy.

YWCA Activities

Someone asked, "Well, aren't there any activities going on at the YWCA anymore?" The reply is that there has been so much going on that "the Y reporter" did not even have time to report!

Supper on Monday night with the YRG's and a "special affair": a picnic at the Ed Caldwell's camp and the wedding of Annie Dee Powell and B. Pitts at the YWCA have kept all the YRG's busy. The Y'ves' have been busy with their regular club meetings, one of which was a demonstration meeting at the new United Gas Building with Miss Aline Lasseigne in charge, their party at the Commercial Solvents camp, and their barbecue to entertain their husbands at the YWCA.

The Business Girls' Club has a Mother - Daughter Party and the girls themselves presented their program: a skit: "Just One Woman," have had a "rummage sale" for their club project, and have been making plans for their summer activities and election of officers for 1954-55.

The Y-Teens have been working on the questionnaire for the delegates from Monroe to have at the MidSouth Y-Teen conference, have been having "socials" to close out their year's program, have had their ring ceremonial at which time Friendship rings were awarded to the girls from each club who represented "A true Y-Teen." Rings were awarded to Nettie Marie Bacle, Evelyn Cummings, Mary Pearl Coates, Alice Wood, Lynda Eby, Joy Goza, all from the clubs of Ouachita Parish High School and Grammar School; to Julia Mae George and Ann Foster from Lenwil School; and to Peggy Venable from Crosley School.

The YWCA Board of Directors with Mrs. Ed Ellison and Mrs. N. W. McHenry acting as the "hostesses" in charge entertained the Community Chest Board of Directors and the YWCA Advisory Board with a luncheon on Friday, May 21, at the YWCA.

News From The Public Library

Again this week the Ouachita Parish Public Library added a number of new books of fiction to the library collection. There are books for every type of reader, so if you like to read, there will be no dearth of material for you. Books with a modern setting are preferred by a number of readers and there are three of this type among this week's additions. "The Magicians" by J. B. Priestley is a lively, unorthodox and revealing story of a middle-aged man who believed his life was over, but discovered it had just begun. "Jane Cameron Schoolmarm" by Ritt G. Brady is a fascinating career story for older girls and young women. "A Time To Live and A Time To Die" by Erich Maria Remarque is a story of Germany in the last war. It is written with great poignancy and depth by the author of "All Quiet on the Western Front."

Readers who enjoyed "White Witch Doctor" by Louise A. Stinetorf will welcome her new novel "Beyond the Hungry Country." This is another story with an African setting and will be a most popular and entertaining book.

Historical novels continue to be popular. Among this week's books there are six of this type, three with a setting in our own country and two with an English setting, while one is a religious historical novel. There should be something to interest every reader.

First, let us look at the three with an American setting. "Star in the Rigging" by Garland Roark is a story of the Texas Navy in the years just preceeding the Mexican war. "Dan'l Boone Kissed Me" by Felix Holt is a warm, human story of Tennessee in the year 1840. "Troubled Border" by T. D. Allen is a novel about the pioneers who won the Pacific Northwest for America."

Heading the list of the novels with an English setting is "Mary Anne" by Daphne du Maurier. It is a novel based on one of the liveliest scandals that ever rocked the House of Commons. "Sir Rogue" by Leslie Turner White has for its setting the Elizabethan period and involves a fascinating journey to Russia and bids fair to be more popular than the author's previous "Lord Johnnie."

"The Darkness" by Evan John is a religious historical novel and is concerned with the Crufixion of Christ. It is a book that has a profound affect on the reader.

Now that most of the clubs have disbanded for the summer, everyone should have more time to read. The Ouachita Parish Public Library is ready to fill your needs.

To remove grease and food oil from wallpaper make a paste from denatured alcohol or carbon tetrachloride and magnesium, which you can get at the drugstore. Pack the paste on the spot very carefully; do not rub. After paste has been on a long while, brush off. It may be necessary to repeat the process.

The easiest way to wash down bathroom or kitchen walls is steam the room first. Let the hot water run in the tub for a while or keep the kettle going in the kitchen. Then, when walls are covered with light mist, simply go over them with long-handled cleaner.

Carolyn Rogers Pledges Troth In Shreveport

The Broadmoor Presbyterian Church was the scene Saturday evening, May 15, at 7:30 o'clock of a beautiful wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Carolyn Sue Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Oliver Rogers of Monroe, and Captain Edward Woodside Snelling of Greenville, S. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snelling of Greenville, S. C. The Rev. Thomas E. Duncan officiated at the nuptial service.

The altar was tastefully decorated with floor baskets filled with white gladioli, greenery and lighted tapers. Mrs. Thomas Duncan rendered a program of music which included "At Dawning," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," "O, Lord Most Holy" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Duncan also accompanied Miss Jo Nell Parker who sang "O Promise Me" and "Because."

The bride was preceeded down the aisle by her maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Jean Rooker, who was gowned in a waltz-length model of pale blue chiffon complemented by a matching hat. Miss Rooker carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Roy O. Rogers gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was attired in a lovely waltz-length gown of cell blue Chantilly lace designed with a high, round neckline, tiny sleeves, moulded bodice and an extremely bouffant skirt posed over hoops. A small leaf-shaped evening hat of matching cell blue finished with a brow veil completed her attire and she carried a white Bible topped by a single white orchid nestled in stephanotis blossoms from which cascaded white satin ribbon streamers.

Charles Snelling served his son as best man and the ushers were Bill Guines, George Alexander and Charles Snelling, Jr., brother of the bridegroom.

Immediately following the exchange of vows, Mrs. James Dent Williams was hostess in her home on Arthur drive at a reception complimenting the bride and bridegroom.

White flowers predominated in the gloral decorations throughout the house and a bouquet of bridal-white blossoms centered the bride's table in the dining room. At one end of the table was the tiered wedding cake over which Miss Dovie Trench presided. Miss Bobbie Griffen served punch from the crystal punch bowl at the opposite end of the table. Assisting in the serving courtesies were Mrs. Sam Adler and Mrs. Jean Stiles Florio.

Later in the evening, Captain and Mrs. Snelling left on their wedding trip to Florida. Mrs. Snelling chose for travelling a navy faille dressmaker suit accented with white hat and accessories. A white orchid formed her corsage. From Florida, the bride and bridegroom will go to Quantico, Va., where Captain Snelling is stationed with the Marine Corps.

Carolyn Rogers Pledges Troth In Shreveport

The Broadmoor Presbyterian Church was the scene Saturday evening, May 15, at 7:30 o'clock of a beautiful wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Carolyn Sue Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Oliver Rogers of Monroe, and Captain Edward Woodside Snelling of Greenville, S. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snelling of Greenville, S. C. The Rev. Thomas E. Duncan officiated at the nuptial service.

The altar was tastefully decorated with floor baskets filled with white gladioli, greenery and lighted tapers. Mrs. Thomas Duncan rendered a program of music which included "At Dawning," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," "O, Lord Most Holy" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Duncan also accompanied Miss Jo Nell Parker who sang "O Promise Me" and 'Because."

The bride was preceeded down the aisle by her maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Jean Rooker, who was gowned in a waltz-length model of pale blue chiffon complemented by a matching hat. Miss Rooker carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Roy O. Rogers gave his daughter in marriage. The bride was attired in a lovely waltz-length gown of ceil blue Chantilly lace designed with a high, round neckline, tiny sleeves, moulded bodice and an extremely bouffant skirt posed over hoops. A small leaf-shaped evening hat of matching ceil blue finished with a brow veil completed her attire and she carried a white Bible, topped by a single white orchid nestled in stephanotis blossoms from which cascaded white satin ribbon streamers.

Charles Snelling served his son as best man and the ushers were Bill Guines, George Alexander and Charles Snelling, Jr., brother of the bridegroom.

Immediately following the exchange of vows, Mrs. James Dent Williams was hostess in her home on Arthur drive at a reception complimenting the bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Williams greeted guests at the door and ushered them into the living room where the bridal party and the parents of the bride and bridegroom formed the receiving line.

White flowers predominated in the gloral decorations throughout the house and a bouquet of bridal-white blossoms centered the bride's table in the dining room. At one end of the table was the tiered wedding cake over which Miss Dovie Trench presided. Miss Bobbie Griffen served punch from the crystal punch bowl at the opposite end of the table. Assisting in the serving courtesies were Mrs. Sam Adler and Mrs. Jean Stiles Florio.

Later in the evening, Captain and Mrs. Snelling left on their wedding trip to Florida. Mrs. Snelling chose for travelling a navy faille dressmaker suit accented with white hat and accessories. A white orchid formed her corsage. From Florida, the bride and bridegroom will go to Quantico, Va., where Captain Snelling is stationed with the Marine Corps.

Food Preservation Dem. To Be Given

Miss Estelle Fournet, extension food preservation specialist, will demonstrate making pickles Tuesday, June 1st at 9:30 a. m. in the agricultural auditorium. Food preservation leaders and pantry demonstrators are especially urged to attend. However, this meeting is not for leaders only — anyone interested is invited to get this information by seeing this demonstration.

Harvesting Onions

We have had many calls on harvesting onions in the past week. Harvest onions when most of the tops have fallen over. Creole onions should be lifted, and cured in the sun or partial shade, then tied in bundles by the tops and hung in a cool, well ventilated place where there is cross ventilation if possible.

The creole is the only onion that will keep well in this damp climate when harvested. "Don't try to store onions of bermuda type" says Joseph Montelaro, L. S. U. associate agricultural extension horticulturist. "They do not keep well — use them immediately."

Be sure to save shallots, for according to reports, sets for planting this fall are likely to be scarce.

Fly Control

Everywhere we hear complaints about so many flies. There are new baits to use in controling flies on the market recommended by the entomologist of L. S. U. extension service.

These baits are known as shaker bait or fly flakes, so called because you can put them in a can or jar and punch holes in the lid and sprinkle lightly wherever the flies congregate. You can scatter these flakes by hand, if you wear rubber gloves.

These flakes are coated with a mixture of 1 per cent malathion, a new fly-killing chemical, and another substance that draws flies.

Malathion is very definitely a poison — so keep the bait away from children and livestock, including chicken and do not use it inside the home or the milk room.

Spray Figs

Our fig trees are again old enough to bear (they were killed by freeze) and it looks like we will have a good crop again this year. Let's keep these fig trees free of leaf blight and rust by spraying them with 4-4-50 Bordaux mixture now and again in 30 days—add to this last spray seven pounds of wettable sulfur to each 100 gallons of spray to protect tree from rust.

To reduce damage of a number of insects dust or spray the base of the tree with DDT or chlordane. This treatment will kill ants and sometimes prevent attacks of mealy bugs

Food Preservation Recipes

The best and most reliable recipes for pickles, relishes, jam, preserves, etc. for canning and freezing are given in the bulletins provided by the extension service. These bulletins are available by calling 3-2251.

A jelly making demonstration is being given at each Home Demonstration Club by the home demonstration agent. You are invited to attend the club nearest you and see this demonstration.

Vinca Plants

Mr. Parker the caretaker, at the Agriculture Building in West Monroe says he has some periwinkle (vinca) plants to give away — call him at 3-2251 if interested.

Miss Wallace And Miss M'Dade Give Spring Concert

The Music and Fine Arts Department of Northeast State continued its series of spring concerts with the presentation of two music students in senior recital. Miss Jane Wallace of West Monroe, daughter of Mrs. Frank Collins, and Miss Mary Ann McDade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McDade of Oak Grove, appeared in a joint recital of piano solos and concertos in the recital hall of the Fine Arts building.

Beautiful floral arrangements and unusual illumination of the stage added notably to the impressiveness of the atmosphere.

Miss McDade contributed solos from Bach, Debussy, Rachmaninoff and Sinding She played with earnest devotion to the music and gave expression t omuch embodied therein. Those who have followed with interest this young pianist's development within the past several years, voiced keen satisfaction in the progress she has achieved. A gay "Rondo" from the Concerto in G. by Jean Pasquet was the attractive closing number of Miss McDade's second group.

Miss Wallace performed as a first group the taxing Italian Concerto of J. S. Bach, and as a second offering brought her interpretation of Mendelssohn's radiantly appealing Concerto in G Minor. The technical, melodic, harmonic and emotional portions were treated with intelligence and versatility, and combined into a gratifying presentation in total. A final group consisted of contemporary solos chosen from works of Jurriann Andriessen, David Guion, Dechekov and Salvadore Ley. Miss Wallace shows a particular flair for this style of playing — a preference no doubt – and again revealed herself to be a pianist who can comprehensibly and artfully recreate for the composer when she sets herself to the task.

Both Miss McDade and Miss Wallace are students of Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton of the music faculty, who provided support for their concertos at the second piano.

A large, responsive audience heard the final recital of these two seniors, and was sincerely enthusiastic regarding present attainments and future possibilities of both talented performers.

Jackson Parish Noted For Farms Timber Wealth

By CLOMA BARRON

Jackson Parish was established in 1845 with a population of 5,566 during the administration of Gov. Alexander Mouton and was created from portions of Claiborne, Ouachita and Union Parishes, largely from the part known as the "Ouachita District when held by France and Spain. It was named for Andrew Jackson, although some say it was named for the Jackson family, early settlers.

Vernon, a little north of the center of the parish, was the early seat of government.

Many residents are of Scotch-Irish descent, coming from the Carolinas through Alabama. Not all came by boat or covered wagon. It is said that some of the women rode horseback. Surplus bedding and clothing were packed in water tight hogsheads which were supplied with shafts. A horse was hitched to this and the rolling began!

About 1815 Jesse Wyatt settled between Chatham and Vernon at what is now known as Villefarm. In the open woods of the virgin timber, the roads were the trails of the elk, deer, and bear, when Jesse Wyatt came by pack horse from Catahoula where he had landed. He traded a keg of powder to the Indians for a piece of land and established his home there.

Isom Sims, who settled six miles west of Vernon, is said to have been the largest slave owner. Ben Smith, David Clinton, Thomas Grigsby, and the Bonners were also large land holders.

Parish In 1860

The following description of Jackson parish in 1860 came from the "Louisiana Historical Quarterly."

"Over 260,000 acres, more than 50,000 in cultivation were equally divided in cotton and corn. The price of none of the lands, even the most valuable, exceeds $10 per acre, while inferior, but pretty good may be had for $3 . . . Unpromising looking lands produce surprisingly.

"The forest growth of oak, pine, hickory, beech, gum, ash, and others is heavy on ridge and bottom.

"The population of the parish is between 9,000 and 10,000, of whom rather more than a third are slaves; and it polls about 1,000 votes. There are many small planters and comparatively few large engaged in the culture of cotton."

The earliest settler in the whole section was John Stowe, who obtained from the Spanish government a grant of land lying eight or ten miles east of Vienna. He settled there in the latter part of 1802 or the early part of 1803 and lived under three flags before he harvested his first crop. When the north line of Jackson parish was run, it passed through Mr. Stowe's residence, leaving half in Union and half in Jackson. The Colvins, Feazels, and Lowreys settled near him.

Jackson parish has come a long way since those early days. It can rightfully boast of two railroads, and a splendid system of highways. The Louisiana Power and Light Company makes power available. Four pipe lines carrying natural gas across the parish — the Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company has one; the Southern Natural Gas Company, one, and the United Gas Company, two pipe lines.

Police Jury

There are seven wards with each ward having one police juror except Ward Two which has three jurors. The police jury is the governing body of the parish for the population of approximately two-thirds white and one-third Negro. The jurors are O. F. Wheelis, ward one; Louie C. Boss, ward two; Adriel Stewart, ward two; Lyman Stevenson, ward two; W. W. Anderson, ward three; Leon Pesnell, ward four; C. E. Thompson, ward 5; A. D. McGraw, ward 6; Marshall Anders, ward 7; and Mrs. Helen Pardue is the secretary - treasurer.

Other officials of the parish are I. J. Allen, Jonesboro, representative; James D. Sparks, Monroe, senator; P. E. Brown, Arcadia, district judge; E. C. McClendon, Homer, district judge; Fred L. Jackson, Homer, district attorney, and Wayne Stovall, Jonesboro, assistant district attorney.

Lloyd Bryant is sheriff; Edward Ayres, clerk of court; Dawson Barr, assessor; Mrs. Jack Wilder, registrar of voters; Kelley Buckley, veterans service officer; Mrs. Mildred Henderson, director of public welfare; and Dr. E. Blume, coroner.

Dr. E. Blume, coroner, has practiced medicine in Jackson parish for almost 47 years.

The four - story courthouse in Jonesboro was built at a cost of $250,000 and dedicated in 1939. The first courthouse was a sturdy, two - story building in Vernon, built of cypress logs. This building burned in 1878, destroying many valuable, old records.

For the next six years court was held in churches and school buildings. In 1884, the second building was erected with funds raised by private subscription. By this time, Lincoln Parish had been formed, in 1872, taking a large portion of the early Jackson Parish.

First Railroad

The first railroad, built in 1900, was as asset, which helped Jonesboro get the courthouse location. In 1910, Jonesboro became the new parish seat, and in 1912, another courthouse was dedicated.

In 1936, an explosion of undetermined origin completely demolished this beautiful building, which had been designed by Col. Stevens, of New Orleans. The present building was then constructed and has lately been renovated.

Early Churches

Since Colonial days in America it has been customary for people to build a place of worship almost simultaneously with the building of homes. Throughout Jackson Parish there were small churches from the beginning. The Brooklyn and Vernon churches are among the oldest as well as the Macedonia Baptist Church now the Jonesboro Baptist Church.

Many of the early churches had two doors, one for the men, and one for the women. The women entered one door sitting on that side of the church with the children, and the men on the other. Whole families came for miles in buggies, surreys, and wagons. Babies were often placed on quilts, laid on the floor between the benches. There were few song books and little light to read music at the evening services, but the singing was good, and the preaching sincere.

There are 53 churches in the parish today, representing 10 denominations. The count in 1947 read as follows: Assembly of God, one; Baptist 22, Catholic, one; Church of Christ, two; Church of God, one; Latter Day Saints, one; Methodist, 21; Nazarene, one; Pentecostal, two and Presbyterian, one.

In 1900, before the founding of Jonesboro, the Macedonia Church located on the site of the present Jonesboro cemetery, had a membership of approximately 100. Among the first members were Jones, Talbot, Carson, Bryant, Brown and Rhymes. The site was moved in 1902 and named the Jonesboro Baptist Church. Membership had grown to 1,099 by 1948.

The M. P. Church was built in 1902 and the M. E. was organized Feb. 12, 1905. The two churches united in 1940 and formed the Jonesboro Methodist Church.

The earliest newspaper published in Jackson Parish was "The Southern Times," published in Vernon in 1860, with G. W. McCranie as editor. Much later W. E. Bush bought the newspaper plant in Vernon and moved it to Weston, naming it the "Jackson Independent" and publishing it until 1901.

After the death of Mr. Bush, J. Dave McBride, bought the paper in 1902 and published it until 1906, when he moved to New Mexico. He sold the newspaper to Ed Bush, who with Dr. Evans, published it until A. H. Colvin, Sr., present publisher, moved to Jonesboro and bought the paper.

Modern Schools

In the early days some of the wealthier families employed tutors for the younger children and sent the older ones to boarding schools. There were a few rude, log school buildings from the first, where school was taught a short time in the summer months. Judge N. M. Smith and his wife, Mrs. Anna Calhoun Smith, were among the first to advocate better schools. Mrs. Smith taught a private school in Vernon for several years, where many teachers received their first training. Professor Wales established a school at Weston about 1891, which grew into a first-class high school.

At the present time there are five modern high schools for whites in the parish, those at Chatham, Eros, Jonesboro - Hodge, Quitman and Weston. These schools accommodate all 12 grades. There are elementary schools also at Hodge and Jonesboro. There are 12 Negro schools, two high schools and 10 elementary schools. A new building is being erected to house the high school for Negroes in Jonesboro. A band and lunch room and a vocational educational building are in progress in Jonesboro as well as a new high school building in Quitman.

J. D Koonce, is superintendent of schools, and L. V. DeCou, supervisor. Board members are Dr. A. A. Meredith, president, H. A. Spillers, H. P. Melton, A. H. Colvin, Jr., L. C. Harvey, J. W. Nelson, J. B. May, S. W. Wright and W. O. Moore.

Jackson Parish, with the parish seat at Jonesboro, which is 70 miles north of Alexandria, 85 miles southeast of Shreveport, 50 miles southwest of Monroe, and 185 miles from Baton Rouge and Little Rock, is truly located in the heart of north Louisiana.

The parish is 25 miles long and 30 miles wide, with an area of 373,120 acres or 583 square miles. The population was 15,354 in 1950.

Rich Resources

Much of the land in this hill parish is rolling, although scattered throughout the parish are broad creek bottoms and many springs. Water is abundant. The largest streams are Castor, Dugdemona, Caney, Cypress, Choudrant, Redwine and Flat, Dry, and Big Creeks. Water drains into D'Arbonne Bayou on the north, Castor Bayou on the east, and Dugdemona Bayou on the southwest.

The soil is of several varieties, principally sand loam fertile in the bottom lands and moderately rich in the uplands. Cotton was once the main crop, but has given way to livestock, including beef and dairy cattle, hogs, and poultry.

Timber is a main crop and shipping facilities are convenient on the two railroads and the many good highways.

The parish has an abundant potential forest wealth. Four of the five major forest industries operating in the parish have staffs of qualified foresters handling wood operations and are farming timber and growing continuous crops of trees. Forty - five per cent of the forest land is owned by small owners who are assisted in the management of the forest and fire control by the foresters.

Among the companies owning large tracts of forest lands are Davis Brothers Lumber Company, A. J. Hodges Industries, Brown Paper Company, Mansfield Hardwood Lumber Company, Southern Advance Bag and Paper Company, Tremont Lumber Company, and Woodard and Walker.

The Dugdemona Soil Conservation district, one of the oldest in Louisiana, organized in 1935, has aided in the reforestation program of the parish, planting 1,193 acres of pines, 507 of these in the 1953-54 planting season. They have also constructed 181 miles of terraces and built 271 ponds in Jackson to date as well as seeded 2,530 acres of pasture land.

The wildlife resources of Jackson Parish are abundant and are being restocked in the two large game reserves.

Ansley

Ansley, established in 1902, is a sawmill village, 10 miles south of Ruston on Highway 167, and the Rock Island railroad. Two of the Davis brothers built a sawmill there in 1902 and were later joined by the two other brothers. James, Melvin, Robert and Virgil had all been given $1,000 each by their father to go into the sawmill business. They came to Louisiana from Prescott, Ark.

In 1952, Ansley celebrated the 50th anniversary of the Davis Brothers Lumber company, a mill which had produced 36,000 carloads of lumber in 50 years, enough to build a house for every family in Shreveport. The mill has recently been rebuilt and modernized.

The village is unincorporated, but maintains a post office. A union church serves both the Baptists and the Methodists, each holding services there two Sundays in a month. Residents not engaged in the lumber business are chiefly farmers.

North of Ansley is the Jackson-Bienville Wild Life Reserve of 11,000 acres, on land largely owned by the Davis Brothers. The reserve is stocked with quail, turkey, deer and squirrels and is under the management of Floyd Sizemore.

The town was named for the wife of one of the Davis brothers.

Chatham

At the intersection of Louisiana highways 13, 17, and 164, lies Chatham, 17 miles northeast of Jonesboro. This town of 848 persons, in 1950, is one of the oldest settlements in the parish, once bearing the name of Chathamville, the name haveing been taken from the Chatham family.

Among the early settlers also were the Ewings, Garners, Richardsons, Hearnes, and Wilders. W. O. Ewing, local resident, says his grandfather got off a boat at Pine Bluff landing, over 100 years ago, coming from North Carolina.

Businesses include the Peoples Bank, the W. L. Browder Lumber Company and a cotton gin as well as stores and other establishments. The Shell Oil Company has two producing gas wells near Chatham.

The Chatham High School has fine modern facilities. B. A. Tullos is the principal. The Baptists and Methodists each have beautiful new churches and there is an old, but unique Masonic hall.

The present mayor, Leon Wilder, comes from one of the old families. Dr. S. O. Wilder was born in Vienna in 1856, and his family owned and operated a tannery near there. Other officials are M. R. Tolar, marshal and deputy sheriff, and W. H. Malone, H. C. Womack, G. T. Spillers, Herschel Jordan, and Fred Wilhite, councilmen.

Clay

The village of Clay is seven miles south of Ruston on U. S. Highway 167 and the Rock Island railroad. Clay has a post office, several small stores along the highway, and a cotton gin. Cattle raising is the chief industry. Some of the citizens are employed in Ruston. Among the families who settled in Clay many years ago are the Clinton and Kavanaugh families. Coming early also were the Causeys and Hintons.

Children attend school in Quitman or in Ruston. There is a Methodist Church in Clay. The village was originally called Elmo, but the name was changed to Clay when the railroad was built through the town approximately half a century ago.

Jonesboro

The Arkansas Southern Railway having reached Ruston in 1899 proceeded on to Jonesboro, reaching there in 1900. The time required to make the survey and right of way to Jonesboro from Ruston was four months. Five hundred mules were used in making the right of way. It has been said that transporting the feed for the mules alone was a big job. The Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific bought the railroad Jan. 10, 1901.

J. S. Cargile from Arkansas owned much of the stock in the railroad. After he had bought land from the Jones family and given a plot for a public square, he auctioned off lots on the day the train arrived for $7.50 to $100 each. Mr. Cargile suggested the name of Jonesboro for Henry Jones, sheriff, who had been killed in line of duty.

Before this time the community was known as Macedonia after the Macedonia Baptist Church. It is said that the section where the families of Cooks, Jones, Shows, and Simontons lived was once known as Coontown and then later as Tennessee after the Farrs, Hardy's, Mays, and McDonalds moved there from Tennessee.

Joseph E. Jones and wife, Sally Pankey, gave the land for the Macedonia Church and cemetery, site of the present cemetery. The Jones family had settled near Arcadia in 1852 and moved from there to Jackson Parish. A fence separating the Jones' farm from the Carson farm was where Main street is located today.

W. S. Jones named the community after his baby daughter, Stella, first girl born in the little village on the railroad, but it is said that the name was not favorably received because a rowdy woman by that name came to town. After the railroad was completed, Mr. Cargile named the place Jonesboro.

The population is now more than 3,000. It was 3,162 in 1950, an increase of 523 since 1940.

Jonesboro has a city-owned water and light plant and paved streets and sidewalks. One sidewalk leads two miles to Hodge and is the longest of its kind in the world, according to Ripley.

There are churches of several denominations. The Baptists and Methodists each have large new buildings. The Nazarene Church dates from 1913. The town has several clinics and small hospitals. Schools for whites and Negroes are modern.

Recreational facilities, under the supervision of the school board, include a new swimming pool, a school library operated for the youth during the summer, baseball clubs, and other activities for the children and young people.

Among the business houses are two banks, the Jackson Parish, which will celebrate its 50th anniversary soon, and the Jonesboro State Bank, organized 4 years ago. There is also the Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Three building supply houses, two cotton gins, an ice plant, a cement factory which makes concrete blocks, a water well drilling firm, a well screen manufacturing company, and plastic pipe manufacturing company as well as the usual businesses found in a progressive town.

Jonesboro has an attractive city hall building. Lelon C. Swanner is the mayor; C. L. Moore, marshal, and Harold Allen, J. P. Gimber, T. L. Colvin, John (Jack) Chapman, and Merrell Cox, aldermen.

Quitman

Quitman, nine miles north of Jonesboro on U. S. Highway 167 and the Rock Island railroad, was listed as having a population of 20 in 1950.

The community was first called Allendale for the Allen family who lived east of town, but when the Quitman post office was moved to the railroad in 1902 from two miles in the country the village took on the name of Quitman. The name came from that of Quitman Brooks, an early, prominent citizen.

Two local citizens who have lived in the village for a half a century or more are Tobe Hawthorne and J. D. Waldrip.

There are several stores, including one large furniture store. Residents raise cattle or poultry, or work at the Ansley sawmill or the Hodge paper mill.

Officials of Quitman are Cecil Waldrip, mayor; John C. Jones, marshal; Earl Koonce, Melvin Blalock, and R. B. Blalock, aldermen.

Vernon

Vernon, southeast of Ruston, on Louisiana Highway 17, was the first seat of government of Jackson parish, when the parish also included the area now in Lincoln parish. The name was taken from the Vernon family, very early settlers.

At the present time there is a post office, two stores, and two churches as well as homes in Vernon. The first little log jailhouse still stands.

Weston

Weston is a community, six miles east of Jonesboro on Louisiana highways 13 and 547, which has a high school. Many of the residents raise cattle and poultry and some work at the paper mill at Hodge. The Ebenezer Baptist Church is the nearest church.

Weston was settled very early chiefly by the Culpepper, Davis, McBride, Shows, and Walsworth families.

Eros

Twenty - five miles from Monroe a little community had sprung up in 1898 with a post office located in the store of Samuel W. Collins.

More people had settled in the community, when in 1900, Tremont and Gulf built a railroad through the piney woods to connect Eros with the U. S. & P. railway which linked Monroe and Shreveport. On this railroad Tremont Lumber company soon built a sawmill, and the town grew by leaps and bounds. Sam Collins surveyed the land for the town and Dan Wingate cleared the land.

Today, farming and timber still play a part in the income of the 200 residents of Eros, although the Tremont railroad and sawmill have moved away. The G. W. Roberts Lumber Co. operates at Eros at the present time.

Eros is still a thriving little town, whose officials are Henry Hearne, mayor; Harvey Spillers, marshal; members of the Town Council—Herschel Sharp, Isaac Hightower, Dee Phillips and Marshall Aswell with Mrs. Oscar Lindsey, secretary - treasurer.

Wyatt

The village of Wyatt was settled around the turn of the century in in the red clay hills six miles south of Jonesboro.

Wyatt's post office and several small stores are on the Rock Island railroad. Residents raise or work in timber.

Apparently the Wyatt family can boast of being the first citizens of what is now Jackson Parish. Their forefather, Jesse Wyatt, got off a boat in Catahoula and rode a pack horse to Villefarm, settling between Chatham and Vernon in 1815 and traded a keg of powder to the Indians for a piece of land.

Hodge

Hodge, named for the Hodge family, had a population of 1,383 in 1950, and is known as "the biggest little town in the south." Offering many civic, educational, and recreational advantages, it is located on U. S. Highway 167 and Louisiana 101. It is on the North Louisiana and Gulf, and the Rock Island railroads.

There is an up-to-date shopping center. Elementary school pupils attend school in Hodge, and the older pupils attend the Jonesboro-Hodge High School in Jonesboro two miles away.

The Baptists, Catholics, and Methodists maintain churches in Hodge. The Assembly of God Church is located in North Hodge, a village, recently incorporated, with 750 residents.

Originally a farming community Hodge grew when Huie - Hodge Lumber company built one of the largest and finest mills there in the south around the turn of the century. This company later became the Hodge - Hunt Lumber company. Now the Hunt Lumber Company is located at Danville.

In 1927, Southern Advance Bag and Paper company built a ten million dollar plant at Hodge. This company employs approximately 1,500 persons in their plant, and 500 in the wood - procuring department, stores, and other local enterprises — at a cost of more than four million dollars a year.

The mill has a capacity of 550 tons of paper and 25,000,000 bags a day. The company owns and operates a pine - tree nursery nearby. In 1953, Southern Advance planted four million seedlings and gave one million to local farmers.

Officials of Hodge are Ed Askew, mayor; William Peevy, chief of police, and John H. Dennis, P. A. McCloskey, and F. C. Stewart, councilmen.

Officials of North Hodge are J. D. Robinson, mayor; A. L. Meyer, marshal, and C. D. Barfield, J. W. Cole, and H. L. Norred, aldermen.

Jackson Parish Noted For Farms Timber Wealth

By CLOMA BARRON

Jackson Parish was established in 1845 with a population of 5,566 during the administration of Gov. Alexander Mouton and was created from portions of Claiborne, Ouachita and Union Parishes, largely from the part known as the "Ouachita District when held by France and Spain. It was named for Andrew Jackson, although some say it was named for the Jackson family, early settlers.

Vernon, a little north of the center of the parish, was the early seat of government.

Many residents are of Scotch-Irish descent, coming from the Carolinas through Alabama. Not all came by boat or covered wagon. It is said that some of the women rode horseback. Surplus bedding and clothing were packed in water tight hogsheads which were supplied with shafts. A horse was hitched to this and the rolling began!

About 1815 Jesse Wyatt settled between Chatham and Vernon at what is now known as Villefarm. In the open woods of the virgin timber, the roads were the trails of the elk, deer, and bear, when Jesse Wyatt came by pack horse from Catahoula where he had landed. He traded a keg of powder to the Indians for a piece of land and established his home there.

Isom Sims, who settled six miles west of Vernon, is said to have been the largest slave owner. Ben Smith, David Clinton, Thomas Grigsby, and the Bonners were also large land holders.

Parish In 1860

The following description of Jackson parish in 1860 came from the "Louisiana Historical Quarterly."

"Over 260,000 acres, more than 50,000 in cultivation were equally divided in cotton and corn. The price of none of the lands, even the most valuable, exceeds $10 per acre, while inferior, but pretty good may be had for $3 . . . Unpromising looking lands produce surprisingly.

"The forest growth of oak, pine, hickory, beech, gum, ash, and others is heavy on ridge and bottom.

"The population of the parish is between 9,000 and 10,000, of whom rather more than a third are slaves; and it polls about 1,000 votes. There are many small planters and comparatively few large engaged in the culture of cotton."

The earliest settler in the whole section was John Stowe, who obtained from the Spanish government a grant of land lying eight or ten miles east of Vienna. He settled there in the latter part of 1802 or the early part of 1803 and lived under three flags before he harvested his first crop. Two of the Davis brothers built a sawmill there in 1902 and were later joined by the two other brothers. James, Melvin, Robert and Virgil had all been given $1,000 each by their father to go into the sawmill business. They came to Louisiana from Prescott, Ark.

In 1952, Ansley celebrated the 50th anniversary of the Davis Brothers Lumber company, a mill which had produced 36,000 carloads of lumber in 50 years enough to build a house for every family in Shreveport. The mill has recently been rebuilt and modernized.

The village is unincorporated, but maintains a post office. A union church serves both the Baptists and the Methodists, each holding services there two Sundays in a month. Residents not engaged in the lumber business are chiefly farmers.

North of Ansley is the Jackson-Bienville Wild Life Reserve of 11,000 acres, on land largely owned by the Davis Brothers. The reserve is stocked with quail, turkey, deer and squirrels and is under the management of Floyd Sizemore.

The town was named for the wife of one of the Davis brothers.

Chatham

At the intersection of Louisiana highways 13, 17, and 164, lies Chatham, 17 miles northeast of Jonesboro. This town of 848 persons, in 1950, is one of the oldest settlements in the parish, once bearing the name of Chathamville, the name haveing been taken from the Chatham family.

Among the early settlers also were the Ewings, Garners, Richardsons, Hearnes, and Wilders. W. O. Ewing, local resident, says his grandfather got off a boat at Pine Bluff landing, over 100 years ago, coming from North Carolina.

Businesses include the Peoples Bank, the W. L. Browder Lumber Company and a cotton gin as well as stores and other establishments. The Shell Oil Company has two producing gas wells near Chatham.

The Chatham High School has fine modern facilities. B. A. Tullos is the principal. The Baptists and Methodists each have beautiful new churches and there is an old, but unique Masonic hall.

The present mayor, Leon Wilder, comes from one of the old families. Dr. S. O. Wilder was born in Vienna in 1856, and his family owned and operated a tannery near there. Other officials are M. R. Tolar, marshal and deputy sheriff, and W. H. Malone, H. C. Womack, G. T. Spillers, Herschel Jordan, and Fred Wilhite, councilmen.

Clay

The village of Clay is seven miles south of Ruston on U. S. Highway 167 and the Rock Island railroad. Clay has a post office, several small stores along the highway, and a cotton gin. Cattle raising is the chief industry. Some of the citizens are employed in Ruston. Among the families who settled in Clay many years ago are the Clinton and Kavanaugh families. Coming early also were the Causeys and Hintons.

Children attend school in Quitman or in Ruston. There is a Methodist Church in Clay. The village was originally called Elmo, but the name was changed to Clay when the railroad was built through the town approximately half a century ago.

Jonesboro

The Arkansas Southern Railway having reached Ruston in 1899 proceeded on to Jonesboro, reaching there in 1900. The time required to make the survey and right of way to Jonesboro from Ruston was four months. Five hundred mules were used in making the right of way. It has been said that transporting the feed for the mules alone was a big job. The Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific bought the railroad Jan. 10, 1901.

J. S. Cargile from Arkansas owned much of the stock in the railroad. After he had bought land from the Jones family and given a plot for a public square, he auctioned off lots on the day the train arrived for $7.50 to $100 each. Mr. Cargile suggested the name of Jonesboro for Henry Jones, sheriff, who had been killed in line of duty.

Before this time the community was known as Macedonia after the Macedonia Baptist Church. It is said that the section where the families of Cooks, Jones, Shows, and Simontons lived was once known as Coontown and then later as Tennessee after the Farrs, Hardy's, Mays, and McDonalds moved there from Tennessee.

Joseph E. Jones and wife, Sally Pankey, gave the land for the Macedonia Church and cemetery, site of the present cemetery. The Jones family had settled near Arcadia in 1852 and moved from there to Jackson Parish. A fence separating the Jones' farm from the Carson farm was where Main street is located today.

W. S. Jones named the community after his baby daughter, Stella, first girl born in the little village on the railroad, but it is said that the name was not favorably received because a rowdy woman by that name came to town. After the railroad was completed, Mr. Cargile named the place Jonesboro.

The population is now more than 3,000. It was 3,162 in 1950, an increase of 523 since 1940.

Jonesboro has a city-owned water and light plant and paved streets and sidewalks. One sidewalk leads two miles to Hodge and is the longest of its kind in the world, according to Ripley.

There are churches of several denominations. The Baptists and Methodists each have large new buildings. The Nazarene Church dates from 1913. The town has several clinics and small hospitals. Schools for whites and Negroes are modern.

Recreational facilities, under the supervision of the school board, include a new swimming pool, a school library operated for the youth during the summer, baseball clubs, and other activities for the children and young people.

Among the business houses are two banks, the Jackson Parish, which will celebrate its 50th anniversary soon, and the Jonesboro State Bank, organized 4 years ago. There is also the Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Three building supply houses, two cotton gins, an ice plant, a cement factory which makes concrete blocks, a water well drilling firm, a well screen manufacturing company, and plastic pipe manufacturing company as well as the usual businesses found in a progressive town.

Jonesboro has an attractive city hall building. Lelon C. Swanner is the mayor; C. L. Moore, marshal, and Harold Allen, J. P. Gimber, T. L. Colvin, John (Jack) Chapman, and Merrell Cox, aldermen.

Quitman

Quitman, nine miles north of Jonesboro on U. S. Highway 167 and the Rock Island railroad, was listed as having a population of 20 in 1950.

The community was first called Allendale for the Allen family who lived east of town, but when the Quitman post office was moved to the railroad in 1902 from two miles in the country the village took on the name of Quitman. The name came from that of Quitman Brooks, an early, prominent citizen.

Two local citizens who have lived in the village for a half a century or more are Tobe Hawthorne and J. D. Waldrip.

There are several stores, including one large furniture store. Residents raise cattle or poultry, or work at the Ansley sawmill or the Hodge paper mill.

Officials of Quitman are Cecil Waldrip, mayor; John C. Jones, marshal; Earl Koonce, Melvin Blalock, and R. B. Blalock, aldermen.

Vernon

Vernon, southeast of Ruston, on Louisiana Highway 17, was the first seat of government of Jackson parish, when the parish also included the area now in Lincoln parish. The name was taken from the Vernon family, very early settlers.

At the present time there is a post office, two stores, and two churches as well as homes in Vernon. The first little log jailhouse still stands.

Weston

Weston is a community, six miles east of Jonesboro on Louisiana highways 13 and 547, which has a high school. Many of the residents raise cattle and poultry and some work at the paper mill at Hodge. The Ebenezer Baptist Church is the nearest church.

Weston was settled very early chiefly by the Culpepper, Davis, McBride, Shows, and Walsworth families.

Eros

Twenty - five miles from Monroe a little community had sprung up in 1898 with a post office located in the store of Samuel W. Collins.

More people had settled in the community, when in 1900, Tremont and Gulf built a railroad through the piney woods to connect Eros with the U. S. & P. railway which linked Monroe and Shreveport. On this railroad Tremont Lumber company soon built a sawmill, and the town grew by leaps and bounds. Sam Collins surveyed the land for the town and Dan Wingate cleared the land.

Today, farming and timber still play a part in the income of the 200 residents of Eros, although the Tremont railroad and sawmill have moved away. The G. W. Roberts Lumber Co. operates at Eros at the present time.

Eros is still a thriving little town, whose officials are Henry Hearne, mayor; Harvey Spillers, marshal; members of the Town Council—Herschel Sharp, Isaac Hightower, Dee Phillips and Marshall Aswell with Mrs. Oscar Lindsey, secretary - treasurer.

Wyatt

The village of Wyatt was settled around the turn of the century in in the red clay hills six miles south of Jonesboro.

Wyatt's post office and several small stores are on the Rock Island railroad. Residents raise or work in timber.

Apparently the Wyatt family can boast of being the first citizens of what is now Jackson Parish. Their forefather, Jesse Wyatt, got off a boat in Catahoula and rode a pack horse to Villefarm, settling between Chatham and Vernon in 1815 and traded a keg of powder to the Indians for a piece of land.

Hodge

Hodge, named for the Hodge family, had a population of 1,383 in 1950, and is known as "the biggest little town in the south." Offering many civic, educational, and recreational advantages, it is located on U. S. Highway 167 and Louisiana 101. It is on the North Louisiana and Gulf, and the Rock Island railroads.

There is an up-to-date shopping center. Elementary school pupils attend school in Hodge, and the older pupils attend the Jonesboro-Hodge High School in Jonesboro two miles away.

The Baptists, Catholics, and Methodists maintain churches in Hodge. The Assembly of God Church is located in North Hodge, a village, recently incorporated, with 750 residents.

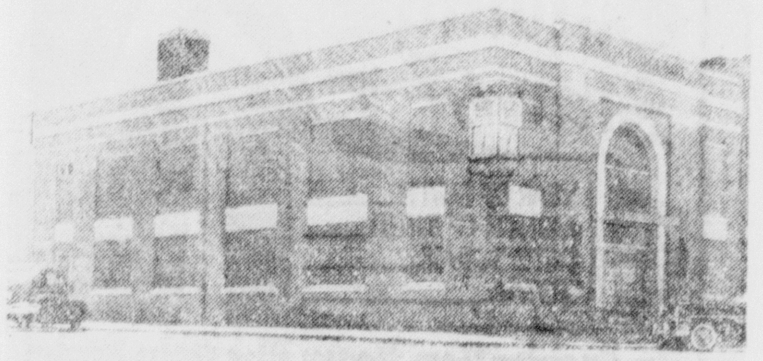
Originally a farming community Hodge grew when Huie - Hodge Lumber company built one of the largest and finest mills there in the south around the turn of the century. This company later became the Hodge - Hunt Lumber company. Now the Hunt Lumber Company is located at Danville.

In 1927, Southern Advance Bag and Paper company built a ten million dollar plant at Hodge. This company employs approximately 1,300 persons in their plant, and 500 in the wood - procuring department, stores, and other local enterprises — at a cost of more than four million dollars a year.

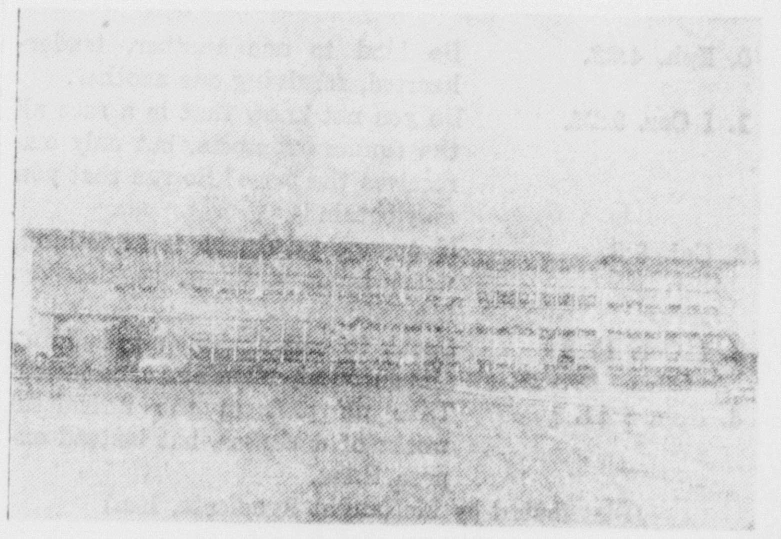
The mill has a capacity of 300 tons of paper and 25,000,000 bags a day. The company owns and operates a pine - tree nursery nearby. In 1953, Southern Advance planted four million seedlings and gave one million to local farmers.

Officials of Hodge are Ed Askew, mayor; William Peevy, chief of police, and John H. Dennis, P. A. McCloskey, and F. C. Stewart, councilmen.

Officials of North Hodge are J. D. Robinson, mayor; A. L. Meyer, marshal, and C. D. Barfield, J. W. Cole, and H. L. Norred, aldermen.



50TH ANNIVERSARY — The Jackson Parish Bank of Jonesboro will celebrate it's 50th anniversary of service to the community June 4th.



NEW JUNIOR HIGH — The recently completed junior high building of the Jonesboro-Hodge High School depicts the modern trend in building.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: "You have repeatedly said that it is your aim to get the people back to the churches; but may I point out that the gospel which you preach is seldom preached in the churches'. In fact, the majority of the ministers, preachers, and priests are not saved themselves." R.J.

ANSWER: To say the least of it, this is a very sweeping judgment with which I could not possibly concur, even if I were qualified to judge. I fully recognize that the churches are not perfect. They do not claim to be. We shall never find that perfect church until we get to heaven. However, they have done and are doing a magnificent job. Would you like to live in a country or community where there were no churches? You are all too ready to find fault. Anyone can do that. Beware of adopting a censorious and self-righteous attitude towards your fellow-Christian.

Our job, I believe, is not to stand aloof from the organized church in a critical spirit but to stand loyally by it in love and prayer and service. In my own evangelistic crusades I have enjoyed the cooperation of thousands of churches and their ministers. I thank God for their fellowship and reaffirm my own conviction that evangelism apart from the churches will never accomplish any lasting results.

Memorial Day Observance Is Set On Monday

Memorial Day being this time, May 30, on a Sunday, many pulpits will in all probability resound with patriotic messages. Hearers will be urged to rally to the support of real democracy and to present to the world a united front. At no time in the nation's history, they will declare, has it been so needed as now.

The holiday will be observed Monday, May 31, because of the intervention of Sunday, May 30, places of business and offices will be closed for it is always a legal holiday.

Today a duty of love and patriotism will be carried out in the Twin Cities when graves of our soldier dead will be decorated with tiny national flags.

This is a task of love that the American Legion and other patriotic societies have carried out year after year. They have always been directed by Charles (Charlie) Mitchell, one of the best known World War one veterans here, and a former state commander of the Louisiana American Legion.

Decoration of graves in all cemeteries in Ouachita parish where fallen soldiers sleep will be decorated today under the general direction of Charlie Mitchell.

Mission Baptist Group Plans On Special Services

The Eastside Missionary Baptist Church, located on 80th Street, is to observe, in an informal way, her second anniversary this week end. An old-time friend and pastor of many who is now in the Eastside Church is expected to be with us and preach Sunday. He is Elder David K. Sawyer of Union County, Arkansas. Friends of Brother Sawyer who live in and around Monroe are invited to hear him again and be with us over the week end. Those who have never heard this old-time Baptist peacher have a special invitation to be present, too.

Following the regular services of Sunday School and preaching Sunday morning, a basket lunch (an old-fashioned "dinner—on—the ground") is to be served on the church ground. A time of song service is planned for the afternoon. Regular Sunday evening services are to follow at 6:30.

This church is entering her second year with the building of a new auditorium being in progress. Thanks go out to all friends who have helped this membership come thus far in God's work. Visit us anytime.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: "You have repeatedly said that it is your aim to get the people back to the churches; but may I point out that the gospel which you preach is seldom preached in the churches'. In fact, the majority of the ministers, preachers, and priests are not saved themselves." R.J.

ANSWER: To say the least of it, this is a very sweeping judgment with which I could not possibly concur, even if I were qualified to judge. I fully recognize that the churches are not perfect. They do not claim to be. We shall never find that perfect church until we get to heaven. However, they have done and are doing a magnificent job. Would you like to live in a country or community where there were no churches? You are all too ready to find fault. Anyone can do that. Beware of adopting a censorious and self-righteous attitude towards your fellow-Christian.

Our job, I believe, is not to stand aloof from the organized church in a critical spirit but to stand loyally by it in love and prayer and service. In my own evangelistic crusades I have enjoyed the cooperation of thousands of churches and their ministers. I thank God for their fellowship and reaffirm my own conviction that evangelism apart from the churches will never accomplish any lasting results.

Peniel Baptist Church Plans On Bible School

The Peniel Baptist Church, Jonesboro road, will sponsor a vacation Bible school, starting June 7 and ending June 18. The sessions for all children one year through sixteen years, will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m., Monday through Friday.

The opening day will be devoted to registration and assignment to classes. At 10 a.m. a big parade will proceed through the church community. The faculty, parents and children will participate in the parade.

Refreshments will be served each day and a commencement program is planned at the close.

Memorial Day Observance Is Set On Monday

Memorial Day being this time, May 30, on a Sunday, many pulpits will in all probability resound with patriotic messages. Hearers will be urged to rally to the support of real democracy and to present to the world a united front. At no time in the nation's history, they will declare, has it been so needed as now.

The holiday will be observed Monday, May 31, because of the intervention of Sunday, May 30, places of business and offices will be closed for it is always a legal holiday.

Today a duty of love and patriotism will be carried out in the Twin Cities when graves of our soldier dead will be decorated with tiny national flags.

This is a task of love that the American Legion and other patriotic societies have carried out year after year. They have always been directed by Charles (Charlie) Mitchell, one of the best known World War one veterans here, and a former state commander of the Louisiana American Legion.

Decoration of graves in all cemeteries in Ouachita parish where fallen soldiers sleep will be decorated today under the general direction of Charlie Mitchell.

Mission Baptist Group Plans On Special Services

The Eastside Missionary Baptist Church, located on 80th Street, is to observe, in an informal way, her second anniversary this week end. An old-time friend and pastor of many who is now in the Eastside Church is expected to be with us and preach Sunday. He is Elder David K. Sawyer of Union County, Arkansas. Friends of Brother Sawyer who live in and around Monroe are invited to hear him again and be with us over the week end. Those who have never heard this old-time Baptist peacher have a special invitation to be present, too.

Following the regular services of Sunday School and preaching Sunday morning, a basket lunch (an old-fashioned "dinner—on—the ground") is to be served on the church ground. A time of song service is planned for the afternoon. Regular Sunday evening services are to follow at 6:30.

This church is entering her second year with the building of a new auditorium being in progress. Thanks go out to all friends who have helped this membership come thus far in God's work. Visit us anytime.

Summer Flowers Need Lots Of Food

After a delightfully cool spring, summer is descending upon us in earnest. You'll find newly transplanted trees and shrubs are going to find the summer sun hard to take. Watch them closely. Any plant that wilts down during the afternoon is showing its need for protection from direct sunshine or from reflected heat. White walls, sidewalks or driveways radiate intense heat and light. The best advice I can offer is to keep the roots cool by means of a deep mulch of leaves or straw. Let this extend out from the tree four or five feet. Water plants in late afternoon and during the night, giving a good soaking. Castor beans planted close to the new trees and shrubs will help shade them from the hot sun. This shouldn't be necessary but one year.

Lawn Problems

The creeping grasses like Bermuda and St. Augustine, (especially St. Augustine) constantly climb over themselves. After four or five years of this you'll find lots of dead grass underneath the live. The carpet gets so thick that the new runners can't get their roots down to the ground. The lawn mower cuts many of these, they die on the lawn and you get very unhappy over the general appearance of your garden. The best remedy for this is to spread good top soil over these sections until it looks like it has almost covered the grass. Then water the soil down well so as not to smother your grass. The thicker your sod gets, the more fertilizer you need to keep the lawn green and pretty.

Summer flowers also use lots of food. You'll need a scant sprinkling of complete fertilizer around your annuals and perennials once a month. Water it in well and wash off the foliage in case some fertilizer was sprinkled on the leaves. Small amounts of food broadcast monthly can be used better by small plants than quantities used just once. Use 5-10-5 for these annuals and perennials. There's not too much nitrogen in that to cause the plants to grow tall and fall over in the beds.

BEWARE! I Poison Ivy

We often mistake poison ivy for harmless Virginia creeper. The latter has five leaves while poison ivy has only three and they are shiny. Poison ivy is hard to kill and any chemical that will get rid of it will kill nearly everything around. The surest method is to dig out the roots, keeping at the job until all are gone. Wear gloves. Wash hands, arms, and face thoroughly in a strong laundry soap. Wash the gloves as well.

Horticulture Research in Bolivia

In a communication from Mrs. Jo Evans at Ferriday, she says, "A Louisiana Society for horticulture research is being formed and we are asking Ike Nelson of Southwestern to go to Bolivia and collect plant material. I know there is a wealth of material down there that we can grow here. The organization is a non-profit affair and our donations for this trip are $10, $25, $50 and $100. The first propagation is to be divided among the charter members which are our donors." If you're interested contact Mrs. Evans.

Here and There

The small radicans gardenia grows nicely in almost dense shade in Margaret Downing's garden. They trail gracefully and have same kind of bloom as the strictanana.

We tried the rubber-base paint on the canvas seats of our lawn chairs. One coat did the job and they look like new.

Many women are sewing in the kitchen, now. Well in a few years we'll have machines with cabinets made of white enamel that harmonize with other kitchen appliances. The machine works like a typewriter desk and when closed provides a solid work surface.

Because the side folds of pillowcases always are ironed in the same place, they frequently tear or split. When this happens, open the hem where it crosses the fold and make new seams deep enough to take in the worn sections. Then restitch the hem.

Here's a beauty hint: Cake mascara goes on quicker, looks smoother and stays put longer if you use hot instead of cold water to work up a paste before applying.

Now here's some startling news—the cupid's bow shape for lips is out of style. The latest tip says if your lips are naturally shaped like a cupid's bow, don't follow the natural outline. Cover the bow beneath foundation cream and draw a new mouth. Guess we'll all have to take art lessons to get our lips on in the latest style.

Announcements

We have a mimeographed bulletin on azaleas, the first we've had in a long, long time. Call 3-2251 for your copy.

Miss Estelle Fournet will demonstrate making pickles Tuesday morning at 9:30 at the agricultural building. Drop in if you're interested.

We'll put in a zipper in an easy, quick way Tuesday on KNOE-TV at 1:30.

See you next Sunday.

Hat Show Held In Bastrop

The important announcement today is that Flower Shop School No. 1 has been postponed until August. Exact date will be announced a little later. Prospective students may get a head start by reading some of the required books in the interim. The books are available at the public library, center library and our state library.

This week the Ouachita Gardenettes filled the center with a colorful array of flower arrangements and horticulture. Mrs. R. L. Vining and Mrs. C. B. White of Ruston judged the display. Native materials were used by Mrs. A. R. Bates whose arrangement took first place. In a chartreuse container Mrs. Bates designed a line-mass arrangement in shades of red-orange using native dock, wild gladiolus, butterfly weed (Asclepias tuberosa) and fulva day lilies.

Second place to Mrs. Marie Shipp for a line arrangement of green and variegated ivy in a small white antique pitcher, set on a small base. Third place to Mrs. J. W. Golson. Yellow calendulas and white daisies combined with equisetum and variegated honeysuckle in a chartreuse bowl made a delightful summertime arrangement. In the horticulture section, blue ribbons were awarded to Mrs. A. R. Bates for shrimp plant and Dr. Katherine Foster for dark red tuberous begonia. White ribbon to Mrs. E. N. Camp, Jr. for columbine.

Other flowers on display were twelve varieties of day-lilies from the garden of Mrs. Wesley Walters. Mrs. D. B. Gee exhibited Normandie day-lily (this is a beauty-deep maroon with a yellow throat) also lovely bouquets of long stemmed pansies in quaint little pitchers and beautiful crimson diamthus.

Members of the Bastrop Garden Club, their husbands and friends enjoyed one of the loveliest garden parties of the year recently. This delightful party was staged in the beautiful garden of Mrs. Allen Turpin, Sr. The swimming-pool was the focal point with magnolia blossoms floating in the deep blue water and gay Japanese lanters reflecting their lights and shadows in the pool. Highlight of the evening was the Hat style-show. Mr. Douglas Bickley acted as Master of Ceremonies for the show, the hats were created of living plant material and named by those making them. Prize for the prettiest hat was awarded to Mrs. Billy Givens. Miss Louisiana was the named of the model and Mrs. Givens created a picture hat of magnolia leaves and the blooms of the blue native Iris.

Mrs. A. J. Gamble was awarded a prize for the most unique hat. "Crystal's Garden" was the name of this delightful creation. Using a flat wicker tray, tied with ribbons under the chin, Mrs. Gamble designed a complete garden, with small wheel-barrow, spade, rake and hoe, a trellis with ivy trailing over it and garden flowers in bloom. Mrs. W. A. Kunze, outgoing President, made a lovely close-fitting party hat covered with salmon pink Floribunda roses which she called "An Original by Mme Flora Bunda". Mrs. Florence Sengren, a guest from New Orleans decorated a large picture hat with mint leaves—a cool and beautiful number—title "Mint Julep". Am sorry that space does not permit describing all the really lovely hats created by these ingenious and artistic arrangers.

Here is a wonderful tip from a real gardener; To screen a west window from the hot summer sun, fix a trellis of chicken wire and plant running butter beans. The foliage is lush and you have the added delight of fresh butterbeans for the family table.

Wild Flowers On Your Wooded Lot

If you have a beautiful wooded lot, for heaven's sake do not go out and "clean it up"! Every time your columnist sees people chopping and raking on wooded land he trembles to think what is happening to the wild flowers and the beautiful native trees and shrubs growing there. There are surely some choice wild flowers and shrubs growing on your plot of land. When you sought it, you acquired your little section of the great American forest. It is up to you to preserve what is already there. Of course, there are such things as poison ivy and Chinese honeysuckle in your woods that will have to be removed. There are some decrepit trees, too, that can come out, but even a decrepit tree will sometimes last ten years, and ten years is a long part of a lifetime.

If you do not know plants and trees, by all means get a person who does know them to come and go over your property with you. A plant lover will run around on your place like a hunting dog finding things you never knew were there. If you can follow him around fast enough, you can mark the choicest trees and shrubs and the wild flowers with little tags or something fairly permanent. Then you will know just what to save. Whatever you do, do not start raking up the leaves and leaf soil from the ground. Ths is a mistaken idea of the worst kind. Nature is busy trying to keep the raindrops from hitting the soil and splattering it in all directions,

She drops the pine needles and the leaves over the surface to soften the blow of each drop. When you rake the soil bare, the drops hit the dirt like little cannon balls. The loosened surface then washes away in the rain, and soon the whole rich layer of good earth with its bacteria and other micro-organisms—which all work all day and night every day and every night to make your soil richer—will soon be in the creeks and rivers on its way to the sea.

The wise gardener is always busy covering up his soil with mulches and top dressings of one sort or another. If he cannot find the ideal cover for his dirt, he will accept something — almost anything—temporarily. To just go out and rake up the leaves and leave the surface bare for the mere sake of "neatness" is a mistaken idea.

When a new house is to be built on a lot, the best thing to do is to first put a string around the actual foundation and then set boards around the best trees within fifty feet or more of the house. Builders have to have a reasonable area in which to operate. They will also need some places where they can unload trucks and pile materials. If you will mark these off, it will help them a lot. In case they do not have enough room, they will certainly tell you. Before the builders come, however, do not rake up all the leaves and rotted wood on the lot These soft materials will help protect the soil from erosion especially while there is a great deal of traffic over the land. There will surely be a lot of bare soil in sight from the building operations without your deliberately uncovering any more.

You will probably find some wild flowers growing right where you are to build or in the future driveway. Do not think that they cannot be moved at any time except in the Winter. You can dig straight down in a circle around each clump with a long nurseryman's spade and move almost any plants with a large ball of dirt. Decide if you can where you want to concentrate your wild flowers and either make a little nursery for them in that section or go ahead and set them out where they are to stay. One or two waterings will establish them. Trees and shrubs are not always transferable this way while the leaves are on them, but smaller plants can be moved with soil. If you find that the place where you plan to let the builders enter with materials has beautiful trees and shrubs in it, by all means make a temporary driveway in another location so that you can transplant these plants in the Winter.

Sooner or later, you will come to see that the pine needles and the leaves over the woods are really beautiful.

Summer Flowers Need Lots Of Food

After a delightfully cool spring, summer is descending upon us in earnest. You'll find newly transplanted trees and shrubs are going to find the summer sun hard to take. Watch them closely. Any plant that wilts down during the afternoon is showing its need for protection from direct sunshine or from reflected heat. White walls, sidewalks or driveways radiate intense heat and light. The best advice I can offer is to keep the roots cool by means of a deep mulch of leaves or straw. Let this extend out from the tree four or five feet. Water plants in late afternoon and during the night, giving a good soaking. Castor beans planted close to the new trees and shrubs will help shade them from the hot sun. This shouldn't be necessary but one year.

Lawn Problems

The creeping grasses like Bermuda and St. Augustine, (especially St. Augustine) constantly climb over themselves. After four or five years of this you'll find lots of dead grass underneath the live. The carpet gets so thick that the new runners can't get their roots down to the ground. The lawn mower cuts many of these, they die on the lawn and you get very unhappy over the general appearance of your garden. The best remedy for this is to spread good top soil over these sections until it looks like it has almost covered the grass. Then water the soil down well so as not to smother your grass. The thicker your sod gets, the more fertilizer you need to keep the lawn green and pretty.

Summer flowers also use lots of food. You'll need a scant sprinkling of complete fertilizer around your annuals and perennials once a month. Water it in well and wash off the foliage in case some fertilizer was sprinkled on the leaves. Small amounts of food broadcast monthly can be used better by small plants than quantities used just once. Use 5-10-5 for these annuals and perennials. There's not too much nitrogen in that to cause the plants to grow tall and fall over in the beds.

BEWARE! ! Poison Ivy

We often mistake poison ivy for harmless Virginia creeper. The latter has five leaves while poison ivy has only three and they are shiny. Poison ivy is hard to kill and any chemical that will get rid of it will kill nearly everything around. The surest method is to dig out the roots, keeping at the job until all are gone. Wear gloves. Wash hands, arms, and face thoroughly in a strong laundry soap. Wash the gloves as well.

Horticulture Research in Bolivia

In a communication from Mrs. Jo Evans at Ferriday, she says, "A Louisiana Society for horticulture research is being formed and we are asking Ike Nelson of Southwestern to go to Bolivia and collect plant material. I know there is a wealth of material down there that we can grow here. The organization is a non-profit affair and our donations for this trip are $10, $25, $50 and $100. The first propagation is to be divided among the charter members which are our donors." If you're interested contact Mrs. Evans.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Lovely Jane Powell is an example of health and beauty—don't forget the boost vegetables and fruit can give you in this direction.

Good Nutrition Vital To Women After 40

Too many middle-aged women take girlhood appetites to their rocking chairs with the hippiest, not happiest, results! If not to the rocking chair, to the bridge table, the clubroom luncheon or the reading lamp.

Extra weight should not be a penalty of years. It results from diminishing physical activity and a slowing up of the glandular system with no change in eating habits. In fact, many middle-aged women eat more rich food than they did in earlier years because they can afford more financially and have more social life.

The woman of 40 or more needs a vital diet. She can afford no other if she expects to remain youthful and lovely from there on. Fine nutrition has never been more important to her. She requires a well-balanced diet but less food in quantity.

Vegetables and Fruit

She is apt to gain weight and she is likely to be troubled with constipation because of the factors mentioned above. Remember that a vegetable plate is low in calorie count and high in vitamin content. The same thing is true of a fresh fruit plate with a couple of tablespoons of cottage cheese.

These two dishes are wonderful for one meal a day especially during the summer when there is such variety in fruits and vegetables. They give you a boost toward health and beauty, give you roughage you need, unless you have some special condition, and are kind to your weight.

Every calorie you eat which the body does not require for energy and heat is stored in fat. Correlate less food with decreased activity. The best of all combinations is to do more exercise than you are doing and eat less food, but of the right kind—that is, if you are an average woman.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 38, "Vitamins in Your Diet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care Morning World.

Tomorrow: "Women Enjoy Freedom; Must Retain Femininminty."

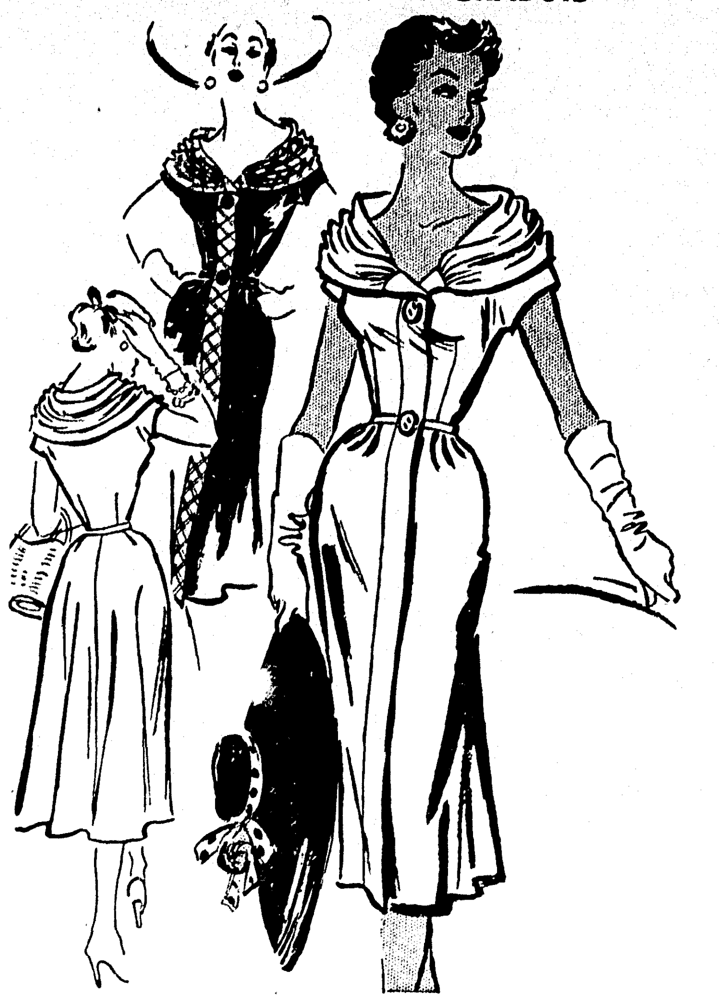
SEE NEWEST CAPE COLLAR IN OUR PATTERN BY GRABOIS



PROMINENT DESIGNER—The BIG COLLAR is the BIGGEST fashion news of summer—and due for big play this fall, too. Here, in one of the most original and flattering versions of this fashion, Zelma Golden of Grabois drapes the collar like a stole or cape to form a soft frame for the shoulders. Miss Golden balances her large collar on a dress of casual and slim lines. The fly-front effect accents the slenderness of the silhouette; the back flares gracefully when you walk or turn. "I made my Original in airy gingham with checked trim," Miss Golden told us. "Of course, home dress makers can have their 'Original' in shantung, fine linen, or any of the light cotton tweeds. Sewing? Just tell your readers there are no side seams. Then, they'll see how easy this is to make."

Pattern M106 is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 requires 4⅜ yards 35-inch fabric.

Send FIFTY CENTS (in coins) for Pattern M106 to Morning World Pattern Department, P. O. Box 59, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Please print plainly YOUR NAME, ADDRESS with ZONE, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

1. IS IT SELFISH TO MAKE NEEDLESS NOISE? YES ☐ NO ☐

2. ARE WE WELL-INFORMED ABOUT PUBLIC OFFICIALS? YES ☐ NO ☐

3. ARE THE BABY'S FIRST MONTHS ALL IMPORTANT? YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer To Question No. 1.

1. Yes. Dr. Roy Gilbert, Los Angeles, County Health Officer says, "Noise dulls all mental processes, lessens your ability to concentrate, creates nervousness and chronic tired feeling. If prolonged, noise will cause partial or complete deafness and is a vicious thing. A noise that one person hardly notices may make another person a neurotic."

Answer To Question No. 2

2. No. John M. Wilson of Chicago is quoted, "Surveys show half of U. S. citizens can't name one of their senators; only one-fourth can name both. Only 38 per cent know who their Congressman is." Reflect that Illinois senator Paul Douglas states in his book, "Ethics in Government," it costs $200,000 or more to elect a senator!

Answer To Question No. 3

3. No, says Dr. Ruth Koskuk in "Understanding the Child." Many parents say, "I made all the mistakes with my baby, but it's too late to undo the harm now." It's never too late, says the doctor. The first months are important but not all-important. "Psychiatry is now less concerned with a person's history than his present situation." Parents, cheer up!

'Flight Nurse' Saga Of Women's Heroism

Keeping apace with the headlines of today's papers, Republic Studio has produced a thrilling story of the "angels of mercy' the flight nurses. The picture, entitled "Flight Nurse" opens today at the Jim Theatre and continues through Tuesday.

Starring Joan Leslie and Forrest Tucker in a setting everybody's been reading about, "Flight Nurse" contains all the dramatic ingredients, including a timely plot which brings the audience right up to the current Korean armistice and the joyful return of the POW's.

Bolstering the strong cast are such screen notables as Arthur Franz, Jeff Donnell, Ben Cooper, James Holden, Kristine Miller, Maria Palmer, Richard Simmons, James Brown, Hal Baylor and other noted performers.

Forrest Tucker, who stars in the current film at the Jim Theatre, recently appeared in Monroe with the Cerebral Palsy telethon. Tucker was reported to have flown into Monroe after having participated in a benefit in Los Angeles the day before, and left last Sunday to participate in another benefit show.

"Flight Nurse" is powerful material. It has a vital romantic theme which has a triangular love affair involving flight nurse Joan Leslie, air evacuation pilot Tucker and a helicopter pilot in the air rescue service, portrayed by Franz.

Joan's real reason for requesting Korean war duty is her mad love for Franz and the hope that she can marry him over there. But her selfish preoccupation with details of her romance is soon submerged by the shocking realities of the war area; the sick and wounded, the thousands of plodding, homeless refugees. She has only a few precious hours with Franz before he returns to the front.

Swallowed up in the thick of action when the Commies force a U. N. retreat, Joan's only contact with Franz is word of his incredible rescues with his helicopter. Playing a more active part in her wartime life is Forrest Tucker, the veteran pilot, who has seen her courage under fire and has fallen in love with her. He tries to make her give up and go home when there are signs of her cracking up, but she refuses—not because of Franz now, though she stubbornly continues her search for him when he is reported missing.

Franz is finally located, wounded and hospitalized, and Joan also is badly injured.

Now she could marry Franz and go home to Texas, but Joan has changed. Nursing has become her life, and she is needed here to care for the thousands of wounded soldiers pouring in from the front lines. So she sends Franz back to the girl he was engaged to when they met, and with Tucker, she goes back into the fight, to see it through to the end.

Finely - drawn characteizations by the talented cast of "Flight Nurse" heighten the tension of this suspenseful war drama as it moves emotionally to its thrilling climax.

Associate Producer - Director Allan Dwan's deft artistry with cast and production contribute heavily to the high quality of the picture. Reggie Lanning's photography is outstanding.

Headlines In The World Of Glamor

By DONALD CRISP
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, May 29 — Very few communities in this world need so consistently an effective public relations program as does Hollywood. Newspaper headline material due to its entertainment world glamour and drama. Hollywood is always a fair target for critics apart from those professional reviewers who comment on its productions.

The good things which happen and the good people who behave themselves do not make front-page news. It's the rascals — the people who get out of line socially—who get their names in the paper —not the solid citizens, who make up the rank and file of that largely - mythical community known as Hollywood. If Joe and Josephine Doakes lands in the divorce courts it doesn't cause a ripple of reportorial excitement. But when some Hollywood star — or near star— finds himself or herself in a similar predicament — well, its big splash news.

For this and other reasons, Hollywood has a definite problem not only in its personal behavior but, just as importantly, in what the world at large regards as its behavior. The film business is vulnerable in terms of all sorts of curbing legislation as well as onerous tax censorship and tax measures. The smart politician, himself publicity - minded, knows that one sure fire way of getting his name in the news syndicates is to assail Hollywood or its personalities.

One important way Hollywood can establish itself as a "good citizen community" is to make motion pictures which are wholesome as well as entertaining. Its product can teach decency and good conduct, not hoodlumism and gangsterism. I realize, of course, that all sorts of stories must be filmed to entertain all types of audiences but substantial emphasis, in my opinion, should be placed on subject and characters which are healthy psychologically and morally.

Hollywood certainly has a great and grave responsibility to the young folk who see its entertainment and whose lives are shaped, in part, by the potent influences exercised by the screen. This is a tremendous trust and one which the film industry must accept fully.

Let me point out one sample of a motion picture which fits into the category of worthwhile and constructive product. I refer to "How Green Was My Valley," in which I had the privilege of playing a role. The impact of this production was clearly indicated upon the right - thinking people of the country by the fact that 3,300 ministers wrote to me praising use of the 23rd Psalm in the picture, which, incidentally, was presented through the character I portrayed.

The burden of proper behavior falls on all members of the Hollywood community but especially upon those leading figures whose names are magic in the public prints. Its indeed unfortunate that a few people can produce such an undesirable reputation for so many people. And, of course, this is particularly true in the instance of Hollywood. Newspaper headlines are seldom written about people who behave themselves, sadly enough.

No group of people are more alert and willing to pitch in, both with their money and their professional services, than the citizens of Hollywood. Virtually no worthy benefit is staged without the active support of actors and actresses and, of course, this also applies to shows put on for members of our armed forces throughout the world and hospitalized veterans, too. Often sacrificing personal gain through roles in productions, players have gone flying across the ocean to help entertain the lads in uniform. And, frequently, such junkets have involved considerable physical risks in war zones.

Personally, I feel that it would be a constructive plan, in connection with Hollywood's own public relations, to regularly send out teams or squadrons of well - known personalities to tour various parts of the country. Representing the great majority of members of the film industry, they could address civic and other groups to tell them what Hollywood really means — what it is striving to accomplish by way of entertaining millions of people. Certainly there are scores of actors and actresses who qualify, in every respect, for such an assignment and whose status automatically conveys considerable influence for the good. In other words, the object would be institutional in character rather than a series of junkets to help promote certain motion ipctures. And, in my opinion, it would prove highly beneficial and illuminating to the nation at large as well as present Hollywood in a constructive fashion.

Hollywood has much about which to be proud — not only in its production of fine entertainment but also in the private lives of many of its citizens. In an industry in which promotion has been developed to something approximating a fine art, it seems to me that more should be done to make the public in general conscious of its assets and virtues. Furthermore, not only should Hollywood tell about its accomplishments, both in the form of entertainment and in good citizenship, but certainly it should substantiate its presentation by the production of good, wholesome pictures which the entire family can enjoy. By this policy, Hollywood can reap rich rewards in many directions.

JOSHUA AND THE ISRAELITES CIRCLE JERICHO AS THE LORD COMMANDS... SO THAT THE WALLS WILL CRUMBLE IN SEVEN DAYS....BUT AS THE ISRAELITES MARCH CLOSER, THE SOLDIERS OF JERICHO RAISE THEIR WAR BOWS......
THE TRAINED EYES OF THE ISRAELITE SOLDIERS CAN TELL WHAT THE MOVEMENTS ON THE WALL MEAN---THEY CAN EXPECT A DEADLY SHOWER OF ARROWS ANY MOMENT!
BUT WHO WOULD SEEK SHELTER?.....WHO WOULD RUN AND HIDE?!.. LIKE THEIR LEADER, JOSHUA, THE ISRAELITES' FAITH IS STRONGER THAN ANY FEAR....THESE SOLDIERS ARE CARRYING OUT THE ORDERS OF THE LORD, HIMSELF.... AND THEY KNOW THEY CAN NOT BE HARMED.....
"NOW," MUTTERS THE OFFICER IN COMMAND, "NOW, THEY ARE WITHIN BOW RANGE!" AND, ON HIS ORDERS, A VOLLEY OF ARROWS GOES HISSING INTO THE AIR!
UP INTO THE BLUE SKY....CUTTING A SHARP, SWIFT PATHWAY....THEN CURVING DOWNWARD IN OMINOUS DESCENT TO....

THE SOLDIERS OF JERICHO ARE STUNNED....DID A SUDDEN HIGH WIND SPRING UP TO BLOW DOWN THE ARROWS....OR DID THE VERY HAND OF GOD STOP THEM IN THEIR FLIGHT?....WHO AMONGST THEM CAN EVER TELL?
"IT IS THEIR GOD THAT PROTECTS THEM," SHOUTS AN OFFICER ON THE WALL. "SEE....EVEN NOW THEY CARRY HIM IN A GOLD BOX....HIS POWER HAS STOPPED OUR ARROWS!"

YES, SHE SAYS PAPA CAME HOME WITH A CASE OF PILSENER FRIDAY NIGHT AND HE'S BEEN IN BED WITH IT EVER SINCE. WILLIE, WHAT'S PILSENER?
PILSENER? I DON'T WANT TO UNDULY ALARM YOU, PET, BUT I THINK WE SHOULD GO TO YOUR FATHER BEFORE IT IS TOO LATE.
OHMYSTARS! I DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS THAT SERIOUS.
NO, YOU AIN'T GONNA GO, WILLIE... PAPA NEVER LIKED YOU. ANYWAY, SEEIN' THAT FACE OF YOURS WOULD ONLY MAKE HIM WORSE.
WELL, IF YOU WANT ME TO CARRY THIS ANY FARTHER, YOU'LL HAVE TO CARRY ME, MAMIE.
YOU CAN'T SLAM THAT GATE ON MY NOSE. I'VE GOT A TICKET ON THIS TRAIN
SORRY, MADAM, BUT YOU JUST MISSED IT.
AW, CLIMB OVER IF YA CAN'T JUMP IT.
GO ON- MAYBE YOU CAN CATCH IT.
NO, IT'S TOO LATE NOW.
TO THE TRA
I THINK I'D BETTER GO WARN UNCLE WILLIE THAT MAMIE MISSED HER TRAIN.
SAY, LISTEN-
PSST! KAYO, KEEP QUIET UNTIL I FINISH TALKING.
HELLO, MOON, I GUESS I AIN'T SO DUMB...YEH... I TOLD THE OLD LADY A CASE OF PILSENER WAS SOMETHING VERY SERIOUS-HAW! HOW ABOUT TONIGHT?
WELL, YA CAN'T SAY I DIDN'T TRY TO WARN YA.

SMILIN' JACK
AS THE PIRANHA FISH WERE ABOUT TO ATTACK JACK, SAVAGES APPEARED AND TOOK HIM TO THEIR VILLAGE!
A WITCH DOCTOR REMOVED THE ARROW AND TREATED JACK
I GUESS THEY'RE KEEPIN' ME ALIVE 'TIL TH' CHIEF ARRIVES!
JACK IS PLACED ON WHAT APPEARS TO BE THE SACRIFICIAL ALTAR...
VIBORA SAID SABLE'S CAPTORS HAD ORDERS TO DESTROY HER IF I DID NOT FLY HIM SAFELY HOME!
GOOD-BY, SABLE!
JACK ASSUMES THE CHIEF IS NOW APPROACHING—
THEY'RE TRYIN' TO MAKE A HOLLY-WOOD EXTRAVA-GANZA OUT OF MY EXECUTION!
GET IT OVER WITH, YOU INHUMAN HEAD-HUNTERS! YOU RATS!
AVIATOR, DO NOT SPEAK HORRIBLE NAMES ABOUT MY PEOPLE!

I'LL GIVE YOU THREE GUESSES, TIM ! FROM WHAT MR. BROKHART SAID ABOUT THE DRAGON, I'D SAY WE'LL STRIKE UP A TASTY FRIENDSHIP WITH IT SOON !
I SAW THE DRAGON EMERGE FROM THAT CAVE ON THE HILLSIDE LAST NIGHT !
AND IT'S GETTING DARK ! BOY, WE SURE NEED SOME LUCK, TIM !

GOSH — I'M HUNGRY ! YOU'D THINK THESE GUYS WOULD AT LEAST FATTEN US UP FOR THE DRAGON !
I WISH THEY WOULD STOP BEATING THOSE DRUMS... IT'S GETTING ON MY NERVES !
SPUD, LOOK ! THAT MUST BE THE WITCH DOCTOR !
THEY'VE STOPPED DANCING AND THE DRUMS ARE QUIET ! WHAT'S UP ?
THE WITCH DOCTOR IS SHOUTING AND POINTING TOWARD THE CAVE — JUST AS HE DID WHEN I SAW THE DRAGON APPEAR LAST NIGHT !
SOMETHING IS MOVING UP THERE AT THE CAVE ENTRANCE !
